Perspectives On Negotiation Four Case Studies And Interpretations:

Perspectives on Negotiation Diane B. Bendahmane, John W. McDonald, 1986 John W. Burton: A Pioneer in Conflict Analysis and Resolution David J. Dunn, Hans Günter Brauch, Pamela Burton, 2024-04-26 This book charts John W Burton's transition from practitioner in diplomacy to pioneer in the theory of peace research thinking on world society and conflict resolution Born in 1915 given his father's name it was assumed that he would follow his father and become a Christian missionary He did not he joined the Australian Public Service From a junior position he rose rapidly He was forthright and some found him irritating or worse He progressed to the highest levels of policy making Amidst some controversy he resigned abruptly in 1951 He then worked on his farm outside Canberra writing avidly He did not intend to become an academic but in 1963 he was offered a position in International Relations at University College in London and he accepted He was key to the foundation of the International Peace Research Association IPRA in 1964 and of the Conflict Research Society in the UK because he thought that words and ideas were not enough there needed to be instruments of change Looking back he was in fact a secular missionary His aim Simple to change the world This book is an exploration of how conflict should be reinterpreted The ideas of his work are a product not of any metaphysical approach but of experience Burton knew the field Cold War diplomacy civil strife reforming organisations resistance to change He had been there and he found much to criticise This book illustrates what he had to offer and explains why These readings reveal shifts in his ideas cohering incrementally integrated into a new framework This book presents his pioneering and relevant work Transcending disciplinary boundaries it will be of interest to students as well as professionals who address conflict at all levels of society from family to state Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1986-07 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1986-05 Fighting Over Peace Andrew G. Reiter, 2016-09-19 This book presents post peace agreement violence as a serious yet predictable and manageable political phenomenon Negotiating an end to a civil war is extremely difficult and many signed peace agreements subsequently unravel ushering in renewed conflict In response important international actors have become increasingly involved in conflict mediation peacekeeping and post conflict reconstruction around the globe Policymakers and scholars alike have identified spoilers violent actors who often rise up and attempt to challenge or derail the peace process as one of the greatest threats to peace Using a mixed method approach combining quantitative and qualitative analyses of a newly created global dataset of spoiling Reiter demonstrates that this type of violence occurs in predictable circumstances and only represents a threat to peace under specific conditions The book also shows that spoiling often serves to bring agreement flaws and implementation failures to light and in turn forces actors to recommit to an accord thereby strengthening peace in the long term Collective Preventive Diplomacy Barry H. Steiner, 2012-02-01 Powerful nations have often assumed a leadership role in international relations by becoming involved in ethnic conflict arising within small states Recently however their willingness to do so at least unilaterally has diminished This study focuses on why and how powerful nations have acted together to dampen or forestall the expansion of small state conflicts while limiting potential risks to themselves Employing a case study method Barry H Steiner distinguishes between two types of collective preventive diplomacy the insulationist and the interventionist In the former powerful nations are motivated to contain small power conflict in order to preserve their relations with other powerful nations In the latter they act to settle conflict between the small power antagonists themselves
