Managing Rural Development With Small Farmer Participation:

Managing Rural Development with Small Farmer Participation Coralie Bryant, Louise G. White, 1984 Rural Development in South Korea William W. Boyer, 1991 After considering the problem of decentralizing rural development in South Korea generally the authors analyze the proliferation period from 1970 to 1979 of Seemaul Undong South Korea's so called New Community Movement which was an attempt to achieve an integrated rural development program The final chapter suggests directions for South Korea and draws implications for development elsewhere Integrated Rural Development John M. Cohen, 1987 Ecological Management of Agricultural Weeds Matt Liebman, Charles L. Mohler, Charles P. Staver, 2001-07-19 Concerns over environmental and human health impacts of conventional weed management practices herbicide resistance in weeds and rising costs of crop production and protection have led agricultural producers and scientists in many countries to seek strategies that take greater advantage of ecological processes and thereby allow a reduction in herbicide use This book provides principles and practices for ecologically based weed management in a wide range of temperate and tropical farming systems After examining weed life histories and processes determining the assembly of weed communities the authors describe how tillage and cultivation practices manipulations of soil conditions competitive cultivars crop diversification grazing livestock arthropod and microbial biocontrol agents and other factors can be used to reduce weed germination growth competitive ability reproduction and dispersal Special attention is given to the evolutionary challenges that weeds pose and the roles that farmers can play in the development of new weed management strategies Factors affecting the formation of FWUCs in institution building for PIMD in Cambodia: Two case studies Perera, L. R., 2006-08-16 Cambodia adopted Participatory Irrigation Management and Development PIMD as a national policy quite recently in recognition of the need for community participation and ownership of irrigation schemes in order to improve the performance of irrigation systems to achieve operational sustainability and economic development Under this program the Royal Government of Cambodia is seeking to devolve responsibility for all aspects of scheme operations to Farmer Water User Communities FWUCs which constitute the focal institutional mechanism of PIMD Implementing PIMD in Cambodia under many existing unfavorable conditions including high levels of poverty low agricultural productivity and deteriorated irrigation systems with frequently poor design is a very difficult and challenging task This study carried out towards the end of 2004 in two irrigation schemes of contrasting socioeconomic and physical scenarios analyzes the factors that influence the formation of FWUCs under different physical socioeconomic legal and institutional conditions In this analysis it was found that the favorable socioeconomic conditions appropriateness of the strategies and the process followed and link with the local institutions were the key attributes for the formation of functional FWUCs in the implementation of PIMD Institutional Imperatives for South Asian Environmental NGOs T. R. Ramanathan, 1992 Abstracts on Rural Development in the Tropics, 1986 Managing Salinization Waltina

Scheumann,2012-12-06 Salinization of soils is a major threat to irrigated agriculture and counteracts the targets of costly public infrastructure investments In this study salinization is regarded as the outcome of an institutional arrangement which impedes the effective implementation of well known and well established control measures be they technical managerial or economic In public irrigation systems neither the management units nor the farmers are offered any incentives towards the control of high groundwater levels and salinization if the management units are embedded in a highly centralized non market institutional setting The author answers the question under which conditions management units and irrigators are active in halting and reversing the process of salinization Design Issues in Farmer-managed Irrigation Systems Robert Yoder,Juanita Thurston,1990 Overview of the workshop papers related to design outcomes papers related to the design process case studies country papers Annual Report 1989 IICA ,1990
