What's New, Doc? Elain Myrie-Richards M.D.,2010-02-03 Medicine can be raunchy is the comment a friend made when I shared some of my stories with her Another friend stated These stories are outrageous and his statement gave me an idea for the subtitle My reply to these friends is But they are all true In fact you should have heard the ones I rejected in the interest of propriety According to my three children belonging to a family in which both parents are physicians requires a strong constitution Stories shared at the dinner table were sometimes funny sometimes heartbreaking sometimes carried a moral and often involved gory details which my children would have preferred we left out One of the stories with a moral was that of a teenager who hitched a ride with a man who was driving drunk In the accident which caused the young man to be brought to the E R he sustained severe abdominal injuries and lost his spleen That day the moral of the story was Do not hitch hike DUI became the dinner topic on the day when an injured drunk patient was brought in to the E R after running his car into a parked patrol cruiser My stories are short and pithy They will make you laugh They will make you cry They will make you shake your head for whatever reason They will make you wish you had shared a story They will make you healthy because laughter is good medicine

The Never Pals Rocky Kuznik, 2009-02-13 Frenchy Mandril considered Frank Bingham his best salesman and top producer Many times throughout their many years together Frenchy would always and still be held spellbound and amazed by Frank s natural ability to close deals when certain customers were just in shopping prices and not really prepared to buy anything On many occasions he would step out to the curb of his sales lot and yell across the busy boulevard to his competitors and yell I wish I had a hundred and twenty Frankie s working for me I d sell out every hour Frank Bingham being in his early forties held contrary views and opinions of his boss This was evidenced by most of their senseless conversations where his ending thoughts would be something similar in effect to Why did his parents choose to drop that perfected moron and afford him breathing space on this planet January Thornton also single for years and about Frank s age lived next door This however did very little to develop any facet of their relationship for more than twelve years In plain talk they had nothing in common except for a hedge line dividing the properties This held true for like kind of people they individually worked for and others they held in short term friendships In addition there was this uncommon wayward thinking that kept both of them mired in their individual and dysfunctional circumstances Jan was and has been employed by a national hotel chain for a number of years at one of it s northern Ohio locations Here he was it s head chef and restaurant manager His director was a W Wenchman for whom Jan had less than a finger tip of respect This was brought about by most of their so called business conversations which were of the off the wall variety and applicable to very little Whenever W W summoned him to his office it always was verbal launch time directed toward Jan After knocking lightly and slowly opening the door he said I m here boss is it okay for me to come in Now what the hell do you think Thornton Like maybe I should come out there Another thing I was getting tired of holding my breath waiting for your appearance Dam I should have waited another five minutes and then no more Wenchman Thought Jan Will a two week vacation to Florida bring about change to the never pals stale lifestyles and personal relationships Some reading of their exploits may find them a bit humorous or even hilarious But these two main characters seem to accept them as a matter of fact occurrences came surprises that even Chester could not have predicted Once again the Monroe family may be the victims of evil forces or only of Chester's strange imagination But whichever the result is suspenseful and very very funny Catholic World, 1883
