Red Knight Vuk Stefanović Karadžić, 1992 Red Knight is a selection in translation and in the original from the notorious fifth book of Vuk Karadžić 1787-1864 the celebrated Serbian ethnographer and founder of the modern Serbian literary language Basing his new orthography on the rule Write as it is spoken Vuk focused his attention on the rich oral poetry of the region Among his several collections of folk songs epics proverbs and tales were many so called Women's Songs considered by Vuk to be of far more ancient origin than the renowned heroic poems of Serbia Some of these Women's Songs however were so lewd and scatological that almost two hundred years had to pass before they could be published With the revival notably in the Balkans of the deadly virus of nationalism the subversive nature of this folk material the burlesquing of all forms of bigotry as well as the celebratory or defiant assertion of corporeality became startlingly relevant From back cover

History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2010-09-29 Types and stereotypes is the fourth and last volume of a path breaking multinational literary history that incorporates innovative features relevant to the writing of literary history in general Instead of offering a traditional chronological narrative of the period 1800-1989 the History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe approaches the region's literatures from five complementary angles focusing on literature's participation in and reaction to key political events literary periods and genres the literatures of cities and sub regions literary institutions and figures of representation The main objective of the project is to challenge the self enclosure of national literatures in traditional literary histories to contextualize them in a regional perspective and to recover individual works writers and minority literatures that national histories have marginalized or ignored Types and stereotypes brings together articles that rethink the figures of National Poets figurations of the Family Women Outlaws and Others as well as figures of Trauma and Mediation As in the previous three volumes the historical and imaginary figures discussed here constantly change and readjust to new political and social conditions An Epilogue complements the basic history focusing on the contradictory transformations of East Central European literary cultures after 1989 This volume will be of interest to the region s literary historians to students and teachers of comparative literature to cultural historians and to the general public interested in exploring the literatures of a rich and resourceful cultural region Tito and the Rise and Fall of Yugoslavia Richard West,2012-11-15 Few figures have dominated a nation s destiny as much as Marshal Tito of former Yugoslavia For nearly thirty years he held together mutually hostile religious groups in a deeply divided country but his death in 1980 rekindled centuries old hatreds and by 1992 Yugoslavia ceased to exist In this revealing biography Richard West questions the full impact of Tito s reign of power and his implicit responsibility for the ensuing violent bloody war in Bosnia Excellent I recommend his book for those who already know about Yugoslavia and want food for thought about the future David Owen Sunday Times Admirable Carefully researched and extremely readable Literary Review A passionate book in which West s historical sense is interlaced with his own very intimate knowledge of Yugoslavia from the late 1940s on and of the poignancy of subsequent events Fergus Pyle Irish Times Masterly Glasgow Herald Translation and Opposition Dimitris Asimakoulas,Margaret Rogers,2011 Translation and Opposition is an edited volume that explores issues of inter intra social agency and identity construction The book features a collection of case studies in such diverse fields as interpreting audiovisual translation and the translation of political discourse and contemporary literary texts As contributors show translation is an act of negotiating fault lines between us and cultural or political others Cultures of Mobility and Alterity Yana Hashamova,Oana Popescu-Sandu,Sunnie Rucker-Chang,2022-09-15 Advancing public dialogue surrounding the issues of migrants and refugees the volume explores the dynamic representations of the recent movement of people from and through the Balkans It investigates how people within the Balkans view their others how the West regards the Balkans and how emigrants from the Balkans reflect upon their experiences as members of cosmopolitan diasporic communities Highlighting latent tensions between center and periphery and furthering the discussion of racialization related to the Balkans the collection exposes contradictions in social values which give rise to national anxieties Approaching mobility from multiple disciplines the volume examines several instances of border flows in media literature and culture in general flows of ideas and people To analyze mobility to from and in the Balkans requires one to address the issue of difference otherness and race as it relates to South East Europe and as it is understood and reproduced in both transnational and local forms The racialized category of migrant necessitates an understanding of how transnational concepts of race translate into constructs of whiteness and blackness and inform subject positions of the individual and motivate discourses of racialization within
