My Voyage Around The World:

My Voyage Around the World Francesco Carletti, 1964 Descriptive journal of a 16th century Florentine merchant slave trader and voyager compiled following his eight year world circling trip which began at Spain in 1594 Rarities of These Lands Claudia Swan, 2021-03-09 The early years of the seventeenth century saw a great flourishing of Dutch culture In the arts this was the era of Vermeer and Rembrandt as well as the development of a local art market Commerce extended around the world with state sponsored trading companies importing foreign goods Politically the Netherlands became the first nation state in Europe in 1648 In this book Claudia Swan considers all these aspects together examining the material culture of the period the designed manufactured and hand crafted materials and wares to show how the Dutch encounter with so called exotic goods played a fundamental role in the country s political formation William H. Seward's Travels Around the World William Henry Seward, 1876 My Voyage Around the World Francesco Carletti, 1965 Looking East Burglind Jungmann, Kim Young-Jae, Christine Göttler, 2013 This is a fascinating exploration of the mystery that surrounds of Ruben s most well known and intriguing drawings Peter Paul Rubens was one of the most talented and successful artists working in 17th century Europe During his illustrious career as a court painter and diplomat Rubens expressed a fascination with exotic costumes and headdresses With his masterful handling of black chalk and touches of red Rubens executed a compelling drawing that features a figure wearing Asian costume a depiction that has recently been identified as Man in Korean Costume Despite the drawings renown both during Ruben s own lifetime and in contemporary art scholarship the reasons why it was made and whether it actually depicts a specific Asian person remain a mystery The intriguing story that develops involves a shipwreck an unusual hat the earliest trade between Europe and Asia the trafficking of Asian slave and Jesuit missionaries As Long as it Takes Carl Corey, William Pinkney, 2006 Highlighting the achievements of one of the great sailboat racers of all time the author reveals how he emerged from the Great Depression in Chicago to become one of a small group of people to have circumnavigated the globe via the five Capes The Perfection of Nature Mackenzie Cooley, 2022-10-26 A deep history of how Renaissance Italy and the Spanish empire were shaped by a lingering fascination with breeding The Renaissance is celebrated for the belief that individuals could fashion themselves to greatness but there is a dark undercurrent to this f ted era of history The same men and women who offered profound advancements in European understanding of the human condition and laid the foundations of the Scientific Revolution were also obsessed with controlling that condition and the wider natural world Tracing early modern artisanal practice Mackenzie Cooley shows how the idea of race and theories of inheritance developed through animal breeding in the shadow of the Spanish Empire While one strand of the Renaissance celebrated a liberal view of human potential another limited it by biology reducing man to beast and prince to stud Race Cooley explains first referred to animal stock honed through breeding To those who invented the concept race was not inflexible but the fragile result of reproductive work As the Spanish empire expanded the concept of race moved from nonhuman to human animals Cooley reveals how as the dangerous idea of controlled reproduction was brought to life again and again a rich complex and ever shifting language of race and breeding was born Adding nuance and historical context to discussions of race and human and animal relations The Perfection of Nature provides a close reading of undertheorized notions of generation and its discontents in the more than human world Burning Women P. Banerjee, 2016-04-30 In early modern Europe the circulation of visual and verbal transmissions of sati or Hindu widow burning not only informed responses to the ritualized violence of Hindu culture but also intersected in fascinating ways with specifically European forms of ritualized violence and European constructions of gender ideology European accounts of women being burned in India uncannily commented on the burnings of women as witches and criminal wives in Europe When Europeans narrated their accounts of sati perhaps the most striking illustration of Hindu patriarchal violence they did not specifically connect the act of widow burning to a corresponding European signifier the gruesome ceremonial burnings of women as witches In examining early modern representations of sati the book focuses specifically on those strategies that enabled European travellers to protect their own identity as uniquely civilized amidst spectacular displays of Eastern barbarity Merchant Cultures, 2022-01-31 Hans Holbein's Triumphs 1532 1534 commissioned for the headquarters of the Hanseatic League in London and Kano Naizen's The Portuguese namban foreigners painted in 1543 in Japan are representations of worlds of trade where wealth speculation exploitation poverty curiosity encounters and the exotic relate effortlessly These worlds multiplied in Africa the Americas Asia and Europe as mercantile cultures met in a globalizing world From these encounters power subjugation and conflict arose as part of the same world as cooperation cross culturalism and cosmopolitanism Understanding early modern merchant cultures is thus paramount to comprehend the sinews of globalization before 1800 Merchants worldwide shared trading interests These interests shaped a panoply of encounters of mercantile cultures across space and time This book sketches the commonalities and underlines the differences of mercantile practices and representations during the Early Modern period Contributors are Laurence Fontaine David Graizbord William Pettigrew Edmond J Smith Radhika Seshan Rila Mukherjee Jurre J A Knoest Noelle Richardson Joseph P McDermott Mark Harberl in Francisco Bethencourt Edgar Pereira and Germano Maifreda Sparks from the Anvil Elihu Burritt, 1847 Environment, Trade and Society in Southeast Asia, 2015-03-20 In Environment Trade and Society in Southeast Asia A Longue Dur e Perspective eleven historians bring their knowledge and insights to bear on the long Braudelian sweep of Southeast Asian history In doing so they seek both to debunk simplistic assumptions about fragile traditions and transformational modernities and to identify real repeating patterns in Southeast Asia's past clientelistic political structures periodic tectonic and climatic disasters ethnic occupational specializations long cycles of economic globalization and deglobalization Their contributions range across many centuries from the Austronesian expansion to the Aceh tsunami and from the Sanskrit cosmopolis to the Asian financial crisis The book is inspired by and dedicated to Peter Boomgaard a scholar whose work has embodied the
