Manet And The Family Romance:

Manet and the Family Romance Nancy Locke, 2001

Edouard Manet's paintings have long been recognized for being visually compelling and uniquely recalcitrant. While critics have noted the presence of family members and intimates in paintings such as Le Déjeuner sur l'herbe, Nancy Locke takes an unprecedented look at the significance of the artist's family relationships for his art. Locke argues that a kind of mythology of the family or Freudian family romance frequently structures Manet's compositional decisions and choice of models. By looking at the representation of the family as a volatile mechanism for the development of sexuality and of repression, conflict and desire, Locke brings powerful new interpretations to some of Manet's most complex works. Locke considers for example the impact of a father-son drama rooted in a closely guarded family secret: the adultery of Manet's father and the status of Léon Leenhoff. Her nuanced exploration of the implications of this story that Manet in fact married his father's mistress makes us look afresh at even well-known paintings such as Olympia. This book sheds new light on Manet's infamous interest in gypsies, street musicians and itinerants as Locke analyzes the activities of Manet's father as a civil judge. She also reexamines the close friendship between Manet and the Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot, who married Manet's brother. Morisot becomes the subject of a series of meditations on the elusiveness of the self, the transience of identity and conflicting concerns with appearances and respectability. Manet and the Family Romance offers an entirely new set of arguments about the cultural forces that shaped these alluring paintings.

"French Paintings of Childhood and Adolescence, 1848-1886" Anna Green, 2017-07-05

The premise of Anna Green's timely and original book is that nineteenth-century representations of childhood and adolescence in paintings but also in other forms of visual culture and in diverse written discourses of the period are critical for understanding modernity. Whilst such well-worn signifiers for modernity as the city, the dandy and the prostitute have been well-mined, childhood and adolescence have not. Paintings of the young produced in France from 1848 to 1886, Green contends, inform not only our understanding of modern life but also our perception of modernist or avant-garde painting. Figuring largely are Manet and the Impressionists as well as a gamut of more traditional painters of children who are crucial in providing context for the avant-garde. Because modernity is an essentially urban phenomenon, Green's focus is primarily on the city, usually Parisian child. The painted youth of her study are organized initially by class and gender. Then the chapters are structured according to themes: parent-child relations, modes of discipline, work, education and play, the spectacle, sexuality that straddle the congruences among the book's triple trajectory: the young, their modernist representations and the experience of modernity. Green's interdisciplinary approach ensures that this book will be of interest not only to art historians but to all those concerned with the cultural and social history of childhood.

Sexed Universals in Contemporary Art Penny Florence, 2012-05-21

theorizations of bourgeois masculinity and by implication bourgeois femininity whereby men gaze and roam urban spaces unreservedly while women lacking the freedom to either gaze or roam are wedded to domesticity In challenging this tired paradigm and offering fresh ways to consider how gender space and the gaze were constructed this book attends to several neglected elements of visual and written culture the ubiquitous male beggar as the true denizen of the boulevard the abundant depictions of well to do women looking sometimes at men the popularity of windows and balconies as viewing perches and the overwhelming emphasis given by both male and female artists to domestic scenes The book s premise that gender space and the gaze have been too narrowly conceived by a scholarly embrace of Baudelaire s fl neur is supported across the cultural spectrum by period sources that include art criticism high and low visual culture newspapers novels prescriptive and travel literature architectural practices interior design trends and fashion journals

Cézanne's Gravity
Carol Armstrong, 2018-11-13 A transformative study freeing the artist from outdated art historical narratives and revealing his work as newly strange again C zanne s Gravity is an ambitious reassessment of the paintings of Paul C zanne 1839 1906 Whereas previous studies have often looked at the artist s work for its influence on his successors and on the development of abstraction Carol Armstrong untethers it from this timeline examining C zanne s painting as a phenomenological and intellectual endeavor Armstrong uses an interdisciplinary approach to analyze C zanne s work pairing the painter with artists and thinkers who came after him including Roger Fry Virginia Woolf Albert Einstein Maurice Merleau Ponty Rainer Maria Rilke R D Laing and Helen Frankenthaler Through these pairings Armstrong addresses diverse subjects that illuminate C zanne s painting from the nonlinear narratives of modernist literature and the ways in which space and time act on objects to color sensation and the schizophrenic mind C zanne s Gravity attends to both the physicality of the artist s works and the weight they bear on the history of art This distinctive study not only invites its readers to view C zanne s paintings with fresh eyes but also offers a new methodology for art historical inquiry outside linear narratives one truly fitting for our time
