Managing Mexico Sarah Babb, 2004-02-15 Just one generation ago lawyers dominated Mexico's political elite and Mexican economists were a relatively powerless group of mostly leftist nationalists Today in contrast the country is famous or perhaps infamous for being run by American trained neoclassical economists In 1993 the Economist suggested that Mexico had the most economically literate government in the world a trend that has continued since Mexico's transition to multi party democracy To the accompanying fanfare of U S politicians and foreign investors these technocrats embarked on the ambitious program of privatization deregulation budget cutting and opening to free trade all in keeping with the prescriptions of mainstream American economics This book chronicles the evolution of economic expertise in Mexico over the course of the twentieth century showing how internationally credentialed experts came to set the agenda for the Mexican economics profession and to dominate Mexican economic policymaking It also reveals how the familiar language of Mexico's new experts overlays a professional structure that is still alien to most American economists Sarah Babb mines diverse sources including Mexican undergraduate theses historical documents and personal interviews to address issues relevant not only to Latin American studies but also to the sociology of professions political sociology economic sociology and neoinstitutionalist sociology She demonstrates with skill how peculiarly national circumstances shape what economic experts think and do At the same time Babb shows how globalization can erode national systems of economic expertise in developing countries creating a new class of global experts
