Downs, 1997-04-24 This is a fascinating story about private lawyers successfully negotiating with Russian professionals about critical nuclear arms problems during the Cold War from 1983 to 1991 The lawyers demonstrated that committed citizen diplomats could have an influence on official policies when governments were unable or unwilling to negotiate These delegates produced and distributed scholarly technically accurate joint papers recommending approaches and solutions to nuclear arms problems which the governments had not resolved because of relations poisoned by fear and distrust The book describes the extensive efforts of these Track II citizen diplomats to offset anti American propaganda permeating Soviet society It is a how to manual for non governmental organizations concerned with funding organizing and managing international conferences on complicated urgent problems The Publishers' Trade List Annual , 1985 Perceived Images Daniel Frei, 1986 Current thinking on arms control and disarmament has been dominated by the analysis of such objective factors as the number of weapons their characteristics technological developments and nuclear weapons deployment policies Yet arms control negotiations have had little success so far In this volume Daniel Frei asserts that while such objective analysis is indeed indispensable it needs to be supplemented by a careful document based description of Soviet and U S perceptions of one another and of the kind of assumptions that have thus far compelled their leaders to seek security in growing numbers of sophisticated weapons at ever increasing cost State , 1985 Recent Transportation Literature for Planning and Engineering Librarians University of California, Berkeley.
