Reconnecting Culture, Technology and Nature Mike Michael, 2000 This text elaborates a methodology through which new hybrid objects of study are creatively constructed tracing the ways the cultural the natural and the technological interweave in the production of order and disorder Exploring the Body S. Cunningham-Burley, K. Backett-Milburn, 2001-09-24 This volume explores diverse ways of researching and theorizing the body It draws together a range of empirical work on different themes each taking the body and its study as its central problematic It creatively combines contributions on disability illness scars sleep complementary medicine running as well as the lifecourse themes of childhood youth and death The different approaches to researching the body examined through these contributions include autobiography case studies interviews and What's Critical About Critical Realism? Frédéric Vandenberghe, 2013-10-01 What's Critical participant observation About Critical Realism Essays in Reconstructive Social Theory draws together 4 major articles that are situated at the intersection of philosophy and sociology Preceded by a general presentation of Bhaskar's work critical realism is used to reconstruct the generative structuralism of Pierre Bourdieu warn about the dangers of biocapitalism theorize about social movements and explore the hermeneutics of internal conversations Together the essays form a logical sequence that starts with a search for a solid conception of social structure through a realist critique of Bourdieu's rationalist epistemology proceeds to an ideology critique of posthumanism through an investigation of Actor Network Theory extends critical realism to social movements through an investigation of the constitution of collective subjectivities and engages in a sustained dialogue with Margaret Archer through an attempt to reconnect hermeneutics and pragmatism to critical realism The result is an ongoing dialogue between British critical realism French historical epistemology German critical theory and American pragmatism As suits a collection of essays in social theory this book will address a broad audience of sociologists philosophers social psychologists and anthropologists who are interested in contemporary social theory at the cutting edge Academics and advanced students who relate to critical realism and critical theory epistemology and philosophy of the social sciences hermeneutics and pragmatism or anyone else who follows the work of Roy Bhaskar Pierre Bourdieu Bruno Latour or Margaret Archer will find a keen interest in some of the theoretical questions the book raises The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Human Geography John A. Agnew, James S. Duncan, 2011-03-01 This volume provides an up to date authoritative synthesis of the discipline of human geography Unparalleled in scope the companion offers an indispensable overview to the field representing both historical and contemporary perspectives Edited and written by the world's leading authorities in the discipline Divided into three major sections Foundations the history of human geography from Ancient Greece to the late nineteenth century The Classics the roots of modern human geography Contemporary Approaches current issues and themes in human geography Each contemporary issue is examined by two contributors offering distinctive perspectives on the same theme Other People's Country Timothy Neale, Stephen Turner, 2018-02-02 Other People's

Country thinks through the entangled objects of law legislation policies institutions treaties and so on that govern waters and that make bodies of water lawful within settler colonial sites today Informed by the theoretical interventions of cosmopolitics and political ecology each opening up new approaches to questions of politics and the political the chapters in this book locate these insights within material settler colonial places rather than abstract structures of domination A claim to water whether by Indigenous peoples or settlers is not simply a claim to a resource It is a claim to knowledge and to the constitution of place and therefore in the terms of Isabelle Stengers to the continued constitution of the past present and future of real worlds Including contributions from the fields of anthropology cultural studies cultural geography critical legal studies and settler colonial studies this collection not only engages with issues of law water and entitlement in different national contexts including Australia Aotearoa New Zealand New Caledonia and the USA but also from diverse disciplinary and institutional contexts This book was originally published as a special issue of Settler Colonial Studies Organization A. Styhre, 2008-10-09 Drawing on a heterogeneous body of literature including art music and media theory as well as philosophical and historical studies of perception this book demonstrates that everyday work in organizations is strongly shaped by and embedded in human perception Reading the Everyday Joe Moran, 2005-11-16 Studying the work of important continental theorists Joe Moran explores the concrete sites and routines of everyday life and how they are represented through political discourse news media material culture photography reality TV and more Agenda for Global Crime Tim Hall, Vincenzo Scalia, 2019 This multidisciplinary collection of essays by leading international scholars explores many pressing issues related to global crime The book opens with essays that look across this diverse terrain and then moves on to consider specific areas including organised crime cyber crime war crimes terrorism state and private violence riots and political protest prisons sport and crime and counterfeit goods. The book emphasises the centrality of crime to the contemporary global world and mobilises diverse disciplinary positions to help understand and address this Wearable Utopias Kat Jungnickel, Ellen Fowles, Katja May, Nikki Pugh, 2024-09-24 A collection of thought provoking interviews with cutting edge designers who transform ordinary wearables into extraordinary sites of personal expression public engagement and radical political action Wearable Utopias explores the promise of wearables for reimagining social and political problems of today for diverse and inclusive worlds for tomorrow Kat Jungnickel Ellen Fowles Katja May and Nikki Pugh entangle science and technology studies gender studies and cultural studies with contemporary issues to highlight the role wearables can play in forging alternative paths through conventional landscapes Featuring twenty three interviews with new and established international designers this collection covers everything from coats designed to protect digital privacy to high performing jeans that combat air pollution and to hi vis cyclewear as a response to urban harassment. The interviews in Wearable Utopias are organized into six key themes addressing a selection of pressing civic issues expanding wearables that push physical social and political boundaries moving wearables that enable participation in a wider range of sport and activities concealing wearables that defend privacy or keep secrets connecting wearables that link individuals to large scale issues leaking wearables that challenge the idea that urinating and menstruating are problematic or taboo and working wearables that address inequalities in the workplace Wearable Utopias offers insight and inspiration for students researchers designers and anyone making things to wear who is frustrated with daily inequities and normative limitations and wants to do things differently This book is part of the European Research Council funded project Politics of Patents POP Reimagining Citizenship via Clothing Inventions hosted at Goldsmiths University of London led by Kat Jungnickel with Ellen Fowles Research Assistant Katja May Postdoctoral Fellow and Nikki Pugh Research Assistant Wearable Utopias offers insight and inspiration for students researchers designers and anyone making things to wear who is frustrated with daily inequities and normative limitations and wants to do things differently Defining Technological Literacy J. Dakers, 2006-04-29 Never before have we so needed a new literacy that will enable us to meaningfully participate in the rapidly evolving technologically mediated world This collection offers a solid basis for defining this new technological literacy by bringing together theoretical work encompassing philosophy design and pedagogy The SAGE Handbook of Power Mark Haugaard, 2009-03-12 Power is arguably one of the key concepts within the social sciences The SAGE Handbook of Power is the first touchstone for any student or researcher wishing to initiate themselves in the state of the art Internationally acclaimed Stewart R Clegg and Mark Haugaard have joined forces to select a collection of papers written by scholars with global reputations for excellence These papers bridge different conceptual and theoretical positions and draw on many disciplines including politics sociology and cultural studies. The sweep and richness of the resulting handbook will help readers contextualise and grow their understanding of this dynamic and important subject area The Routledge International Handbook of More-than-Human Studies Adrian Franklin, 2023-11-24 This volume provides a state of the art overview of the field of more than human studies bringing together contemporary and essential content from leading authors across the discipline With attention to the intellectual history of the field its developments and extensions its applications and its significance to contemporary society it presents empirical studies and theoretical work covering long established disciplines as well as new writing on art history politics planning architecture research methodology and ethics An elaboration of the various dimensions of more than human studies The Routledge International Handbook of More than Human Studies constitutes essential reading for anyone studying or researching in this field Making Meaning Out of Mountains Mark C.J. Stoddart, 2012-05-01 Mountains bear the imprint of human activity Scars from logging and surface mining sit alongside national parks and ski lodges Although the environmental effects of extractive industries are well known skiing is more likely to bring to mind images of luxury wealth and health Drawing on interviews field observations and media analysis Stoddart reveals the multiple often conflicting meanings attached to skiing by skiers mass media First Nations industry leaders and environmentalists in British Columbia Stoddart challenges us to reflect on skiing s negative effects as he exposes how certain groups came to be viewed as the natural inhabitants and legitimate managers of mountain environments Remaking Participation Jason Chilvers, Matthew Kearnes, 2015-11-02 Changing relations between science and democracy and controversies over issues such as climate change energy transitions genetically modified organisms and smart technologies have led to a rapid rise in new forms of public participation and citizen engagement While most existing approaches adopt fixed meanings of participation and are consumed by questions of method or critiquing the possible limits of democratic engagement this book offers new insights that rethink public engagements with science innovation and environmental issues as diverse emergent and in the making Bringing together leading scholars on science and democracy working between science and technology studies political theory geography sociology and anthropology the volume develops relational and co productionist approaches to studying and intervening in spaces of participation New empirical insights into the making construction circulation and effects of participation across cultures are illustrated through examples ranging from climate change and energy to nanotechnology and mundane technologies from institutionalised deliberative processes to citizen led innovation and activism and from the global north to global south This new way of seeing participation in science and democracy opens up alternative paths for reconfiguring and remaking participation in more experimental reflexive anticipatory and responsible ways This ground breaking book is essential reading for scholars and students of participation across the critical social sciences and beyond as well as those seeking to build more transformative participatory practices Cargomobilities Thomas Birtchnell, Satya Savitzky, John Urry, 2015-04-10 Objects and materials are on the move like never before often at astonishing speeds and along hidden routeways This collection opens to social scientific scrutiny the various systems which move objects about the world examining their fateful implications for many people and places Offering texts from key thinkers the book presents case studies from around the world which report on efforts to establish maintain disrupt or transform the cargo mobility systems which have grown so dramatically in scale and significance in recent decades The Routledge Handbook of Mobilities Peter Adey, David Bissell, Kevin Hannam, Peter Merriman, Mimi Sheller, 2014-01-10 The 21st century seems to be on the move perhaps even more so than the last With cheap travel and more than two billion cars projected worldwide for 2030 And yet all this mobility is happening incredibly unevenly at different paces and intensities with varying impacts and consequences to the extent that life on the move might be actually quite difficult to sustain environmentally socially and ethically As a result mobility has become a keyword of the social sciences delineating a new domain of concepts approaches methodologies and techniques which seek to understand the character and quality of these trends This Handbook explores and critically evaluates the debates approaches controversies and methodologies inherent to this rapidly expanding discipline It brings together leading specialists from range of backgrounds and geographical regions to provide an authoritative and comprehensive overview of this field conveying cutting edge research in an accessible way whilst giving detailed grounding in the evolution of past debates on mobilities It illustrates disciplinary trends and pathways from migration studies and transport history to communications research featuring methodological innovations and developments and conceptual histories from feminist theory to tourist studies It explores the dominant figures of mobility from children to soldiers and the mobility impaired the disparate materialities of mobility such as flows of water and waste to the vectors of viruses key infrastructures such as logistics systems to the informal services of megacity slums and the important mobility events around which our world turns from going on vacation to the commute to the catastrophic disruption of mobility systems. The text is forward thinking projecting the future of mobilities as they might be lived transformed and studied and possibly brought to an end International in focus the book transcends disciplinary and national boundaries to explore mobilities as they are understood from different perspectives different fields countries and standpoints This is an invaluable resource for all those with an interest in mobility across More-than-Human Sociology O. Pyyhtinen, 2016-02-09 More than Human disciplinary boundaries and areas of study Sociology is a call for a bolder more creative sociology Olli Pyyhtinen argues that to make sociology responsive to life in the 21st century we need a new sociological imagination one that addresses connectivity understands the world in which we live as both a human and non human world and is sensitive to the multiple scales on which things exist A fresh and innovative take on the promise of sociology this book will appeal to scholars and students both within sociology and the social sciences Archaeology, History and Science Marcos Martinon-Torres, Thilo Rehren, 2016-09-16 Using a combination of more broadly historical archaeological and scientific data is not an uncommon research practice Rarely found however is a more overt critical consideration of how these sources of information relate to each other or explicit attempts at developing successful strategies for interdisciplinary work The authors in this volume provide such critical perspectives examining materials from a wide range of cultures and time periods to demonstrate the added value of combining in their research seemingly incompatible or even contradictory sources Case studies include explorations of the symbolism of flint knives in ancient Egypt the meaning of cuneiform glass texts medieval metallurgical traditions and urban archaeology at industrial sites This volume is noteworthy as it offers novel contributions to specific topics as well as fundamental reflections on the problems and potentials of the interdisciplinary study of the human past Accumulation Jennifer Gabrys, Gay Hawkins, Mike Michael, 2013-07-24 From food punnets to credit cards plastic facilitates every part of our daily lives It has become central to processes of contemporary socio material living Universalised and abstracted it is often treated as the passive object of political deliberations or a problematic material demanding human management But in what ways might a politics of plastics deal with both its specific manifestation in particular artefacts and events and its complex dispersed heterogeneity Accumulation explores the vitality and complexity of plastic This interdisciplinary collection focuses on how the presence and recalcitrance of plastic reveals the relational exchanges across human and synthetic materialities It captures multiplicity by engaging with the processual materialities or plasticity of plastic Through a series of themed essays on plastic materialities plastic economies plastic bodies and new articulations of plastic the editors and chapter authors examine specific aspects of plastic in action How are multiple plastic realities enacted What are their effects This book will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology human and cultural geography environmental studies consumption studies science and technology studies design and political theory Re-crafting Rationalization Simon Locke, 2016-03-23 Re crafting Rationalization contributes to debates relating to the public understanding of science regarding the conceptualization of the relationship between science and the public It challenges the prevailing science centred or top down framework that currently informs notions of public engagement and knowledge transfer offering an alternative that remains firmly grounded in the discourse of classical social theory By proposing an alternative version of rationalization to the standard interpretation of Weber s disenchantment thesis this book establishes the public understanding of science as a matter of fundamental sociological concern As such it redefines this field to emphasize public meanings of science engaging with a range of topics of major interest to the public and popular meaning of science including science and religion science fiction and fantasy fringe science and media representations of science Combining rhetorical analysis with ethnomethodology and membership categorization analysis the book outlines the basis of a new approach to the sociology of knowledge in the light of which Weber s rationalization thesis is radically re crafted in relation to studies of scientists discourse the rhetoric of science popularization and public usages of science This re crafted rationalization is applied in a series of detailed empirical studies of enchanted science creationism and intelligent design Scientology and reflexive spirituality superhero comics and mundane mysteries Fortean discourse conspiracy theory and media representations of the scientist in the case of Jack the Ripper Re crafting Rationalization therefore redresses a significant shortcoming in contemporary social theory which currently overlooks or misrepresents important public meanings of science whilst excluding popular culture from attention With profound implications for the ways in which we make sense of developments involving science this book will be of interest not only to sociologists and social theorists but also to those interested in popular culture and subcultures and the history philosophy and sociology of science
