Reclaiming Africa:

Reclaiming Africa Sam Moyo, Praveen Jha, Paris Yeros, 2018-09-03 This book presents the findings of research conducted by scholars and activists associated with the Agrarian South Network based mainly in Africa Asia and Latin America The research articulates a Southern perspective on the new scramble for Africa with a view to strengthen tri continental solidarities The book explains the significance of the new scramble in terms of the economic structures inherited from the late nineteenth century scramble and the subsequent post independence period The renewed competition for Africa's land and natural resources and the resumption of economic growth at the turn of the millennium have revived concerns regarding the continent's position in the world economy and the prospects for its development in the twenty first century In this regard the book addresses two related issues the character of the expansion of Southern competitors in relation to the more established Western strategies and the impact of the renewed influx of investments inland minerals and associated infrastructure The findings are presented with empirical rigor and conceptual clarity to enable the reader to grasp what really is at stake in the twenty first century an epic struggle to reclaim Africa from the monopolies that exercise control over its land minerals labour and destiny

Reclaiming Economic Sovereignty in Africa Horman Chitonge, 2025-04-08 This book has examined the way African countries utilise their natural wealth It has illustrated that weak economic sovereignty accounts for the irony that the most endowed continent on the planet has ended being the most impoverished It is argued in this book that weak economic sovereignty in Africa has several implications including the situation where the continent is unable to make the most out of its abundant natural wealth Weak economic sovereignty on the continent is manifested in the low levels of financial and monetary sovereignty among African countries but most importantly in low productive capabilities The conditions of low productive capabilities prevailing on the African continent have created a situation where most African countries are locked into economically debilitating dependencies including dependence on commodity export such that they only get a tiny proportion of the value generated from natural resources extracted from their territories The book has also argued that the persisting weak economic sovereignty on the continent is a clear indication that while African countries attained political sovereignty six decades ago attaining economic sovereignty has remained an incomplete liberation project that requires a new strategy to accomplish

Reclaiming Africa James Shikwati, 2004

Reclaiming the Nation Sam Moyo, Paris Yeros, 2011-03-04 This book compares the trajectories of states and societies in Africa Asia and Latin America under neoliberalism a time marked by serial economic crises escalating social conflicts the remilitarisation of North South relations and the radicalisation of social and nationalist forces Sam Moyo and Paris Yeros bring together researchers and activists from the three continents to assess the state of national sovereignty and the challenges faced by popular movements today They show that global integration has widened social and regional inequalities within countries exacerbated ethnic caste and racial conflicts and generally reduced the bureaucratic capacities of states to intervene in a defensive way

Moreover inequalities between the countries of the South have also widened These structural tensions have all contributed to several distinct political trajectories among states from fracture and foreign occupation to radicalisation and uncertain re stabilisation This book redraws the debate on the political economy of the contemporary South and provides students of international studies with an important collection of readings

Exploring Curriculum Landscapes in Africa Oscar Koopman, Karen J. Koopman, Wally Lumadi, Samuel Amponsah, 2025-06-13 This book examines post colonial curriculum transformation across seven African nations These are South Africa Egypt Cameroon Nigeria Zimbabwe Namibia and Ghana It investigates whether these educational systems have truly decolonized their curricula or still remain rooted in Western frameworks despite achieving political independence Through analysis of curriculum policies and teaching practices the authors explore educational reform dynamics in post colonial African contexts The book evaluates how successfully these systems have incorporated indigenous knowledge and local ways of knowing versus continuing to propagate Western paradigms The work provides both theoretical and empirical analysis of challenges and opportunities in rebuilding African education systems that reflect local cultural values while addressing modern educational needs

Into the Light W R Bailey, 2024-11-19 For many good reasons this is being called the African Century For the same good reasons it is time to celebrate the history of Africa s urban and scholarly past This history upends the colonial era narrative offered up in movies the media and schools Recovering Africa s actual history promises to boost expectations especially for kids It s a game changer The good news is that not just Africa s history but people around the world are recovering their actual history where the colonial savage versus civilized narrative still hangs on This is a who done it for those who never accepted the traditional progressive claim that Africa was lifted up by a civilized Europe More than just dry history it s a detective story featuring groundbreaking authors and filmmakers efforts to uncover and present Africa s and the former colonial world s legacy of culture learning and achievement This book is intended to be shared with kids and read by young adults parents and grandparents It s also a way for history buffs to get a thumbnail introduction to the subject It highlights the recent efforts of writers and filmmakers to restore stolen history and bring our cultural and intellectual inheritance into the light About the Author W R Bailey has had a decades long interest in African and African American history Into the Light distills the current movement to celebrate the African Century and the achievements of Africans and African Americans The author is a graduate of UC Berkeley and the University of San Francisco School of Law He is a member of the American Historical Association AHA and has participated in the AHA on line community focusing on a new field computational history Computational history makes use of lessons from our digital age and does not take the nineteenth century view that history is simple or inevitable but the product of complex mixing of communities and cultures Bailey grew up in a San Francisco Bay Area aerospace family in a culture focused on lively political discussion jazz music outdoor sports and digital technology His background which includes law and engineering dovetails with this emerging new framework The author s website The Computational Age focuses on the rise of a network centric view of history and culture Bailey s published articles have covered current affairs history and natural resources The author enjoys reading spending time in the mountains outdoor sports friends his cat and any good chat

On Transforming Africa Kofi Buenor Hadjor,1987 Readings in Sexualities from Africa Rachel Spronk,Thomas Hendriks,2020-02-04 Images and stories about African sexuality abound in today s globalized media Frequently old stereotypes and popular opinion inform these stories and sex in the media is predominately approached as a problem in need of solutions and intervention The authors gathered here refuse an easy characterization of African sexuality and instead seek to understand the various erotic realities sexual practices and gendered changes taking place across the continent They present a nuanced and comprehensive overview of the field of sex and sexuality in Africa to serve as a guide though the quickly expanding literature This collection offers a set of texts that use sexuality as a prism for studying how communities coalesce against the canvas of larger political and economic contexts and how personal lives evolve therein Scholars working in Africa the U S and Europe reflect on issues of representation health and bio politics same sex relationships and identity transactional economies of sex religion and tradition and the importance of pleasure and agency This multidimensional reader provides a comprehensive view of sexuality from an African perspective

Chinese Investment in Africa Freedom Mazwi,George T. Mudimu,Kirk Helliker,2024-03-01 This edited volume systematically interrogates the Chinese investment presence in Africa focusing on land and agriculture mining and other infrastructural projects In doing so the form and extent of Chinese debt will be brought into perspective with comparisons made to investments in Africa emanating from metropolitan capitalism The volume examines the development potential of these investments by focusing on the labour regimes created and the effects of investments on the land based agricultural livelihoods of the African peasantry This entails the use of a political economy approach which incorporates the state international actors and local communities into the analysis with gender dynamics also of great significance Overall the contributions in this volume focus on an array of African nations with a specific focus on Zimbabwe and they deploy a large wealth of primary field based data collected over a number of years by established and emerging scholars living andworking on the continent

Indigenous Systems, Colonialism, Colonial Legacies, and Africa's Economic Challenges Stephen Onyango Ouma,2025-08-20 This book is an exploration of Africa s enduring struggles and immense potential It examines the historical roots of Africa s socio economic challenges from the disruption of indigenous systems to the lasting effects of colonialism and neo colonialism By blending African philosophical perspectives with incisive critiques of globalization and governance it provides a fresh and compelling analysis of the continent s path toward true sovereignty and sustainable development Rich with historical depth and philosophical insight this work challenges conventional narratives about African development and offers innovative strategies for breaking free from dependency on global capitalist systems With its interdisciplinary approach and forward looking solutions this book is an essential resource for scholars policymakers and anyone invested in Africa's transformation      Africa's Development Impasse Doctor Stefan Andreasson, 2013-07-04 Orthodox strategies for socio economic development have failed spectacularly in Southern Africa Neither the developmental state nor neoliberal reform seems able to provide a solution to Africa's problems In Africa's Development Impasse Stefan Andreasson analyses this failure and explores the potential for post development alternatives Examining the post independence trajectories of Botswana Zimbabwe and South Africa the book shows three different examples of this failure to overcome a debilitating colonial legacy Andreasson then argues that it is now time to resuscitate post development theory's challenge to conventional development In doing this he claims we face the enormous challenge of translating post development into actual politics for a socially and politically sustainable future and using it as a dialogue about what the aims and aspirations of post colonial societies might become This important fusion of theory with empirical case studies will be essential reading for students of development politics and Africa      Agricultural Development and Food Security in Africa Renu Modi, Fantu Cheru, 2013-08-08 The subject of food security and land issues in Africa has become one of increased importance and contention over recent years In particular the focus has shifted to the role new global South donors especially India China and Brazil are playing in shaping African agriculture through their increased involvement and investment in the continent Approaching the topic through the framework of South South co operation this highly original volume presents a critical analysis of the ways in which Chinese Indian and Brazilian engagements in African agriculture are structured and implemented Do these investments have the potential to create new opportunities to improve local living standards transfer new technology and knowhow to African producers and reverse the persistent productivity decline in African agriculture Or will they simply aggravate the problem of food insecurity by accelerating the process of land alienation and displacement of local people from their land Topical and comprehensive Agricultural Development and Food Security in Africa offers fresh insight into a set of relationships that will shape both Africa and the world over the coming decades

Arsenio Rodríguez and the Transnational Flows of Latin Popular Music David Garcia, 2006-06-23 Arsenio Rodríguez composer and musical innovator made an indelible impact on a broad range of musical styles from the Caribbean and Latin America to West and Central Africa The son montuno style that he created and his innovative conjunto ensemble inspired other Cuban musicians and played a key role in the development of salsa yet Arsenio achieved only intermittent commercial success Drawing on the testimony of family musicians dancers and other contemporaries David Garcia traces Arsenio's early career in Cuba his influence on Cuban and Latin popular music in the 1940s his struggle for recognition at the height of mambo mania in the 1950s and his importance to Puerto Rican and Cuban communities in New York City Chicago and Los Angeles Garcia shows how matters of race class and identity as well as the transnational Latin music industry shaped Arsenio's music and career      Capital Penetration and the Peasantry in Southern and Eastern Africa Freedom Mazwi, George Tonderai Mudimu, Kirk Helliker, 2022-02-12 This book examines the impact of neoliberalism on peasant agriculture as a key livelihood strategy in Southern and Eastern Africa against the background of the current development crisis and the crossroads that Southern and Eastern Africa faces. It systematically analyses how the neoliberal architecture has deepened extroverted production for capitalist accumulation and how this has been to the detriment of the rural labour force and small scale and communal landowners. Apart from examining how neoliberalism has triggered land alienations, the book further argues that such policies have also impacted negatively on food security in a number of ways. The book presents empirical evidence through twelve case studies emerging from in depth original fieldwork carried out in seven countries in the Southern and Eastern African region. This book is a must read for scholars of economics, sociology, anthropology, history, agrarian studies and political science as well as practitioners and policy makers interested in a better understanding of the impact of the agrarian neoliberal restructuring on the peasantry in Southern Africa.

Africa's Global Infrastructures Jana Hönlke, Eric Cezne, Yifan Yang, 2024-02-15. The boom in South-South relations since the early 2000s has seen a flurry of investment in African infrastructure from emerging markets across the Global South. While the extent to which these projects spur growth is constantly debated, few studies have addressed their impact on ground level political and socio-economic practices in Africa or their consequences for transnational governance more broadly. Through the lens of infrastructure, this book investigates the developmental ideas, processes and techniques that have travelled to and emerged from Africa as a result of Global South led projects. How have they been adapted, transformed and contested by local actors? How does this shape business-society relations? And how has this challenged the Western dominated global order? The contributors zoom in on large scale Chinese, Brazilian and Indian funded ventures: dams, ports, roads and mines across countries including Kenya, Mozambique and the DRC. These frontier zones, bringing together politicians and practitioners, campaign groups and communities from Africa and elsewhere, offer a unique insight into the global workings of our contemporary world. Taking a bottom-up approach, Africa's Global Infrastructures explores the longer term significance and implications of these pluralistic socio-economic interactions for the continent and beyond.

Democratization of Africa and Its Impact on the Global Economy Tshishonga, Ndwakhulu, Tshabangu, Icarbord, 2024-01-16. Democratization of Africa and Its Impact on the Global Economy delves into the intricate relationship between democracy, governance and development in Africa, shedding light on the continent's progress and its implications for the global economy. From its historical context rooted in colonialism and apartheid regimes to the present day challenges of weak governance and underdevelopment, this book critically examines the factors that have shaped Africa's political and socioeconomic landscape. This book offers a comprehensive exploration of democracy, governance and development in Africa. It delves into various topics such as models of democracy, electoral systems, political leadership, state building, democratic deficits, political violence, corruption and the challenges of democratic consolidation. Additionally, it examines the significance of democratic governance, good governance principles, civil society engagement and political accountability in shaping Africa's political landscape. Through a multi-disciplinary lens, encompassing political science development studies anthropology sociology international relations and public administration the book offers a platform for scholars practitioners policymakers and researchers to engage in critical dialogue and propose innovative strategies for Africa's renewal
