Reconfiguring Truth Postmodernism Science Studies And The Search For A New Model Of Knowledge:

Reconfiguring Truth Steven C. Ward, 1996 This refreshingly original book links the postmodern critique of notions such as reality and truth with approaches to knowledge found in science and technology studies STS a field also discontent with traditional epistemology Exploring STS approaches to knowledge such as actor network theory Ward forges a path through the impasse of the modernism vs postmodernism debate Reconfiguring Knowledge is an important work for social scientists and theorists philosophers historians and scholars of science and technology

The Truth about Nature Bram Büscher, 2020-12-15 How should we share the truth about the environmental crisis At a moment when even the most basic facts about ecology and the climate face contestation and contempt environmental advocates are at an impasse Many have turned to social media and digital technologies to shift the tide But what if their strategy is not only flawed but dangerous The Truth about Nature follows environmental actors as they turn to the internet to save nature It documents how conservation efforts are transformed through the political economy of platforms and the algorithmic feeds that have been instrumental to the rise of post truth politics Developing a novel account of post truth as an expression of power under platform capitalism Bram Büscher shows how environmental actors attempt to mediate between structural forms of platform power and the contingent histories and contexts of particular environmental issues Bringing efforts at wildlife protection in Southern Africa into dialogue with a sweeping analysis of truth and power in the twenty first century Büscher makes the case for a new environmental politics that radically reignites the art of speaking truth to power

The Historiography of the Chemical Revolution John G McEvoy, 2015-10-06 This study offers a critical survey of past and present interpretations of the Chemical Revolution designed to lend clarity and direction to the current ferment of views

Visual Cultures of Science Luc Pauwels, 2006 A new collection explores the complex role of visual representation in science

Technology and the Logic of American Racism Sarah E. Chinn, 2000-09-01 In this book Sarah E Chinn pulls together what seems to be opposite discourses the information driven languages of law and medicine and the subjective logics of racism to examine how racial identity has been constructed in the United States over the past century She examines a range of primary social case studies such as the American Red Cross lamentable decision to segregate the blood of black and white donors during World War II and its ramifications for American culture and more recent examples that reveal the racist nature of criminology such as the recent trial of O J Simpson Among several key American literary texts she looks at Mark Twain's Pudd'nhead Wilson a novel whose plot turns on issues of racial identity and which was written at a time when scientific and popular interest in evidence of the body such as fingerprinting was at a peak

Social Realism, Knowledge and the Sociology of Education Karl Maton, Rob Moore, 2011-11-03 This volume covers issues in the sociology of knowledge the educational system and policy professional autonomy vocational education educational research and teaching as well as the nature of such disciplines as cultural studies English science and the arts The chapters also directly address the nature of sociology of education itself The realist position developed in the book challenges two major currents of thought that have for a long time been prominent and influential in sociology and education postmodernism and progressivism constructivism This well edited collection of papers is provocative and original in that it represents a sustained collective critique that offers a genuine alternative to these current orthodoxies

Sociology as Method

Paul Dowling, 2009-01-01 Dowling is using the term forensics to refer to approaches to research that claim to uncover truths about the world that are somehow independent of the means of their uncovering For some time now such approaches have been widely regarded as naïve but it is not clear that the implications of this recognition have always been adequately or appropriately taken into account In attempting to do just that Dowling presents a mature exposition of his organisational language social activity method SAM in dialogue with a wide range of cultural settings texts and technologies SAM has been developed over a period of some twenty years via the transaction between a fundamental theoretical principle and empirical data This principle asserts that the sociocultural is to be understood in terms of strategic autopoietic action directed at the formation maintenance and destabilising of alliances and oppositions and the alliances and oppositions that are themselves emergent upon such action This anti forensic constructive description understands data texts not as products of generative structures that lie behind them but as instances of the organisational language SAM that will ultimately describe them and that is in a sense in front of them Dowling describes himself as a theory engineer The productivity of this work is in its potential to generate principled and articulated descriptions of empirical settings and texts new ways of looking at them not to direct but to interrogate other practices relating to these settings and texts to ask questions that would otherwise be left unasked The origins of SAM lie in the analysis of mathematics education texts in the late 1980s and early 1990s and one of the chapters in this volume is again concerned with mathematics and science education in the first part of the twenty first century Other settings that come under scrutiny include classrooms film art literature knowledge in various domains the internet and so forth The book also includes fundamental engagement with forensics in particular the work of and work inspired by Basil Bernstein Paul Dowling is Professor of Education at the Institute of Education University of London Before joining the Institute in 1987 he had taught mathematics in secondary schools in and around London His other publications include The Sociology of Mathematics Education Mathematical Myths Pedagogic Texts 1998 Falmer Press and Doing Research Reading Research Re interrogating education with Andrew Brown Routledge 1998 and 2009

Resistance to Science in Contemporary American Poetry Bryan Walpert, 2011-09-26 This book examines types of resistance in contemporary poetry to the authority of scientific knowledge tracing the source of these resistances to both their literary precedents and the scientific zeitgeists that helped to produce them Walpert argues that contemporary poetry offers a palimpsest of resistance using as case studies the poets Alison Hawthorne Deming Pattiann Rogers Albert Goldbarth and

Joan Retallack to trace the recapitulation of romantic arguments inherited from Keats Shelly and Coleridge which in turn were produced in part in response to Newtonian physics modernist arguments inherited from Eliot and Pound arguments influenced in part by relativity and quantum theory and postmodernist arguments arguments informed by post structuralist theory e g Barthes Derrida Foucault with affinities to arguments for the limitations of science in the philosophy sociology and rhetoric of science Some of these poems reveal the discursive ideologies of scientific language reveal in other words the performativity of scientific language In doing so these poems themselves can also be read as performative acts and therefore as forms of intervention rather than representation Reading Retallack alongside science studies scholar Karen Barad the book concludes by proposing that viewing knowledge as a form of intervention rather than representation offers a bridge between contemporary poetry and science

21st Century Sociology: A Reference Handbook Clifton D. Bryant, Dennis L. Peck, 2006-11-17 With this valuable handbook the editors have successfully synthesized a field that has expanded considerably in recent years M L Stark CHOICE Because the field of sociological inquiry is multi faceted in perspective and does subsume a variety of specialty interests the literature in this discipline has developed and proliferated in a near exponential fashion Sociology today has become so specialty driven in its research and theory agenda that the result is an enormous and complex body of sociological knowledge that is often considered to be unwieldy 21st Century Sociology A Reference Handbook provides a concise forum through which the vast array of knowledge accumulated particularly during the past three decades can be organized into a single definitive resource The two volumes of this Reference Handbook focus on the corpus of knowledge garnered in traditional areas of sociological inquiry as well as document the general orientation of the newer and currently emerging areas of sociological inquiry Key Features Provides a timely and comprehensive assessment of the 100 specialty fields of sociology with contributions by leading authorities in their area of expertise from the U S Canada Europe and Singapore Examines four distinct phases of development in the history of sociological inquiry a period of theoretical development the emphasis on methodological development and refinement the phase of specialization and a period that has taken representatives of the discipline into previously unexplored areas Addresses the various traditional subfields of sociology such as political sociology educational sociology rural sociology criminology occupational sociology and minority relations Explores important new evolving subfields such as environmental sociology sociology of sports and leisure military sociology medical sociology the sociology of food and eating and the sociology of emotions 21st Century Sociology presents the most comprehensive overview of modern sociology making it a must have resource for any academic library

Curriculum Studies: Curriculum forms David Scott, 2003 Planning Futures Philip Allmendinger, Mark Tewdwr-Jones, 2005-06-29 Planning theory is currently in a confused state as a consequence of a number of changes over the last ten years in planning practice and social and economic theory Even prior to these events planning theory was an uncertain discipline reflecting planning s precarious position between and resting upon a range of professional subject areas and philosophical roots Planning Futures is an attempt to pin down the constantly evolving landscape of planning theory and to chart a path through this fast changing field Planning Futures is an up to date reader on planning theory but adds something more to the subject area than a mere textbook The contributors have attempted to bridge theory and practice while putting forward new theoretical ideas By drawing upon examples from planning practice and case study scenarios the authors ensure that the work discusses planning theory within the context of present planning practice Case studies are drawn from an international arena from the UK Europe South Africa and Australia Literary Cartographies Robert T. Tally Jr.,2016-04-30 Exploring narrative mapping in a wide range of literary works ranging from medieval romance to postmodern science fiction this volume argues for the significance of spatiality in comparative literary studies Contributors demonstrate how a variety of narratives represent the changing social spaces of their world Higher Education in the UK and the US ,2014-05-15 Higher Education in the UK and the US Converging University Models in a Global Academic World edited by Sarah Pickard addresses the key similarities and differences in higher education between the two countries over the last thirty years in order to ascertain whether there exists a specific Anglo Saxon model This interdisciplinary book is divided into three thematic parts dealing with current fundamental issues in higher education within neoliberal Great Britain and the United States economics and marketisation of higher education access and admittance to universities and the student experience of higher education The contributors are all higher education specialists in diverse academic fields sociology political sciences public policy studies educational studies and history from either side of the Atlantic Contributors are Bahram Bekhradnia James C t Marie Agn s D tourbe John Halsey Magali Julian Kenneth O Brien Cristiana Olcese Anna Mountford Zimdars Sarah Pickard Chris Rust Clare Saunders Christine Soulas and Steven Ward Higher Education in the UK and the US Converging University Models in a Global Academic World is now available in paperback for individual customers Actor-Network Theory and Technology Innovation: Advancements and New Concepts Tatnall, Arthur,2010-11-30 Actor Network Theory and Technology Innovation Advancements and New Concepts provides a comprehensive look at the development of actor network theory itself as well as case studies of its use to assist in the explanation of various socio technical phenomena This book includes topics relating to technological innovation both those using actor network theory as an explanatory framework and those using other approaches It is an excellent source of information regarding ANT as an approach to technological innovation and its link to ICT Information Communication Technology The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 9, Twentieth-Century Historical, Philosophical and Psychological Perspectives Christa Knellwolf,Christopher Norris,Jessica Osborn,1989 This ninth volume in The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism presents a wide ranging survey of developments in literary criticism and theory during the last century Drawing on the combined expertise of a large team of specialist scholars it offers an authoritative account of the various movements of thought that have made the late twentieth century such a richly productive period in the history of criticism

The aim has been to cover developments which have had greatest impact on the academic study of literature along with background chapters that place those movements in a broader intellectual national and socio cultural perspective In comparison with Volumes Seven and Eight also devoted to twentieth century developments there is marked emphasis on the rethinking of historical and philosophical approaches which have emerged especially during the past two decades as among the most challenging areas of debate

International Handbook of Lifelong Learning David N. Aspin, Judith Chapman, Michael Hatton, Yukiko Sawano, 2012-12-06 Recent changes in the world effected by the transformations of information technology globalisation and the move towards a knowledge economy over the last thirty years have been as radical and fundamental as the changes resulting from the invention of the wheel and the printing press We are now living in a new age in which the demands are so complex so multifarious and so rapidly changing that the only way in which we shall be able to survive them is by committing to a process of individual communal and global learning throughout the lifespan of all of us A number of international bodies and agencies have taken cognisance of these transformations and the demands they impose upon societies and communities of the twenty first century and have developed and articulated policies intended to enable all citizens of the world in the twenty first century to face these challenges It is now a declared policy of many governments and international agencies that the only vehicle for such preparation is education education education and that preparing for the knowledge economy and the learning society of the future has to be a lifelong undertaking an investment in the future that is not restricted merely to the domain of economic advancement but also to those of social inclusion and personal growth Realising this policy makers across the international arena are grappling with the need to move from systems that emphasise education and training to the radically more unworked construct of lifelong learning In this volume the editors and authors analyse criticise and rework the ideas principles and theories underpinning policies and programs of lifelong learning re interpreting them in the light of examples of best practice found in a range of educating institutions around the world We believe that students of educational change and community development will find it useful and helpful to have available in this volumesome of the most up to date thinking on the chief concepts theories and values of increasing policy interest in lifelong learning together with a review of some significant examples of the different forms focuses and nexuses of thought and practice on this topic All this enables us to offer some policy recommendations and practical suggestions as to ways forward in the endeavour to make lifelong learning a reality for all

Simplifying Complexity George E. Yoos, 2015-01-01 Simplifying complexity explores how to eliminate ignorance which in the view of the author is the purpose of the sciences and technologies and their consequent developments More specifically the book deals with the plurality of the sciences and technologies It is about the way in which each of them develops around the prosthetics of printed languages and the models used as visual aids to help us create new modes of communication to understand and solve human problems Consequently the task is to simplify the complexity that we find in different sciences both social and physical In his collection of essays George E Yoos surveys a number of different models that have evolved from the innate biological forms of grammar logic and modes of orientation He investigates the evolution of socially constructed systems of numeracy and measurement that have evolved and developed in different languages for the use in scientific and technological communication He identifies methods derived from three distinct personal experiences the use of types of prosthetic mnemonic and attention controlling devices in order to yield simpler perspectives of complex states of affairs George E Yoos emeritus professor is a legend in the field of rhetoric Founder and editor of the Rhetoric Society Quarterly 1972 1985 author of Reframing Rhetoric 2007 Politics and Rhetoric 2009 and fellow of the Rhetoric Society of America

Critical Political Ecology Tim Forsyth, 2003 Describes new ways of looking at environmental science and politics and discusses the problems of formulating and implementing environmental policy particularly in the global arena and in developing countries Schoenberg, Wittgenstein and the Vienna Circle James Kenneth Wright, 2007 In 2006 Schoenberg Wittgenstein and the Vienna Circle received a Lewis Lockwood Award Finalist from the American Musicological Society for outstanding new books on musicological topics This study examines relativistic aspects of Arnold Schoenberg's harmonic and aesthetic theories in the light of a framework of ideas presented in the early writings of Ludwig Wittgenstein the logician philosopher of language and Schoenberg's contemporary and Austrian compatriot The author has identified correspondences between the writings of Schoenberg the early Wittgenstein the Tractatus Logico Philosophicus in particular and the Vienna Circle of philosophers on a wide range of topics and themes Issues discussed include the nature and limits of language musical universals theoretical conventionalism word to world correspondence in language the need for a fact and comparison based approach to art criticism and the nature of music theoretical formalism and mathematical modeling Schoenberg and Wittgenstein are shown to have shared a vision that is remarkable for its uniformity and balance one that points toward the reconciliation of the positivist relativist dualism that has dominated recent discourse in music theory Contrary to earlier accounts of Schoenberg's harmonic and aesthetic relativism this study identifies a solid epistemological core underlying his thought a view that was very much in step with Wittgenstein and the Vienna Circle and thereby with the most vigorous and pivotal developments in early twentieth century intellectual history
