Feder, 2010-10-11 This book provides a fascinating encyclopedic antidote for the mysticism and pseudoscience surrounding well known or highly publicized archaeological and anthropological discoveries Archaeology attempts to answer the question where do we come from in the broadest sense possible as a result it is a highly interesting topic for all mankind When did human beings first walk the earth How did civilization develop What compelled our human ancestors to build things like the pyramids the Great Sphinx or Monk's Mound This book presents the widely unknown scientific facts behind the most popular and enthralling mysteries of our world from an expert archaeological perspective and lays out the information and research in a manner that is approachable engaging and entertaining for any reader Encyclopedia of Dubious Archaeology From Atlantis to the Walam Olum contains detailed and highly descriptive definitions for and explanations of terms related to extraordinary claims about human antiquity and its study Some of the terms in this extensive list of topics relate to archaeological hoaxes Many of the entries relate to dubious interpretations of the human past some of the terms relate to far fetched arguments that actually have produced evidence in support of their veracity The Promise of Cultural Institutions David Carr, 2004-09-08 This thought provoking collection of essays is essential reading for anyone who cares about cultural institutions and their role in the community of learners These institutions often museums or libraries have the power to profoundly alter our sense of ourselves and of the world around us but that power carries with it obligations David Carr challenges us to contemplate both the effects and the responsibilities to examine carefully the nuances of these experiences Yet a visit to a cultural institution is itself only one act in the broader activity of learning throughout our lives Carr has much to say about the experience of learning in its best sense and thus speaks not only to lovers of cultural institutions but also to lovers of learning everywhere
