"The" Household Book of Poetry Charles A. Dana,1880 Tennyson's Poems R. H. Winnick,2019-04-18 In Tennyson s Poems New Textual Parallels R H Winnick identifies more than a thousand previously unknown instances in which Tennyson phrases of two or three to as many as several words are similar or identical to those occurring in prior works by other hands discoveries aided by the proliferation of digitized texts and the related development of powerful search tools over the three decades since the most recent major edition of Tennyson s poems was published Each of these instances may be deemed an allusion meant to be recognized as such and pointing for definable purposes to a particular antecedent text an echo conscious or not deliberate or not meant to be noticed or not meaningful or not or merely accidental Unless accidental Winnick writes these new textual parallels significantly expand our knowledge both of Tennyson s reading and of his thematic intentions and artistic technique Coupled with the thousand plus textual parallels previously reported by Christopher Ricks and other scholars he says they suggest that a fundamental and lifelong aspect of Tennyson s art was his habit of echoing any work ancient or modern which had the potential to enhance the resonance or deepen the meaning of his poems The new textual parallels Winnick has identified point most often to the King James Bible and to such canonical authors as Shakespeare Milton Dryden Pope Thomson Cowper Shelley Byron and Wordsworth But they also point to many authors rarely if ever previously cited in Tennyson editions and studies including Michael Drayton Richard Blackmore Isaac Watts Erasmus Darwin John Ogilvie Anna Letitia Barbauld Letitia Elizabeth Landon John Wilson and with surprising frequency Felicia Hemans Tennyson's Poems New Textual Parallels is thus a major new resource for Tennyson scholars and students an indispensable adjunct to the 1987 edition of Tennyson's complete poems edited by Christopher Ricks Red, Black, and Jew Stephen Katz, 2010-01-01 Between 1890 and 1924 more than two million Jewish immigrants landed on America's shores The story of their integration into American society as they traversed the difficult path between assimilation and retention of a unique cultural identity is recorded in many works by American Hebrew writers Red Black and Jew illuminates a unique and often overlooked aspect of these literary achievements charting the ways in which the Native American and African American creative cultures served as a model for works produced within the minority Jewish community Exploring the paradox of Hebrew literature in the United States in which separateness and engagement and acculturation are equally strong impulses Stephen Katz presents voluminous examples of a process that could ultimately be considered Americanization Key components of this process Katz argues were poems and works of prose fiction written in a way that evoked Native American forms or African American folk songs and hymns Such Hebrew writings presented America as a unified society that could assimilate all foreign cultures At no other time in the history of Jews in diaspora have Hebrew writers considered the fate of other minorities to such a degree Katz also explores the impact of the creation of the state of Israel on this process a transformation that led to ambivalence in American Hebrew literature as writers were given a choice between two worlds Reexamining long neglected writers across a wide spectrum Red Black and Jew celebrates an important chapter in the history of Hebrew belles lettres The Household Book of Poetry. Antarctica chronicling the nearly forgotten story of the Ross Sea party Weaving historical and scientific research into lilting verse Marion Starling Boyer follows the adventurers who sailed on the Aurora at the beginning of World War I to support Sir Ernest Shackleton's 1914-1917 Imperial Trans Antarctic Expedition These poems reveal the characters of the explorers and the conflicts they faced during the two years they labored to lay a chain of supply depots across the ice unaware that Shackleton would never come because his ship the Endurance sank on the opposite side of the continent The Ross Sea men battled frozen wastelands scurvy snow blindness starvation hypothermia and frostbite while their ship the Aurora was ice trapped marooning them without vital equipment clothing fuel and food Through lyric and formal poetic forms Ice Hours brings to life the close of a heroic period interwoven with the brooding voice of the Antarctic continent evoking themes of what occurs when humanity engages with the sublime The Moments, the Minutes, the Hours Jill Scott, 2005-04 Platinum plus selling and Grammy nominated artist Jill Scott presents her first ever poetry collection delivering the sweet sultry and soulfully honest voice that fans know and love The Girl In The Red Dress Barbara Blake, 2022-12-27 The Girl in the Red Dress is the story of a vivacious talented young woman whose life falls apart through a succession of bad marriages Driven by her refusal to accept advice and her insistence upon nursing grievances she gradually loses contact with her close relations and friends Left only with relatives she rarely sees internet acquaintances she has never met and a large collection of gemstone jewelry she dies impoverished and alone Sixty Years on the Rockpile is a humorous often tongue in cheek account of a housewife that evokes tears as well as laughter in the reader It appeals to women of all ages and to everyone who has ever tried to raise a family Written over a period of six years the final compilation is basically a memoir containing nostalgic references to the early forties when the prevailing mindset relegated women's position in society to cooking for their families or typing for their bosses The author hopes this book will further the efforts of the more liberated women of today to fulfill their goals Masterpieces of German Poetry F.
