Economic Myths and Economic Realities Jorge Sá,2024-08-16 The world s ten richest countries have about 60 times the income per capita of the bottom ten Nobel Prize winning economists have acknowledged their ignorance regarding the sources of economic growth This explains why despite considerable financial assistance the gap between poorer and richer countries has grown year after year both globally and within countries like the USA and Europe Using straightforward statistical diagrams this book explains approximately 90% of the variance in income among countries or states First it empirically demonstrates what does not work the myths from reindustrialization to Keynesianism Then it examines the real drivers of growth by evaluating whole countries public social and private sectors combined including the non working population as companies assessing their business administration across areas like marketing work culture strategy and operations After all numerous multinationals are larger than countries The lessons are twofold First nothing is more pointless than perfecting the irrelevant Second there are no underdeveloped countries only undermanaged ones P Drucker The wealthiest countries are overall the best run companies

Discovering World Religions at 24 Frames Per Second Julien R. Fielding,2008-09-26 Traditionally university students have gained access to world religions by reading primary texts Discovering World Religions at 24 Frames Per Second takes students beyond the written page offering an exploration of the same religious traditions through the study of feature films The many definitions of religion are examined along with its various components including doctrine myth ethics ritual and symbol Specific religious traditions including Hinduism Sikhism Zoroastrianism Buddhism Confucianism Daoism popular religion and Shinto are examined Biographical sketches of directors whose films tend to focus on a particular religious tradition are also included such as Zhang Yimou Hayao Miyazaki Deepa Mehta and Akira Kurosawa Discovering World Religions at 24 Frames Per Second is unique in the area of religion and film studies in that it isn't just a collection of essays. Instead, it provides the introductory student with the necessary background information on the various religions before looking at how their ideas can be understood not through texts but through the cinematic medium. To keep the conversation fresh, most of the films used in the book were made within the last decade. Furthermore, examples range from popular mainstream fare such as Star Wars and the Lord of the Rings trilogy to lesser known foreign films such as The Wooden Man's Bride and The Great Yokai War. Several films with a cult like following are also discussed including Fight Club, Princess Mononoke, Spirited Away, and Jacob's Ladder. This book is also unique in that instead of drawing upon the Judeo-Christian tradition, it draws from Eastern traditions.

Concise Encyclopedia of Greek and Roman Mythology Sabine G. Oswalt, 1969 The Architecture of Roman Temples John W. Stamper, 2005-02-16 This book examines the development of Roman temple architecture from its earliest history in the sixth century BC to the reigns of Hadrian and the Antonines in the second century AD. John Stamper analyzes the temples' formal qualities, the public spaces in which they were located, and most importantly, the authority of precedent in their designs. He also traces Rome's temple architecture as it evolved over time and how it accommodated changing political and religious contexts, as well as the affects of new stylistic influences.

Stranger Gods Roger Young Clark, 2001 A study of Salman Rushdie's seven published novels with a special focus on his earliest, Grimus, and his most provocative, Midnight's Children, Shame, and The Satanic Verses. It shows how Rushdie employs cosmology, mythology, and mysticism to structure otherworldly dramas.
