Recueil Des Cours Collected Courses 2004:

Recueil Des Cours, 2005 Recueil des cours Hague Academy of International Law, 2006 Yearbook of the European Convention on Human Rights/Annuaire de la convention europeenne des droits de l'homme, Volume 48 (2005) Council of Europe/Conseil de l'Europe, 2006-12-25 The Yearbook of the European Convention on Human Rights edited by staff of the Council of Europe is an indispensable record of the development and impact of the world's oldest binding international human rights treaty. It reviews the implementation of the Convention both by the European Court of Human Rights and in national legislation and practice. The Yearbook includes Full text of any new protocols to the Convention as they are opened for signature together with the state of signatures and ratifications. Full listing of Court judgments judgments broken down by subject matter and extensive summaries of key judgments handed down by the Court during the year. Selected human rights DH resolutions adopted as part of the Committee of Ministers work supervising the execution of the Court's judgments. Enquiries by the Secretary General carried out under Article 52 of the Convention. Other work of the Council of Europe connected with the European Convention on Human Rights carried out by the Committee of Ministers the Parliamentary Assembly and the Directorate General of Human Rights. A summary survey of the implementation in certain member states of the Convention in the form of both legislation and case law. Bibliographic information from the library of the European Court of Human Rights. The Yearbook is published in an English French bilingual edition European Union Maritime Safety Policy and International Law Henrik Ringbom, 2008 This book offers a comprehensive international law analysis of the European Union's maritime safety legislation. This is a relatively novel field of activity of the EU but its development has been very rapid. Since 1993 over 40 acts of EU law have been adopted dealing with a variety of subjects such as port State control classification societies vessel traffic management ship construction environmental protection and pollution sanctions. This legislation is analysed from the point of international law notably the law of the sea and the international maritime conventions. Regional legislation in a field that is traditionally regulated primarily by means of international conventions is bound to create tensions with the related international conventions and with well established principles of international law. This study assesses how the EU has acted as a flag State port State and coastal State and measures the trends in this development against the international legal framework. More detailed legal analyses are offered for specific aspects of EU legislation that are considered to be particularly interesting from an international law point of view. The relationship between EU law and international law within the internal EU legal system is also analysed from the specific perspective of maritime safety law Recueil Des Cours, Collected Courses, Volume 309 (2004). Jean-Pierre Karaquillo, 2006 , Recueil Des Cours, Collected Courses, Tome/Volume 311 (2004) Académie de Droit International de la Ha, 2009 This volume contains the General Course on Private International Law on Respect for foreign law as a Principle of Private International Law given by Professor A V M Struycken Professor emeritus at the University of Nijmegen. The title Co ordination and Co operation in

Respectful Disagreement reflects the leading thought Each State has its own legal truth closely related to its culture In private international law one has to accept this as a datum This book re explores the classical approach in the awareness of international private relations being established under the roof of large bodies of imperative rules It pays attention to the impact of the EC on private international law and to uniform substantive law It elaborates on subject matter jurisdiction not only of courts but of notaries and other office holders The Academy is a prestigious international institution for the study and teaching of Public and Private International Law and related subjects The work of the Hague Academy receives the support and recognition of the UN Its purpose is to encourage a thorough and impartial examination of the problems arising from international relations in the field of law The courses deal with the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject including legislation and case law All courses at the Academy are in principle published in the language in which they were delivered in the Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law

The Privileges and Immunities of International Organizations in Domestic Courts August Reinisch, 2013-09-12

International organizations are increasingly operating across borders and engaging in legal transactions in virtually all jurisdictions. This makes familiarity with the applicable law and practice imperative for both international organizations and those who engage in legal relations with them. Furthermore, the issue of whether, how and to what extent domestic courts take into account decisions of foreign and international courts and tribunals in their own decision making has become increasingly important in recent years. This book provides a comprehensive empirical study of this transnational judicial dialogue focusing on the law and practice of domestic jurisdictions concerning the legal personality, privileges and immunities of international organizations. It presents a selection of detailed country-by-country studies examining the manner of judicial dialogue across domestic jurisdictions and between national and international courts. The approach taken in this book intersects with three highly topical areas of international legal scholarship: the rapidly evolving law of international institutions; the burgeoning research into the role of domestic courts in the international legal system; and the recent rise of empirically oriented legal scholarship. Utilizing OUP's International Law in Domestic Courts database, the book presents analysis of little-known cases which have real international significance, illustrating the impact and extent of transnational judicial dialogue in the international legal system. The book provides important perspectives on the evolution and status of the law of immunity of international organizations and contributes to the understanding of relationships between national courts and between national and international courts. Transconstitutionalism Marcelo Neves, 2013-05-01

Transconstitutionalism is a concept used to describe what happens to constitutional law when it is emancipated from the state in which can be found the origins of constitutional law. Transconstitutionalism does not exist because a multitude of new constitutions have appeared but because other legal orders are now implicated in resolving basic constitutional problems. A transconstitutional problem entails a constitutional issue whose solution may involve national, international, supranational and transnational courts or arbitral tribunals as well as native local legal institutions. Transconstitutionalism does not take any single legal order or type of order as a starting point or ultima ratio. It rejects both nation statism and internationalism, supranationalism, transnationalism and localism as privileged spaces for solving constitutional problems. The transconstitutional model avoids the dilemma of monism versus pluralism. From the standpoint of transconstitutionalism, a plurality of legal orders entails a complementary and conflicting relationship between identity and alterity. Constitutional identity is rearticulated on the basis of alterity. Rather than seeking a Herculean Constitution, transconstitutionalism tackles the many-headed Hydra of constitutionalism, always looking for the blind spot in one legal system and reflecting it back against the many others found in the world's legal orders. Ethics of Human Rights A. Reis Monteiro, 2014-03-11 This volume focuses on the ethical significance of human rights aiming at contributing to a universal culture of human rights with deep roots and wide horizons Its purpose scope and rationale are reflected in the three part structure of the manuscript Part I has a broad introductory historical theoretical and legal character Part II submits that an Ethics of Human Rights is best understood as an Ethics of Recognition of human worth dignity and rights Moreover it is argued that human worth consists in the perfectibility of the human species rooted in its semiotic nature to be accomplished through the perfecting of human beings for which the right to education is key In Part III the main legal and political outcomes of the Human Rights Revolution are described and answers to the most lasting and common criticisms of human rights are provided To conclude the human stature of the Big Five drafters of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights is profiled and the priority that should be recognized to human rights education is highlighted Some appendices supplement the manuscript While making a case for the high value and liberating power of the idea and ideal of human rights objections controversies and uncertainties are not at all overlooked and emerging issues are explored The diversity of content of this volume meets many needs of the typical syllabus for a human rights course

Processes and Production Methods (PPMs) in WTO Law Christiane R. Conrad, 2011-05-26 Despite a decades long debate starting with the Tuna Dolphin disputes of the 1990s questions on the status of national regulatory measures linked to processes and production methods in WTO law have yet remained unsolved Likewise labelling requirements relating to unincorporated aspects of a product s life cycle remain strongly contested These ongoing disputes at the WTO as well as global social and environmental challenges related to economic activities show how topical and important the search for adequate answers still is Processes and Production Methods PPMs in WTO Law identifies and comprehensively analyses the key legal problems concerning such measures setting them in the context of the current debate and its economic and regulatory background Christiane R Conrad develops a new approach to this debate which draws on the objectives and established economic rationales of the WTO Agreements

Contemporary Challenges to the Fundamental Principles of International Law and EU Interaction Gloria Fernández Arribas, 2024-11-25 This book finished in September 2023 addresses the fundamental principles enshrined in Resolution 2625 XXV sovereignty the principle of non intervention the prohibition of the use of force and self determination Studying these principles can help us understand some of the main features of international law and the international community in the 21st century the role of traditional and new subjects alike the sources of international law issues of international responsibility and new international challenges For this purpose the book analyses in each chapter the main controversial practices regarding principles In addition a section is devoted to an analysis of the particular relationship between the European Union and these principles given the EU s unique role as an important evolution in international law as both a subject and treaty maker Further the EU provides an example of the institutionalisation of the international community and helps to solidify the concept The book is chiefly intended for experts on International Law Its purpose is to offer an updated vision of the international community through analysis of the core principles of international law highlighting contradictions and problems regarding its application and interpretation The book should also be of great interest and value to those starting careers in international law offering them key insights into the international community and the roots of the international system Internationales
