SPECIAL FEATURES

- Includes the "uncut" version of The Brain That Wouldn't Die without the Satellite of Love crewmates.
- Amazing animated menus.
- 2 movies on 1 disk.

It's Mystery Science Theater 3000, America's only show that makes fun of really bad B movies from the comfort of a spaceship floating above Earth. Mike Nelson, along with his mechanical companions, wisecracking Crow and well-read chick magnet Tom Servo, make suffering through Hollywood's worst films a breeze. Adding their own dialogue, barrage of witty remarks, and an occasional colorful skit, the next hour and a half will fly by like it were only 90 minutes. There's no ushers with flashlights, crying babies, or women with big hair to spoil the fun.

It's Mike Nelson's virgin voyage on The Satellite Of Love, and boy does his crew have a girl for him in The Brain That Wouldn't Die. Unfortunately she's only a head, but you know what they say, sometimes you have to do things just to get "a head" in this world (har, har). This story finds a young doctor climbing back to his wrecked car only to discover his fiancée has been decapitated. Scooping up her noggin like a linebucker and running off, Crow blurts out, "He's at the 20. He's at the 10. No one will catch him." Then later in this flick, as our leading lady floats in a tray of magical life-sustaining liquid, Tom Servo remarks, "Look. She makes her own gravy." If that wasn't enough, don't miss the onboard interview between our three pals and the decapitated diva. It's a hoot!

Monsters, Mushroom Clouds, and the Cold War M. Keith Booker, 2001-05-30 The 1950s are widely regarded as the golden age of American science fiction This book surveys a wide range of major science fiction novels and films from the long 1950s the period from 1946 to 1964 when the tensions of the Cold War were at their peak The American science fiction novels and films of this period clearly reflect Cold War anxieties and tensions through their focus on such themes as alien invasion and nuclear holocaust In this sense they resemble the observations of social and cultural critics during the same period Meanwhile American science fiction of the long 1950s also engages its historical and political contexts through an interrogation of phenomena such as alienation and routinization that can be seen as consequences of the development of American capitalism during this period This economic trend is part of the rise of the global phenomenon that Marxist theorists have called late capitalism Thus American science fiction during this period reflects the rise of late capitalism and participates in the beginnings of postmodernism described by Frederic Jameson as the cultural logic of late capitalism
