Recognizing Spiritual Needs In People Who Are Dying:

Recognizing Spiritual Needs in People who are Dying Rachel Stanworth, 2004 Listening carefully to patients at the end of life is at the heart of good palliative care and this book provides a means of recognizing and talking about spiritual needs even when religious language is not used The author refers to this as a language of spirit The book is based on interviews with patients who are dying and the language that they use to describe their experiences It deals with death dying the experiences of patients and the relief of spiritual pain by looking closely at patient stories drawings and behaviour The book explains why it is often easier to recognize than to explain spiritual issues Part One explores the psychological spiritual and theological interpretations of human experience A detailed account is given of how the patients own stories were collected Drawing on a broad literature which is grounded in patients words and deeds Part Two introduces a non religious language of spirit Illuminated by patient art Part Three shows what patients use this language to say about their situation and how it is mediated through various metaphors Part Four suggests ways of responding positively to patients spiritual needs Aimed primarily at palliative care specialists and specialist nurses this book will also appeal to health care chaplains pastoral support workers theologians social researchers and psychotherapists The numerous illustrations given by patients comments as they tell their story make this book a truly fascinating journey through an important area of end of life care Dame Cicely Saunders OM DBE FRCP Founder President St Christopher s Hospice London The emphasis on allowing patients to speak for themselves is striking the author has presented the topic in a sensitive and refreshing way I think this book will be well received and it will be an important contribution to the literature of palliative care Dr Odette Spruyt Head of Pain and Palliative Care Department Peter MacCallum Cancer Institute East Melbourne Australia Spiritual Needs in Research and Practice Arndt Büssing, 2021-05-28 Based on information gathered from the internationally used Spiritual Needs Questionnaire this book offers analyses of the spiritual and existential needs among different groups of people such as the chronically ill elderly adolescents mothers of sick children refugees patients relatives and others The theoretical background specific empirical findings and the relevance of addressing spiritual needs is discussed by experts from different professions and cultural contexts Supporting a person s spiritual needs remains an important task of future healthcare systems that wish to more comprehensively care for the healthcare needs of patients and of religious communities to ensure that spiritual concerns of all persons independent of their religious orientations are met in and outside healthcare settings Spirituality and Coping with Loss Wendy Greenstreet, 2017-04-28 Spirituality and Coping with Loss End of Life Healthcare Practice describes a research study that reflects nurses experience of the nature of loss encountered in end of life care settings as well as the ways in which spirituality is a resource in coping in these situations Key findings indicate how nurses spiritual development impacts their proficiency in spiritual care These findings will be of interest to nurses and nurse educators as well as other healthcare professionals Oxford Handbook of Palliative Care Max Watson, Stephen Ward, Nandini

Vallath,Jo Wells,Rachel Campbell,2019-09-12 The Oxford Handbook of Palliative Care returns for a third edition maintaining the concise yet comprehensive format suited to the busy practitioner for quick access to key information and fully updated to reflect changes in the palliative care landscape Featuring an increased emphasis on non malignant diseases such as dementia this authoritative text combines evidence based care with the bedside experience of experienced palliative care professionals to give the reader a complete overview of the physical emotional and spiritual aspects of care for the end of life patient Symptom management is covered in detail with updated formulary tables and syringe driver protocols and a new chapter on international perspectives to broaden the reader s perception of methods for delivering end of life care The third edition of the Oxford Handbook of Palliative Care is the essential companion for all of those working with adults children and families with palliative care needs in both hospital and community settings The following correction has been made online and will be included in the first reprint Readers can get in touch with us directly using the contact details on the back of the book or at our online form via the address below with questions or comments <https://global.oup.com/academic/category/medicine-and-health> Chapter 5 Page 109 The dose for Hyoscine butylbromide sc has been amended in line with NICE guidance <https://bnf.nice.org.uk/drug/hyoscine-butylbromide.html> 20 120 mg 4 hourly has been corrected to 20 80mg 4 hourly

Charismatic Pastoral Care of the Terminally Ill and Chronically Disabled Jomon K. John,2016-09-02 Healing of the sick is a prominent theme in the biblical narratives However when it comes to caring for the chronically and terminally sick there are no clear directives in the New Testament describing how the church may minister to them There are significant differences in the way many churches approach this matter Even among the charismatic churches that believe that the gifts of the Holy Spirit including miraculous healing are available to present day believers there are differences in the way the sick are cared for This book investigates the pastoral challenges with regard to chronic infirmities and terminal illnesses in a charismatic church context This is undertaken with the understanding that many who are chronically and terminally ill in this context present poor medical prognosis and have remained unhealed in spite of prayers Clear foundational values are drawn for defining the pastoral challenges and objectives Three true cases present in public domain are presented and analyzed to identify the challenges The pastoral care objectives are defined and strategies are drawn to meet these The findings and conclusions would be relevant to the pastors the sick and those who care for them and indeed the whole church The author is personally involved in the care of the sick as a practicing surgeon as well as a pastor Being a pastor in a charismatic church that believes in praying for miraculous healing of the sick and practicing modern medicine the author is faced with the challenges of pastoral care for those with poor medical prognosis who remain unhealed in spite of believing in prayers they are very close to his heart The author provides the foundational principles and goals in the pastoral care of such situations and outlines the strategies for doing so without compromising the conviction that Jesus Christ still heals the sick
