Discourses of Denial Yasmin Jiwani, 2011-11-01 Canada prides itself on being a tolerant and inclusive culture enriched by its official policies of multiculturalism gender equality and human rights Lulled into complacency by these national maxims the public is occasionally shocked by glaring acts of racist and sexist violence brought to their attention by the sensationalist media But nobody pauses to consider the historical antecedents and root causes of these tragedies Discourses of Denial uncovers how racism sexism and violence interweave deep within the foundations of our society Using examples from the lives of immigrant girls and women of colour Yasmin Jiwani considers the way accepted definitions of race and gender shape and influence public consciousness With a perspective both academic and activist she exposes how media representations of violence serve the status quo and fail to tell the whole story about racialized and gendered inequalities In linking race gender and violence Discourses of Denial makes an important contribution to our understanding of the complex and interconnected influences that shape the violence of contemporary social reality and that contour the lives of racialized women This book is of particular relevance to readers interested in the intersection of race gender and violence in our increasingly mediated society

Unfree Labour? Aziz Choudry, Adrian A. Smith, 2016-08-15 Over the past decade Canada has experienced considerable growth in labour migration Moreover temporary labour migration has replaced permanent immigration as the primary means by which people enter Canada Utilizing the rhetoric of maintaining competitiveness Canadian employers and the state have ushered in an era of neoliberal migration alongside an agenda of austerity flowing from capitalist crisis Labour markets have been restructured to render labour more flexible and precarious and in Canada as in other high income capitalist labour markets employers are relying on migrant and immigrant workers as unfree labour This book explores labour migration to Canada and how public policies of temporary and guest worker programs function in the global context of work and capitalist restructuring Contributors are directly engaged with the issues emerging from the influx of temporary foreign workers and Canada's creeping economic apartheid the ongoing racialization of economic inequality for many workers of colour The collection also examines how migrant and immigrant workers have organized for justice and dignity in Canada As opposed to a good deal of current writing that often ignores the working conditions and struggles of racialized migrant and immigrant workers the authors contend that migrant workers labour organizations and migrant worker allies have engaged in a wide range of organizing initiatives with significant political and economic impacts These have included both court challenges to secure legal rights to unionization and grassroots alternatives to traditional forms of unionization through workers centres Contributors include Aziz Choudry Adrian A Smith Sedef Arat Ko Abigail B Bakan Joey Calugay Jennifer Jihye Chun Jill Hanley Jah Hon Koo Mostafa Henaway Deena Ladd Marco Luciano Lo c Malhaire Adriana Paz Ramirez Geraldina Polanco Chris Ramsaroop Eric Shragge Sonia Singh Christopher C Sorio and Mark Thomas
