Adapting fiction into film is as author Cristina Della Coletta asserts a transformative encounter that takes place not just across media but across different cultures. In this book Della Coletta explores what it means when the translation of fiction into film involves writers, directors, and audiences who belong to national, historical, and cultural formations different from that of the adapted work. In particular, Della Coletta examines narratives and films belonging to Italian, North American, French, and Argentine cultures. These include Luchino Visconti's adaptation of James M. Cain's The Postman Always Rings Twice, Federico Fellini's version of Edgar Allan Poe's story Never Bet the Devil Your Head, Alain Corneau's film based on Antonio Tabucchi's Notturmo indiano, and Bernardo Bertolucci's take on Jorge Luis Borges's Tema del traidor y del hroe. In her framework for analyzing these cross-cultural film adaptations, Della Coletta borrows from the philosophical hermeneutics of Hans Georg Gadamer and calls for a hermeneutics of estrangement, a practice of mediation and adaptation that defines cultures, nations, selfhoods, and their aesthetic achievements in terms of their transformative encounters. Stories travel to unexpected and interesting places when adapted into film by people of diverse cultures. While the intended meaning of the author may not be perfectly reproduced, it still holds. Della Coletta argues an equally valid and important intellectual claim upon its interpreters. With a firm grasp on the latest developments in adaptation theory, Della Coletta invites scholars of media studies, cultural history, comparative literature, and adaptation studies to deepen their understanding of this critical encounter between texts, writers, readers, and cultural movements.

Resurrection in the New Testament Jan Lambrecht, 2002. Resurrection in the New Testament is a Festschrift offered to J. Lambrecht on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday. Among the many scholarly interests of Professor Lambrecht, the theme of the resurrection seemed best suited to honour his academic achievement. The 27 contributions cover many of the books of the New Testament. The first two articles in this volume discuss influences on the New Testament treatment of resurrection from the Greco-Roman (Dieter Zeller) and Jewish (Daniel J. Harrington) backgrounds. H. J. de Jonge considers visionary experiences of the Old Testament as an interpretive clue for understanding New Testament references to appearances. The articles by Martin Rese, Benoit Standaert, Otfried Hofius, and Gergely Juhasz deal with interpretive questions that range through several books of the New Testament and to varying degrees again bring into discussion previously debated issues. From this point, with the exception of the final two, the articles appear in canonical order: Adelbert Denaux and Wim J. C. Weren treat issues in Matthew; John Gillman in Luke; Acts; Maarten J. J. Menken and Thomas Soding in John; John J. Kilgallen and Florence Morgan Gillman in Acts; Veronica Koperski, Margaret E. Thrall, and Johan S. Vos in the Pauline letters in general; Morna D. Hooker and Eduard Lohse in Romans; Joel Delobel and Peter J. Tomson in 1 Corinthians; Frank J. Matera in 2 Corinthians; John Reumann in Philippians; Raymond F. Collins in the Pastoral Epistles; and Jacques

Schlosser in 1 Peter Joseph Verheyden discusses the witness of Mary Magdalene and the Women at the tomb in the extra canonical Gospel of Peter Finally Barbara Baert contributes a discussion on how the Resurrection was portrayed in visual art during the Middle Ages with striking illustrative examples The Wellesley Index to Victorian Periodicals 1824-1900 Walter E. Houghton,2013-05-24 Simply a great work of reference Future scholars will wonder how anybody managed without the Wellesley Index It will quietly change the whole nature of Victorian studies Christopher Ricks New Statesman It is now impossible to think of Victorian literary and historical studies without the benefit of it this is a very remarkable achievement indeed the complete set will be a monument to the Houghtons foresight pertinacity and skill TLS Junior High School Literature ... William Harris Elson,Christine M. Modernist Short Fiction and Things Aimée Gasston,2021-08-10 This book reappraises the philosophical value of short fiction by Virginia Woolf Katherine Mansfield and Elizabeth Bowen examining the stories through the lens of specific everyday objects Looking at Woolf and armchairs Mansfield and snack food and Bowen and fashion accessories it probes the aesthetic resonance between these stories form and contents and also considers the modes of thinking they might promote Conceiving of their short fiction as intrinsically radical and experimental even within a wider context of modernist innovation this book shows how these important women writers brought quotidian objects to riotous life in such a way that tasked readers with reevaluating their everyday existence Overall Modernist Short Fiction and Things argues that short fiction epitomises modernist aesthetics functioning as a resonant source for investigation and complementing and expanding our understanding of modernist epistemology

Australian Books and Authors in the American Marketplace 1840s-1940s David Carter,Roger Osborne,2018-07-02 Australian Books and Authors in the American Marketplace 1840s 1940s explores how Australian writers and their works were present in the United States before the mid twentieth century to a much greater degree than previously acknowledged Drawing on fresh archival research and combining the approaches of literary criticism print culture studies and book history David Carter and Roger Osborne demonstrate that Australian writing was transnational long before the contemporary period In mapping Australian literature s connections to British and US markets their research challenges established understandings of national imperial and world literatures Carter and Osborne examine how Australian authors editors and publishers engaged productively with their American counterparts and how American readers and reviewers responded to Australian works They consider the role played by British publishers and agents in taking Australian writing to America and how the international circulation of new literary genres created new opportunities for novelists to move between markets Some of these writers such as Christina Stead and Patrick White remain household names others who once enjoyed international fame such as Dale Collins and Alice Grant Rosman have been largely forgotten The story of their books in America reveals how culture commerce and copyright law interacted to create both opportunities and obstacles for Australian writers

The Nineteenth Century Periodical Press and the Development of Detective Fiction Samuel Saunders,2021-05-11 This book re imagines nineteenth century detective fiction as a literary genre that was connected to and nurtured by contemporary periodical journalism Whilst detective fiction is almost universally accepted to have originated in the nineteenth century a variety of widely accepted scholarly narratives of the genre s evolution neglect to connect it with the development of a free press The volume traces how police officers detectives criminals and the criminal justice system were discussed in the pages of a variety of magazines and journals and argues that this affected how the wider nineteenth century society perceived organised law enforcement and detection This in turn helped to shape detective fiction into the genre that we recognise today The book also explores how periodicals and newspapers contained forgotten non canonical examples of detective fiction and that these texts can help complicate the narrative of the genre s evolution across the mid to late nineteenth century
