Leadership Approaches to Negotiate Challenges in a Changing Education Landscape Leentjie van Jaarsveld, Kobus Mentz, Charl C. Wolhuter, 2020-12-31 The argumentative point of departure of this scholarly book is the common conviction of specialists in the field of education in South Africa that the national education system is not at a satisfactory level in both the academic and the public discourse Such allegations are made and frequently stronger adjectives than non satisfactory are used Results of international test series in which South Africa has participated such as the 2015 TIMSS tests confirm the negative verdicts found in the public and scholarly discourse This book aims to argue that although the lack of performance could be attributed to a multiplicity of factors one factor that can make a difference in the achievement levels obtained by learners in schools is leadership The book demonstrates that a particular problem of both the scholarly and the public discourse on education in South Africa is an overtone of defeatism or resignation blaming all ills in the education system and educational institutions on historical legacies and or contextual factors such as socio economic deprivation in the catchment areas of schools or poor resources and infrastructure This collected work was inspired by a recently published spate of articles on top performing schools including top performing schools in rural communities in which it was demonstrated that good leadership can overcome such contextual and other challenges The book unpacks the issue of leadership in South African schools from a variety of perspectives thus contributing to the development of the scholarly discourse on Educational Leadership in South Africa The target audience of the book is scholars of Educational Leadership The research reported in the chapters draw on a wide range of methodologies including empirical survey research questionnaires and interviews critical literature surveys and the comparative method Introduction to Emergency Management George Haddow, Jane Bullock, Damon Coppola, 2010-10-12 Introduction to Emergency Management Fourth Edition offers a practical guide to the discipline of emergency management. It focuses on the domestic emergency management system of the United States, highlighting the lessons and emerging trends that are applicable to emergency management systems in other parts of the world. The book begins by tracing the historical development of emergency management from the 1800s to the present world of homeland security. It then discusses the hazards faced by emergency management and the methods of assessing hazard risk, the function of mitigation, and the strategies and programs emergency management or other disciplines use to reduce the impact of disasters and emergency management preparedness. The book also covers the importance of communication in the emergency management of the twenty-first century, the functions and processes of disaster response, government and voluntary programs aimed at helping people and communities rebuild in the aftermath of a disaster, and international emergency management. It also addresses the impact of September 11, 2001, on traditional perceptions of emergency management and emergency management in the post-9/11 post-Katrina environment. Expanded coverage of risk management. Enhanced coverage of disaster communications, including social networking sites like Twitter. More material on mitigation of disasters. Up-to-date information on the role of FEMA in the Obama administration.

JOURNALISM AND MASS COMMUNICATION - Volume II Rashmi Luthra, 2009-05-12 Journalism and Mass Communication is the component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems (EOLSS), which is an integrated compendium of twenty-one Encyclopedias. The Theme on Journalism and Mass Communication deals in two volumes and covers five main topics with a myriad of issues of great relevance to our world, such as Evolution of Journalism and Mass Communication, Evolution of Mass Communication, Mass Communication and Sustainable Futures, The Internet as a Mass Communication Medium, and Management and Future of Mass Communications and Media Communication Strategies for Sustainable Societies, which are then expanded into multiple subtopics, each as a chapter. These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences: University and College Students, Educators, Professional Practitioners, Research Personnel, and Policy Analysts, Managers, and Decision Makers, NGOs, and GOs.

Adaptiveness: Changing Earth System Governance Riyanti Djalante, Bernd Siebenhüner, 2021-07-08 Rapid and transformational actions are ever more urgently needed to achieve a just, resilient, and ecologically sustainable global society as envisioned and supported by the Sustainable Development Goals. Moreover, dynamic governance approaches are vital for addressing changing and uncertain conditions. At many levels, governance needs to be responsive and flexible. In one word, adaptive. This book provides a state-of-the-art review of the conceptual development of adaptiveness as a key concept in the environmental governance literature, complemented by applications from global, regional, and national levels. It reviews the politics of adaptiveness, investigates which governance processes foster adaptiveness, and discusses how, when, and why.

adaptiveness influences earth system governance It is a timely synthesis for students researchers and practitioners interested in environmental governance sustainability and social change processes This is one of a series of publications associated with the Earth System Governance Project For more publications see www.cambridge.org/earth-system-governance Technology in a Changing World Gurinder S.
