evaporate. In addition, gas can be released from operations through controlled process vents for safety protection. Further safety devices such as flares are used to burn excess hydrocarbons in the industry but can allow a small proportion of hydrocarbon into the atmosphere without being burnt. Industry contains and controls these emissions wherever possible to minimize any loss of hydrocarbon. Hydrocarbon vapours often described as volatile organic compounds or VOCs are potentially harmful air pollutants which can result in local health impacts as well as local or regional contributions to the formation of low level ozone which in turn may also impact human health. Controlling hydrocarbon loss helps prevent impact on air quality and is also economically beneficial.

4. A Ahnell and H O Leary. In 2004 BP emitted 245 kilo tonnes of non methane hydrocarbons to air, a decrease of 24 kilo tonnes (9%) compared with 2003. The largest proportion of these emissions came from the exploration and production businesses (44%) followed by refining and marketing (35%). Combining methane and non methane hydrocarbon totals provides a better idea of where most of the hydrocarbon emissions come from within the industry sectors. In BP's case the exploration and production activities account for 67% of the total volume of such hydrocarbons emitted to air in 2004.
