Officer, Nurse, Woman Kara Dixon Vuic, 2010 Drawing on more than 100 interviews, Vuic allows the nurses to tell their own captivating stories from their reasons for joining the military to the physical and emotional demands of a horrific war and postwar debates about how to commemorate their service. Vuic also explores the gender issues that arose when a male-dominated army actively recruited and employed the services of 5,000 women nurses in the midst of a growing feminist movement and a changing nursing profession. Women drawn to the army's patriotic promise faced disturbing realities in the virtually all-male hospitals of South Vietnam. Men who joined the nurse corps ran headlong into the army's belief that women should nurse and men should fight.

Nurses on the Move Mireille Kingma, 2006 The personal stories of migrant nurses that fill this book contrast the nightmarish existences of some with the successes of others. Kingma presents a new way to think about the migration of skilled health sector labour as well as strategies needed to make migration work for all concerned.
