Privatizing Prisons Rhetoric And Reality:

Privatizing Prisons Adrian James, 1997-08-11 After an up to date overview of the development of private sector involvement in penal practice worldwide the authors go on to describe in depth the first 18 months in the life of Wolds Remand Prison the first private prison in Britain

Privatizing Prisons Professor Adrian L James, Professor, Professor Keith Bottomley, Professor Alison Liebling, Dr Emma Clare, 1997-07-02 This book makes public for the first time a full account of the development of the privatization of prisons centred on the only full scale empirical study yet to have been undertaken in Britain After providing an up to date overview of the development of private sector involvement in penal practice in the United Kingdom North America Europe and Australia the authors go on to describe the first two years in the life of Wolds Remand Prison the first private prison in Britain They look at the daily life for remand prisoners assess the duties and morale of staff and compare the workings of Wolds to a new local prison in the public sector The authors conclude by discussing some of the practical and theoretical issues to have emerged from contracting out ethical issues surrounding the whole privatization debate and implications for the future of the prison system and penal policy

Privatising Public Prisons Amy Ludlow, 2015-03-26 Successive UK governments have pursued ambitious programmes of private sector competition in public services that they promise will deliver cheaper higher quality services but not at the expense of public sector workers The public procurement rules most significantly Directive 2004 18 EC often provide the legal framework within which the Government must deliver on its promises This book goes behind the operation of these rules and explores their interaction with the Transfer of Undertakings Protection of Employment Regulations 2006 TUPE regulations that were intended to offer workers protection when their employer is restructuring his business The practical effectiveness of both sources of regulation is critiqued from a social protection perspective by reference to empirical findings from a case study of the competitive tendering exercise for management of HMP Birmingham that was held by the National Offender Management Service NOMS between 2009 and 2011 Overall the book challenges the Government's portrayal of competition policies as self evident sources of improvement for public services It highlights the damage that can be caused by competitive processes to social capital and the organisational cultural and employment strengths of public services Its main conclusions are that prison privatisation processes are driven by procedure rather than aims and outcomes and that the complexity of the public procurement rules coupled with inadequate commissioning expertise and organisational planning can result in the production of contracts that lack aspiration and are insufficiently focused upon improvement or social sustainability In sum the book casts doubt upon the desirability and suitability of using competition as a policy mechanism to improve public services

Handbook on Prisons Yvonne Jewkes, Ben Crewe, Jamie Bennett, 2012-08-21 This is the most comprehensive and ambitious book on prisons to have been published a key text for anybody studying the subject and an essential work of reference for practitioners working in prisons and other parts of the criminal justice system It is especially timely in view of the many changes and debates about the role of prisons and their future organisation and management as part of the National Offender Management Service A key aim of the book is to explore a wide range of historical and contemporary issues relating to prisons imprisonment and prison management and to chart likely future trends Chapters in the book are written by leading scholars in the field and reflect the range and depth of prison research and scholarship Like the Handbook of Policing and Handbook of Crime Prevention and Community Safety the Handbook on Prisons will be the essential book on the subject Privatization in Criminal Justice Michael J Gilbert,David Schichor,2001-01-01 Privatization of Criminal Justice

Tackling prison overcrowding Hough, Mike, Allen, Rob, 2008-10-22 Tackling prison overcrowding is a response to controversial proposals for prisons and sentencing set out in by Lord Patrick Carter s Review of Prisons published in 2007 The Carter review proposed the construction of vast Titan prisons to deal with the immediate problem of prison overcrowding the establishment of a Sentencing Commission as a mechanism for keeping judicial demand for prison places in line with supply along with further use of the private sector including private sector management methods Tackling prison overcrowding comprises nine chapters by leading academic experts who expose these proposals to critical scrutiny They take the Carter Report to task for construing the problems too narrowly in terms of efficiency and economy and for failing to understand the wider issues of justice that need addressing They argue that the crisis of prison overcrowding is first and foremost a political problem arising from penal populism for which political solutions need to be found This accessible report will be of interest to policy makers probation practitioners academics and other commentators on criminal policy

Measuring Prison Performance Gerald G. Gaes, 2004 This book provides approaches and tools to measure prison performance particularly in the context of analyzing public versus private management of prisons The authors argue that prison performance must be measured in reference to the goals of a particular prison system and introduce the technique of multilevel modeling to allow for simultaneous measurement of the individual and the institution They also show how their analytic framework can be applied to other criminal justice components such as prosecution adjudication post release supervision and policing Further they argue their framework can be used to evaluate the privatization of almost any publicly administered service They contend that the ability to meaningfully compare public and private prisons can better inform penal policy and improve prison performance and accountability

Sentencing and Punishment Susan Easton, Christine Piper, 2012-06-14 This text presents an overview of sentencing and punishment from penological social policy and legal perspectives It provides an accessible account of the changing attitudes of the public policy makers and the judiciary regarding what constitutes just punishment

INNOVATION AND CHANGE IN THE HUMAN SERVICES Nicholas D. Richie, Diane E. Alperin, 2002-01-01 This second edition of Innovation and Change in the Human Services considerably updates and expands the previous volume An overview of the development of human services over the course of the twentieth century culminates in an evolutionary model which illustrates how human services generally progress from an initial individual problem stage to one of considerable governmental involvement and media attention Eight specific human services are discussed in detail hospices for those with life limiting illness continuing care retirement communities services for those with HIV AIDS domestic assault services day care for children services for the homeless lifelong occupational counseling and services for Alzheimer's patients A full chapter is devoted to some of the major events of the last decade of the twentieth century the Clinton Health Care Plan the Welfare Reforms of 1996 and the Oregon Death with Dignity Act The chapter on human services education compares degree programs in human services and social work and suggests a functional approach which would allow the human services worker to move easily from one setting to another due to having mastered a common core curriculum with universal applicability The last chapter deals with human services issues of considerable importance at the start of the twenty first century including the corporatization of human services the privatization of human services Social Security reform and healthcare reform This material is expected to be of use not only to educators and students in the human services but also to policy analysts and health services administrators practitioners who face everyday the challenge of refining adapting the programs they administer study and support
