

A 360-degree panoramic view of a modern office interior. The space features a curved ceiling with a grid of acoustic tiles and recessed lighting. A large window on the right side provides a view of the outdoors. The floor is covered in a grey patterned carpet. In the background, there are desks, chairs, and a potted plant. A white circular overlay with the text "360°" is centered in the image.

My World MICHAEL JEAN NYSTROM-SCHUT, 2004-05-19 Let me tell you how much fun it is to be a book writer One of my friends recently said to me I dont even know anyone whos ever READ a book let alone WRITE one I was amused Well you know its really not so hard to write a book You just talk about what you feel and organize your thoughts along the way At some point as you stay determined to make it happen the book comes into the world For me now having compiled over 30 book length manuscripts of various topics and subject matter I have become more and more inclined to share the way I see the world with others along the way You might call what I like to write about as having to do with personal philosophy or individual world view Everyone has a way they see their world this book is part of how I see mine It seems that all kinds of people have something to say about what life is and is not I am like most people so am no exception I have come to enjoy giving such opinions and points of view with just about anyone who will listen I wrote this book MY WORLD The First 50 Years because I wanted to be sure and document the way life appeared to be to me at the half century mark in my personal growth and evolution I did it in a way that enables you to read right through it or if you prefer you can take it slowly over a one year span of time and think about the ideas and thoughts carefully How you read the book is entirely up to you Ten years earlier I had written a similar book Earth Dwelling An Owners Manual for Life in order to share thoughts about the meaning and purpose of life It is amazing the difference that ten years can make I like to think that I am growing Gee Could that be I sure hope so People from the worlds of philosophy religion and the popular culture are anxious to share the way they see the world with others I have a passion to do that also and so I wrote this book in order to summarize how things in life appeared to me I could be way off you decide for yourself At any rate my world is MY way of seeing life in YOUR world you will see it your special way and that is part of the beauty of this life Each person is free to see it differently and that is our basic right to do so I like that I actually feel so strongly about what I am saying here that I created a web site which is called HowIseetheworld.com to talk about and share ideas with others Take a look at it some time Thoughts are powerful and have a tendency to either make you great or even destroy you before your time So think good thoughts And enjoy the book as well

Trauma Doesn't Stop at the School Door Karen Gross, 2020 This book explores how educational institutions have failed to recognize and effectively address the symptoms of trauma in students of all ages Given the prevalence of traumatic events in our world Gross argues that it is time for educational institutions and those who work within them to change their approaches and responses to traumatic symptoms that manifest in students in schools and colleges These changes can alter how and what we teach how we train teachers how we structure our calendars and create our schedules how we address student behavior and disciplinary issues and how we design our physical space Drawing on real life examples and scenarios that will be familiar to educators this resource provides concrete suggestions to assist institutions in becoming trauma responsive environments including replicable macro and micro changes Ideas and strategies that teachers parents students and leaders of any organization can leverage to make positive transformational changes

Connected Science

Tricia A. Ferrett, David Geelan, Whitney M. Schlegal, Joanne L. Stewart, 2013-07-10. Informed by the scholarship of teaching and learning, SOTL Connected Science presents a new approach to college science education for the 21st century. This interdisciplinary approach stresses integrative learning and pedagogies that engage students through open-ended inquiry, compelling real-world questions, and data-rich experiences. Faculty from a variety of disciplines and institutions present case studies based on research in the classroom, offering insights into student learning goals and best practices in curriculum design. Synthetic chapters bring together themes from the case studies, present an overview of the connected science approach, and identify strategies and future challenges to help move this work forward.

Searching for the Self

Adrian T. Smith, 2018-01-22. Who am I? If you are unsure of your personal identity, you are not alone. Our postmodern culture multiplies identity crisis. Identity comes from story; the better our story, the healthier our identity and our behavior. Searching for the Self helps you discover your own story and discern how cultural narratives shape your behavior. Channeling the ancient wisdom of classic stories, including Christian Scripture, viewed as true story, this book offers hope to anyone searching for a better story to live by. Searching for the Self provides a groundbreaking synthesis of narrative psychology, cultural analysis, biblical studies, and English Literature 101, all written in an engaging style and interwoven with revealing personal anecdotes.

The Challenge of Teaching Gretchen Geng, Pamela Smith, Paul Black, 2016-10-11. This book presents thirty-one accounts by final-year pre-service teachers providing guidance and insights for less-advanced teacher education students and illustrating the use of life history and narrative stories as methods for pre-service teachers to explore educational issues in classroom practice. This life history approach identifies those political, economic, and social forces that have impinged on the individual at different points in their life and contributed to the process of changing their identities. These stories are not written by established specialists in the areas they deal with but instead by novice teachers at the beginning of their paths towards mastering the intricacies of teaching and learning in school settings. As such, the book provides a mentoring framework and a means of helping pre-service teachers share their valuable experiences and insights into aspects such as how to manage practicum requirements. It helps establish a supportive relationship among pre-service teachers, providing them with access to valuable peer experiences. In addition, it helps pre-service teachers make sense of their own practicum experiences and reflect on their own beliefs and professional judgement to develop their approaches and solve problems in their own classroom practice.
