Scaffolds of the Church Cyril Hovorun,2018-01-01 Unity is the categorical imperative of the church It is not just the church's bene esse but its esse In addition to being a theological concept unity has become a raison d'être of various structures that the church has established and developed All of these structures are supposed to serve the end of unity However from time to time some of them deviate from their initial purpose and contribute to disunity This happens because the structures of the church are not a part of its nature and can therefore turn against it They are like scaffolding which facilitates the construction and maintenance of a building without actually being part of it Likewise ecclesial structures help the church function in accordance with its nature but should not be identified with the church proper This book considers the evolution of some of these church structures and evaluates their correspondence to their initial rationale It focuses on particular structures that have developed in the eastern part of the Christian oecumene such as patriarchates canonical territory and autocephaly all of which are explored in the more general frame of hierarchy and primacy They were selected because they are most neuralgic in the life of the Orthodox churches today and bear in them the greatest potential to divide

Sacred Landscapes in Antiquity Ralph Haussler, Gian Franco Chiaia, 2020-07-31 From generation to generation people experience their landscapes differently Humans depend on their natural environment it shapes their behavior while it is often felt that deities responsible for both natural benefits and natural calamities such as droughts famines floods and landslides need to be appeased We presume that in many societies lakes rivers rocks mountains caves and groves were considered sacred Individual sites and entire landscapes are often associated with divine actions mythical heroes and etiological myths Throughout human history people have also felt the need to monumentalize their sacred landscape But this is where the similarities end as different societies had very different understandings beliefs and practices The aim of this new thematic appraisal is to scrutinize carefully our evidence and rethink our methodologies in a multi disciplinary approach More than 30 papers investigate diverse sacred landscapes from the Iberian peninsula and Britain in the west to China in the east They discuss how to interpret the intricate web of ciphers and symbols in the landscape and how people might have experienced it We see the role of performance ritual orality textuality and memory in people's sacred landscapes A diachronic view allows us to study how landscapes were rewritten adapted and redefined in the course of time to suit new cultural political and religious understandings not to mention the impact of urbanism on people's understandings A key question is how was the landscape manipulated transformed and monumentalized especially the colossal investments in monumental architecture we see in certain socio historic contexts or the creation of an alternative humanmade seemingly non natural landscape with perfectly astronomically aligned buildings that define a cosmological order Sacred Landscapes therefore aims to analyze the complex links between landscape religiosity and society developing a dialectic framework that explores sacred landscapes across the ancient world in a dynamic holistic contextual and historical perspective Greek Islands Lonely Planet,
