My Yorkshire Life:

FACE2FAITH Jenni Eden,2010-08 Jenni has had the most incredible journey and had help from the most incredible source Jenni believes this timeless source of support is available to everyone if they choose it and ask for it Jenni is now a highly respected and sought after artist with work on display all over the world how she got there is detailed in this book Jenni believes her journey will help inspire you if you are looking to find more contentment in life and a career that helps you fire on all cylinders As Jenni became more successful she was asked not to keep her journey to herself but to share with others so they too may benefit On December 16th 1986 it seems to Jenni that God came and sat on her bed gave her hope unconditional love and a great gift She wasn't even sure if she believed in God at the time and the next twenty years proved to be a challenging yet incredible journey The gift she believes she received from God is her gift for painting This book tells the journey Jenni have travelled with her faith and with art Kethani Eric Brown,2009-03-31 It takes an alien race to show us our humanity When a mysterious alien race known as the K thani make contact with the people of Earth they bring with them the dubious gift of eternal life These enigmatic aliens will change the course of the human race forever but also touch people's lives on a personal level not least in a small town in the English countryside But do the K thani have a hidden agenda and will the human race choose to evolve or turn in on itself in the face of this momentous revelation K thani is a superbly crafted novel that examines the consequences of first contact with an alien race and the choices faced by those whose lives are touched by these visitors from the stars This is moving and powerful science fiction For the Time Being Michael Fisher,1993 What's My Name? Grant Farred,1997 Autobiography Neville Cardus,2012-02-02 Autobiography was first published in 1947 and was described by J B Priestley as one of the best pieces of writing that ever found a way to our Book Society He is a writer who has learned how to write and the result is glorious Sir Neville Cardus is best remembered as a writer on both cricket and music and during his lifetime achieved an unparalleled reputation as one of England's greatest journalists on these two very different subjects Born in Rusholme in Manchester Cardus carved out an international reputation for himself by his own ability efforts and imagination and created as his biographer Christopher Brookes put it a beguiling personal legend in the course of a career which extended over fifty years This is a very very good book Cricket and music how he makes both these worlds pulsate life comic as well as life magnificent Robert Lynd A superb work by a master of English Wilfred Pickles Nature Notes ,1896 Highways and Byways in Yorkshire Arthur Hamilton Norway,1903 All Because of Daisy Terence Roberts,2023-01-06 Terence Roberts came to live in Ireland as a middle aged working man in search of something He took a gamble when he could have easily stayed comfortable and resigned to the only life he knew On reflection he didn't really know himself as he approached his 50th birthday and he couldn't see a purposeful future Everything had been lost amidst the pace and chaos of urban living and life's natural disappointments But in rural Ireland he found himself in a totally different world finding what was important in his own life

whilst rediscovering innocence and hope Through unique characters both human and in the field he was entertained educated and inspired All Because of Daisy was written initially for his family and close friends to help explain why he left them to come to live in Ireland and why he stayed Thanks to his new environment and eye opening experiences he begins to make sense of his own life his past present and future He also concludes that while modern day life is far from simple and is emotionally expensive in many ways it can also be beautiful and priceless when seen through fresh eyes but to do that sometimes you have to take a gamble

Magazine Journalism Tim Holmes, Liz Nice, 2011-11-10 For those of us who long ago experienced the magazine love bite and have been battling the prejudice and scant attention shown this beautiful medium ever since here at last is the book to set the record straight Nicholas Brett Deputy Managing Director BBC Magazines At a time when magazines are undergoing active redefinition this book represents a welcome intervention It engages with a host of pressing issues in a manner alert to professional priorities while at the same time encouraging new ways of thinking about the challenges shaping this fast moving field Holmes and Nice are trustworthy guides taking the reader on what proves to be a fascinating journey Stuart Allan Professor of Journalism Bournemouth University Magazines are the most successful media format ever to have existed so begins Magazine Journalism as it traces how magazines arose from their earliest beginnings in 1665 to become the ubiquitous format we know today This book combats the assumptions among media academics as well as journalists that magazines somehow don't count and presents a compelling assessment of the development and innovation at the heart of magazine publishing In magazines we find some of the key debates in journalism from the genesis of marketing to the reader to feminist history subcultures and tabloidization Embedding these questions in a thoroughly historical framework Holmes and Nice argue for an understanding of magazine journalism as essential in the media landscape Moving beyond the semiotic and textual analysis so favoured by critics of the past the authors complete the story with an exploration of the production and consumption of magazines Drawing on interviews with more than 30 magazine journalists across the industry what emerges is a story of resilience innovation and a unique ability to embrace new markets and readerships Magazine Journalism takes the reader to the heart of key questions in the past present and future of journalism and is essential reading for students across journalism and the creative industries

Foreign Accent Syndromes Jack Ryalls, Nick Miller, 2014-08-13 What does it feel like to wake up one day speaking with a foreign accent from a country one has never visited Why does someone wake up doing this This book seeks to portray the broad and diverse experiences of individuals with a rare neurological speech disorder called Foreign Accent Syndrome FAS Through a combination of personal testimony and scientific commentary the book aims to shed unprecedented light on the understanding of FAS by elucidating the complex links between how the brain produces speech how listeners perceive speech and the role that accent plays in our perception of self and others The first part of the book provides a comprehensive introduction to FAS and covers a number of key subject areas including The definition and phenomenology of FAS A history of research on FAS The causes and psychosocial consequences of FAS A guide to further reading and a glossary of specialized terms The chapters in part two provide a unique insight into the condition through personal testimony and accounts from family members This collection of 28 testimonies from across the world underlines the importance of listening carefully to patients explain their cases and in their own words The final section contains a questionnaire for use by clinicians to support case history taking The authors are two leading global experts on FAS and this is the first volume of its kind to provide such a broad and comprehensive examination of this rare and poorly understood condition It will be of great interest to practising clinicians in neurology psychiatry psychology and speech and language therapy pathology as well as students in health disciplines relevant to neurorehabilitation linguists and also to families and caregivers

Credible and True K. Harvey Proctor, 2016-03-29 Early in the morning of 4 March 2015 a fierce knock at the door heralded the start of a new chapter in Harvey Proctor's almost continuous relationship with the police and media when officers from the Metropolitan Police raided his home in connection with Operation Midland Scotland Yard's investigation into allegations of a historic Westminster paedophile ring In Credible and True words famously used by the police to describe the allegations of Proctor's traducer the former Conservative MP talks frankly about his life in and out of Parliament from the struggles and controversy surrounding his resignation in 1987 to the numerous homophobic attacks endured since one of which revealed here in horrific detail for the first time was a very nearly successful attempt on his life Finally he speaks candidly about his most recent embroilment in Operation Midland of being the victim of a homosexual witch hunt that has all but destroyed his reputation adding to the topical debate about police lack of due process in the post Savile world of guilty until proven innocent

Chasing a Fortune Philip Robinson, 1884

Outside Looking In Audrey Clark, 2013-10-01 Have you ever bared your soul Have you ever tried to be so honest it hurts Then Outside Looking In will strike a chord As the reader on the outside looking in you are taken on a very personal and painful journey through the eyes of the author Aud Clark as a seven year old child helpless at the hands of a tyrannical father is systematically abused They say when you experience a traumatic experience your mind blocks it out for your protection and to a degree that's true but it didn't quite block it out enough for me when one afternoon aged just seven that protection theory was put to the test Forced to keep it a secret she learns to suppress her emotions until they spill over into her day to day life resulting in anger and outbursts against those she loves most She loses her daughter and the man that she loved At that point in my life I believed I was nothing more than a liability to those I loved I had got used to bottling everything up It was easier than alarming people She pushes away anyone who tries to get close Her whirligig of emotions results in many a love lost Despite the trauma a career in entertainment and a difficult friendship with a celebrity follows That friendship takes many twists and turns but none more so than when she discovers he is dying which takes her so very close to the edge of death Outside Looking In is a true and harrowing autobiography that will resonate predominantly with women who have suffered personal traumas in their life or those who have loved and lost I constantly try to forget my past I don't want to be a victim I am a survivor like many many others True North Martin Wainwright, 2012-06-05 Abysmal weather slag heaps funny accents the bleak uplands of a landscape carved out of millstone grit townscapes of abandoned mills and shipyards the detritus of an industrial revolution well past its sell by date These all too often are the gloomy perceptions of the north the foundations for the belief that northerners spend their lives battling hardship and misery and that nothing beyond Watford is worth a bag of chips With an insider's sensitivity and a journalist's enquiring mind northerner Martin Wainwright swiftly dispels these and other myths He reaches back through the historical record to uncover where and how many of the old clichés arose and goes on to paint a picture of the north as it is today and has always been a setting of wild coastline lakes and green dales inhabited by indomitably inventive northerners proud of their past and forging a future of brilliant new enterprises Lavishly illustrated with over 100 stunning images from the Guardian's archives Wainwright's incisive and wittily observant assessment of a region that is flourishing socially and culturally leaves us in no doubt that true north is as vibrant and exciting as it is beautiful

The Economist, 1846 The Yankee Yorkshireman Mary H. Blewett, 2009 Understanding migration through the lives and fiction of migrant workers in New England Catalogue of Books in the Lending Library Edinburgh (Scotland). Public Library, 1890 Started Early, Took My Dog Kate Atkinson, 2011-03-21 Tracy Waterhouse leads a quiet ordered life as a retired police detective a life that takes a surprising turn when she encounters Kelly Cross a habitual offender dragging a young child through town Both appear miserable and better off without each other or so decides Tracy in a snap decision that surprises herself as much as Kelly Suddenly burdened with a small child Tracy soon learns her parental inexperience is actually the least of her problems as much larger ones loom for her and her young charge Meanwhile Jackson Brodie the beloved detective of novels such as Case Histories is embarking on a different sort of rescue that of an abused dog Dog in tow Jackson is about to learn along with Tracy that no good deed goes unpunished John Venn: Unpublished Writings and Selected Correspondence Lukas M. Verburgt, 2021-11-25 This is the first book to present a carefully chosen and annotated selection of the unpublished writings and correspondence of the English logician John Venn 1834-1923 Today remembered mainly as the inventor of the famous diagram that bears his name Venn was an important figure of nineteenth century Cambridge where he worked alongside leading thinkers such as Henry Sidgwick and Alfred Marshall on the development of the Moral Sciences Tripos Venn published three influential textbooks on logic contributed some dozen articles to the then newly established journal Mind of which he became co editor in 1892 and counted F W Maitland William Cunningham and Arthur Balfour among his pupils After his active career as a logician which ended around the turn of the 20th century Venn reinvented himself as a biographer of his University College and family Together with his son he worked on the massive Alumni Cantabrigienses which is still used today as a standard reference source The material presented here including the 100 page Annals Autobiographical Sketch provides much new information on Venn's philosophical development and Cambridge in the 1850s 60s It also brings to light Venn's relation with famous colleagues and friends such as Leslie Stephen Francis Galton and William Stanley Jevons thereby placing him at the heart of Victorian intellectual life
