Reclaiming The Humanities The Roots Of Self Knowledge In The Greek And Biblical Worlds:

Reclaiming the Humanities Thomas R. Simone, Richard I. Sugarman, 1986 Presents an overview of what the authors see as the roots of Western traditional thought Homer the tragedians Plato Aristotle and the Bible Each section of the book offers lucid interpretations of a major figure through discussion of seminal texts Art Education Albert William Levi, Ralph Alexander Smith, 1991 Recommending that art be taught as a humanity this volume provides a philosophical rationale for the idea of discipline based art education Levi and Smith discuss topics ranging over both the public and private aspects of art the disciplines of artistic creation art history art criticism and aesthetics and curriculum proposals featuring five phases of aesthetic learning While there is no consensus on how the various components of aesthetic learning should be presented in order to accomplish the goals of discipline based art education the authors point out that progress toward those goals will require that those who design art education programs bring an understanding of the four disciplines to their work The introductory volume of a five volume series this book will appeal to elementary and secondary art teachers those who prepare teachers at the college level and museum educators Leadership and the Liberal Arts J. Wren, R.

Riggio, 2009-03-30 A collection of essays by presidents of prominent liberal arts colleges and leading intellectuals who reflect on the meaning of educating individuals for leadership and how it can be accomplished in ways consistent with the missions of liberal arts institutions Mirrors of Self Jonathan P. Badgett, 2021-10-14 Orthodox Christology maintains that Jesus Christ is both truly God and truly human As such he is the key to knowing both God and self In a series of applications of christological anthropology Mirrors of Self develops this epistemic premise in dialogue with a diversity of Christian and secular historical and modern perspectives Aspects of human personhood including the ever elusive self gain greater clarity and significance in the light of Christ's person and work At the center of individual human subjectivity we encounter a broken sin blinded self in need of renewal and release What healing we find comes to us as Christ's ecological presence works in and through others the mirrors of self whose instrumental agency Christ employs in service to his own redemptive ends

Aristotle's Way Edith Hall, 2019 Aristotle was an extraordinary thinker perhaps the greatest in history Yet he was preoccupied by an ordinary question how to be happy His deepest belief was that we can all be happy in a meaningful sustained way and he led by example In this handbook to his timeless teachings Professor Edith Hall shows how ancient thinking is precisely what we need today even if you don't know your Odyssey from your Iliad In ten practical lessons we come to understand more about our own characters and how to make good decisions We learn how to do well in an interview how to choose a partner and lifelong friends and how to face death or bereavement Inside front cover Passion in Philosophy Randolph Wheeler, 2016-10-26 Among the first and foremost of American continental philosophers Alphonso Lingis refines his own thought through a topic usually deemed unworthy of philosophical examination passion Lingis criticizes traditional scientific accounts of the emotions as dividing or disrupting our lives and argues for passion as a unifying force a concept which invites philosophical exploration The book s structure is twofold First it offers an examination of Lingis s most recent developments through the topic of passion with essays from some of the most established commentators on the work of Lingis Second it offers a substantial retrospective on Lingis s thought in relation to some of the major figures in continental philosophy namely Levinas Kant Heidegger Butler Foucault and Nietzsche all interweaving the theme of passion Written to celebrate the eightieth anniversary of Lingis s birth these essays show how Lingis s thought has not only endured over so many productive decades but also remains vital and even continues to grow Religious

Transformations and Socio-Political Change Luther Martin,2011-07-26 The series Religion and Society RS contributes to the exploration of religions as social systems both in Western and non Western societies in particular it examines religions in their differentiation from and intersection with other cultural systems such as art economy law and politics Due attention is given to paradigmatic case or comparative studies that exhibit a clear theoretical orientation with the empirical and historical data of religion and such aspects of religion as ritual the religious imagination constructions of tradition iconography or media In addition the formation of religious communities their construction of identity and their relation to society and the wider public are key issues of this series The Journal of Aesthetic Education ,1987 Includes special issues
