Reclaiming Our Schools Whose Kids Are They Anyway:

Reclaiming Our Schools Richard Lee King, 1999 Written by an educator in everyday language Reclaiming Our Schools is a guide for parents both dismayed by a public school system producing students scoring among the lowest of all industrialized national and unsure of what to do about it Included are non confrontational questions for school administrators both research and common sense challenging current educational practices and a detailed examination of the myths driving them

Education Teaching Whose Kids Are They Anyway? Raymond R. Roberts, 2010-11-01 Raymond R Roberts makes a liberal s case for teaching religion and morality in public schools by first examining the intersection of religion and public education He shows how proposals for moral education in public schools are shaped by definitions of religion He argues that the public education s critics overstate the failures of public education because they examine public schools in isolation from negative trends in the family the economy the media etc From there he describes how a theory of spheres of influence gives us a better perspective from which to understand public education including its relationship with religion Reclaiming Our Schools Darcy Ann Olsen, Matthew Joseph Brouillette, 2000 Boletín Internacional de Bibliografía Sobre Educación , 2002

Transnational Feminist Perspectives on Terror in Literature and Culture
Basuli Deb, 2014-11-13 This book offers a transnational feminist response to the gender politics of torture and terror from the viewpoint of populations of color who have come to be associated with acts of terror Using the War on Terror in Afghanistan and Iraq this book revisits other such racialized wars in Palestine Guatemala India Algeria and South Africa It draws widely on postcolonial literature photography films music interdisciplinary arts media new media and activism joining the larger conversation about human rights by addressing the problem of a pervasive public misunderstanding of terrorism conditioned by a foreign and domestic policy perspective Deb provides an alternative understanding of terrorism as revolutionary dissent against injustice through a postcolonial transnational lens The volume brings counter terror narratives into dialogue with ideologies of gender race ethnicity nationality class and religion addressing the situation of women as both perpetrators and targets of torture and the possibilities of a dialogue between feminist and queer politics to confront securitized regimes of torture This book explores the relationship in which social and cultural texts stand with respect to legacies of colonialism and neo imperialism in a world of transnational feminist solidarities against postcolonial wars on terror The Hawk-Eye
