Gaidar's Revolution Petr Aven, Alfred Kokh, 2015-07-02 After the collapse of the Soviet Union a team of young economic reformers led by Yegor Gaidar worked to create a new economic future for Russia Against an overwhelming threat of looming hunger and civil war they created a market economy which is still in place today In the face of crisis a process of shock therapy involving the end of price regulation the introduction of privatisation and a reduction in public spending appeared necessary Their plans have been the subject of controversy ever since the path to the new economy was not smooth and Russia continued to struggle with economic crises throughout the 1990s Yet Gaidar's plans have been widely praised for saving the country from complete collapse For the first time in this book the participants in the process reveal their experiences during those frantic days their insights into Yegor Gaidar and of the formation of post Soviet Russia In doing so this book provides a unique perspective on contemporary Russia making it an indispensable resource for understanding its economic and political complexities

Rural Life James P. Giffen, 2004-10-18 In the 1940s the Manitoba Royal Commission on Adult Education investigated directions for the modernization of the province in the post war era of change It was charged particularly with looking at rural Manitoba's cultural educational and leadership opportunities in the wake of new technologies dwindling populations and altered political and social affiliations The commission engaged Jim Giffen then a young sociologist from the University of Toronto to undertake a detailed field study of three rural Manitoba towns in this context Giffen's extensive study examined the towns of Carman Elgin and Rosburn all significantly different in terms of their ethnic makeup and level of political and organizational sophistication He remained in the province for a year and a half at the end of which his report an analysis of education for leadership was considered too revealing for public release It remained in the Ontario Legislative Library until it was retrieved 50 years later by well known historian Gerald Friesen who has written an extensive postscript to the report As a snapshot of rural agricultural life in prairie Canada at a time of great change the study is invaluable Despite the differences in the three towns they retain some common characteristics that define a particular socio cultural view of the larger world Giffen looks at characteristics such as leadership in the community ethnic differences hierarchy of roles participation in organizations and aims and activities of young people Friesen's postscript provides a wider context to this study and an assessment of what these differences and commonalities meant to the province
