Reconstructing Architecture Thomas A. Dutton, Lian Hurst Mann, Reconstructing Architecture Thomas A. Dutton, Lian Hurst Mann, 1996 Reconstructing Architecture was first published in 1996 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions To create architecture is an inherently political act yet its nature as a social practice is often obscured beneath layers of wealth and privilege The contributors to this volume question architecture's complicity with the status quo moving beyond critique to outline the part architects are playing in building radical social movements and challenging dominant forms of power The making of architecture is instrumental in the construction of our identities our differences the world around us much of what we know of institutions the distribution of power social relations and cultural values is mediated by the built environment Historically architecture has constructed the environments that house the dominant culture Yet as the essays in Reconstructing Architecture demonstrate there exists a strong tradition of critical practice in the field one that attempts to alter existing social power relations Engaging the gap between modernism and postmodernism each chapter addresses an oppositional discourse that has developed within the field and then reconstructs it in terms of a new social project feminism social theory environmentalism cultural studies race and ethnic studies and critical theory The activists and scholars writing here provide a clarion call to architects and other producers of culture challenging them to renegotiate their political allegiances and to help reconstruct a viable democratic life in the face of inexorable forces driving economic growth destroying global ecology homogenizing culture and privatizing the public realm Reconstructing Architecture reformulates the role of architecture in society as well as its capacity to further a progressive social transformation Contributors Sherry Ahrentzen U of Wisconsin Milwaukee Bradford C Grant California Polytechnic State U San Luis Obispo Richard Ingersoll Rice U Margaret Soltan George Washington U Anthony Ward U of Auckland New Zealand Thomas A Dutton is an architect and professor of architecture at Miami University Ohio He is editor of Voices in Architectural Education 1991 and is associate editor of the Journal of Architectural Education Lian Hurst Mann is an architect and editor of Architecture California A founding member of the Labor Community Strategy Center in Los Angeles she is editor of its bilingual quarterly Ahora Now and a coauthor of Reconstructing Los Angeles from the Bottom Up 1993 Reconstructing Architecture for the Twenty-first Century Anthony Jackson, 1995-01-01 Jackson exposes the inadequacies of old conceptions of architecture as embodying metaphysical properties and of architects as the sole keepers of this esoteric knowledge He challenges architects to acknowledge and celebrate building as an expression of the ideals and values of the broader based classless communities to which they now belong Reconstructing Architecture for the Twenty-first Century Anthony Jackson, 1995 Recoding Architecture Pedagogy Nathaniel Coleman, 2025-03-25 Disabled by chasing curricular criteria required for accreditation and professional registration architecture schools are mostly compliance and reproduction

machines serving the building industry As a corrective Recoding Architecture Pedagogy Insurgency and Invention asserts disciplinary knowledge over professional skills as the proper aim and focus of architecture education The insurgent pedagogy introduced subverts architecture and its teaching s capture by capitalism s dominant modes of production and consumption to reveal unexpected tactics for enlarging possibilities Grounded in architecture histories and theories philosophy and anarchism s emphasis on use and dissensus combined with PUNK s DIY ethos design studio emphasis on technicity is upended to reveal the subversive aim of intensifying tensions between doomed desires for artistic autonomy and intrinsic burdens of use constituting architecture as a discipline instead of seeking resolution some neutral middle ground or escape into banal practice or paper palaces By concentrating on what architecture education suppresses tensions disavows its capture within the building industry or affirms commercial practice over disciplinary knowledge Recoding Architecture Pedagogy Insurgency and Invention cracks open horizons of possibility by showing how intensifying agonistic relationships between the myriad binaries that characterize architecture and its teaching is generative in ways conciliatory synthesis cathartic resolution and uncritical affirmation are not

Queering Architecture Marko Jobst, Naomi Stead, 2023-01-26 Featuring contributions from a range of significant voices in the field this volume renews the conversation around what it means to speak of the queer in the context of architecture and offers a fresh take on the methodological and epistemological challenges this poses to the discipline of architectural theory Architecture as a discipline a profession and an applied practice is always subordinate to its own conceptual framework which is one of orderliness It refers to buildings but also to infrastructures of thought and knowledge to conventions and taxonomies to structures of governance hierarchies of power and systems of administration How then can one look at queering architectural discourse when the very term queer celebrated for its elusive nature resists and attacks such order Divided into four subsections the essays in this anthology each pursue a distinct line of inquiry methods practices spaces and pedagogies in order to help particularize the proposed queering of architecture They demonstrate the paradoxical nature of the endeavour from a diverse range of perspectives from questions of mapping queer theory in architecture to issues of queer architectural archives or lack thereof to non Western challenges to the very term queer and the queering of basic assumptions across affiliated disciplines Queering Architecture not only provides a bold challenge to the normative methods employed in architectural discourse but also addresses how establishing queer methodologies is a paradox in itself

Women, Practice, Architecture Naomi Stead, 2016-01-08 The image of the architect is undeniably gendered While the male architect might be celebrated as the ideal man in Hollywood romantic comedies blessed with practicality and creativity in equal measure to impeccable taste and an enviable lifestyle the image of the woman architect is not so clear cut While women have been practicing and excelling in architecture for more than a hundred years their professional identity as constructed in the media is complex and sometimes contradictory This book explores the working lives and aspirations of women in architectural practice but more than this it explores how popular media newspapers magazines and websites serve to define and describe who a woman architect should be what she should look like and how she should behave Looking further into the way that professional characteristics are reinforced through awards like the Pritzker Prize the book demonstrates how idealised characteristics such as sensitivity and vision are seen to be neither entirely masculine nor feminine but instead a complex hybrid owing much to historic concepts of genius Drawing on history sociology media analysis and feminist theories of architectural practice the book will be of interest to all of those who seek to better understand the image and identity of the architect This book was published as a double special issue of Architectural Theory Review

Defining Landscape Democracy Shelley Egoz, Karsten Jørgensen, Deni Ruggeri, 2018-06-29 This stimulating book explores theories conceptual frameworks and cultural approaches with the purpose of uncovering a cross cultural understanding of landscape democracy a concept at the intersection of landscape democracy and spatial justice The authors of Defining Landscape Democracy address a number of questions that are critical to the contemporary discourse on the right to landscape Why is democracy relevant to landscape How do we democratise landscape How might we achieve landscape and spatial justice

From Craft to Profession Mary N. Woods, 2023-04-28 This is the first in depth study of how the architectural profession emerged in early American history Mary Woods dispels the prevailing notion that the profession developed under the leadership of men formally schooled in architecture as an art during the late nineteenth century Instead she cites several instances in the early 1800s of craftsmen builders who shifted their identity to that of professional architects While struggling to survive as designers and supervisors of construction projects these men organized professional societies and worked for architectural education appropriate compensation and accreditation In such leading architectural practitioners as B Henry Latrobe Alexander J Davis H H Richardson Louis Sullivan and Stanford White Woods sees collaborators partners merchandisers educators and lobbyists rather than inspired creators She documents their contributions as well as those far less familiar of women architects and people of color in the profession s early days Woods s extensive research yields a remarkable range of archival materials correspondence among carpenters 200 year old lawsuits architect client spats the organization of craft guilds apprenticeships university programs and correspondence schools and the structure of architectural practices labor unions and the building industry In presenting a more accurate composite of the architectural profession s history Woods lays a foundation for reclaiming the profession s past and recasting its future Her study will appeal not only to architects but also to historians sociologists and readers with an interest in architecture s place in America today This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1999 This is the first in depth study of how the architectural profession emerged in early American history Mary Woods dispels the prevailing notion that the profession developed under the leadership of men formally schooled in architecture as an art during the 1960s and 1970s. Signal Digitization and Reconstruction in Digital Radios Yefim Poberezhskiy, Gennady Poberezhskiy, 2018-12-31 This comprehensive resource provides the latest information on digitization and reconstruction of analog signals in digital radios. Readers learn how to conduct comprehensive analysis, concisely describe the major signal processing procedures carried out in the radios, and demonstrate the dependence of these procedures on the quality of digital reconstruction. The book presents and analyzes the most promising and theoretically sound ways to improve the characteristics of digital radio circuits and illustrates the influence of these improvements on the capabilities of digital radios. The book is intended to bridge the gap that exists between theorists and practical engineers developing digital radio techniques by introducing new signal transmission and reception methods that can effectively utilize the unique capabilities offered by novel digitization and reconstruction techniques.

The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory C. Greig Crysler, Stephen Cairns, Hilde Heynen, 2012-01-20 Offers an intense scholarly experience in its comprehensiveness, its variety of voices, and its formal organization. The editors took a risk, experimented, and have delivered a much needed resource that upends the status quo. Architectural Histories, journal of the European Architectural History Network, architectural theory interweaves interdisciplinary understandings with different practices, intentions, and ways of knowing. This handbook provides a lucid and comprehensive introduction to this challenging and shifting terrain and will be of great interest to students, academics, and practitioners alike. Professor Iain Borden, UCL Bartlett School of Architecture. In this collection, architectural theory expands outward to interact with adjacent discourses such as sustainability, conservation, spatial practices, virtual technologies, and more. We have in The Handbook of Architectural Theory an example of the extreme generosity of architectural theory. It is a volume that designers and scholars of many stripes will welcome. K. Michael Hays, Eliot Noyes, Professor of Architectural Theory, Harvard University. The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory documents and builds upon the most innovative developments in architectural theory over the last two decades. Bringing into dialogue a range of geographically, institutionally, and historically competing positions, it examines and explores parallel debates in related fields. The book is divided into eight sections: Power, Difference, Embodiment, Aesthetics, Pleasure, Excess, Nation, World, Spectacle, History, Memory, Tradition, Design, Production, Practice, Science, Technology, Virtuality, Nature, Ecology, Sustainability, City, Metropolis, Territory. Creating openings for future lines of inquiry and establishing the basis for new directions for education, research, and practice, the book is organized around specific case studies to provide a critical interpretive and speculative enquiry into the relevant debates in architectural theory.

Professing Rhetoric Frederick J. Antczak, Cinda Coggins, Geoffrey D. Klinger, 2005-04-11 Representing current theory and research in rhetoric, this volume brings together scholarship from a variety of orientations: theoretical, critical, historical, and pedagogical. Some contributions cover work that has previously been silenced or unrecognized, including Native American, African American, Latino, and women's rhetorics. Others explore rhetoric's relationship to performance and to the body, or to revising canons, stases, topoi, and pisteis. Still others are reworking the rhetorical lexicon to comprise contemporary theory Among these diverse interests rhetoricians find common themes and share intellectual and pedagogical enterprises that hold them together even as their institutional situations keep them apart Topics discussed in this collection include Rhetoric as figurality comparative and contrastive rhetorics rhetoric and gender and rhetorics of science and technology Rhetoric and reconceptions of the public sphere rhetoric and public memory and rhetorics of globalization and social change including issues of race ethnicity and nationalism Rhetoric's institutionalized place in the academy in relation to other humanities and to the interpretive social sciences and The place of rhetoric in the formation of departments and the development of pedagogy With its origins in the 2000 Rhetoric Society of America RSA conference this volume represents the range and vitality of current scholarship in rhetoric The conversations contained herein indicate that professing rhetoric is at the turn of the millennium an intellectual activity that engages with and helps formulate the most important public and scholarly questions of today As such it will be engaging reading for scholars and students and is certain to provoke further thought discussion and exploration

Unplanned Visitors Olivier Vallerand, 2022-03-30 Sexuality and gender have long been influential in understanding the construction of domestic space its meanings often revealing a binary division of private and public female and male By reconstructing the foundation of queer critiques of space and by analyzing the representation of domesticity in contemporary art and architecture Unplanned Visitors shows the blurring of private and public that can occur in any domestic space and explores the potential of queer theory for understanding and designing the built environment Olivier Vallerand investigates how queer critiques building on pioneering feminist work question the relation between identity and architecture and highlight normative constructs underlying domestic spaces He draws out a genealogy of queer space in theoretical discourse in architecture studying projects by Mark Robbins Joel Sanders J Mayer H Elmgreen Dragset Andr's Jaque and MYCKET among others These works blur the traditional borders between architecture and art to emphasize the tensions between private and public and their impact on assumptions about domestic space and family structure The challenges in moving from experimental installations to built environments suggest how designers must acknowledge and respond to the social contexts that shape architecture rethinking how domestic spaces can be designed to allow everyone to better manage the expression of their self identification through their living environments Unplanned Visitors poses a challenge to traditional architectural theory and history but also suggests a renewed and more inclusive ethics whereby designers explicitly address social and political power structures The potential of a queer approach to architectural design history theory and education is precisely to enact a method that creates more inclusive buildings and safer neighbourhoods for everyone The Form of Cities Alexander R. Cuthbert, 2008-04-15 The Form of Cities offers readers a considered theoretical introduction to the art of designing cities Demonstrates that cities are replete with symbolic values collective memory association and conflict Proposes a new theoretical understanding of urban design based in political economy Demonstrates different ways of conceptualising the city whether through aesthetics or the prism of gender for example Written in an engaging and jargon free style but retains a sophisticated interpretative edge Complements Designing Cities by the same author Blackwell 2003

Inclusive Urbanization Krishna Shrestha, Hemant Ojha, Phil McManus, Anna Rubbo, Krishna Kumar Dhote, 2014-07-25 How do we include and represent all people in cities As the world rapidly urbanizes and climate change creates global winners and losers understanding how to design cities that provide for all their citizens is of the utmost importance Inclusive Urbanization attempts to not only provide meaningful practical guidance to urban designers managers and local actors but also create a definition of inclusion that incorporates strategies bigger than the welfare state and tactics that bring local actors and the state into meaningful dialogue Written by a team of experienced academics designers and NGO professionals Inclusive Urbanization shows how urbanization policy and management can be used to make more inclusive climate resilient cities through a series of 18 case studies in South Asia By creating a model of urban life and processes that takes into account social spatial cultural regulatory and economic dimensions the book finds a way to make both the processes and outcomes of urban design representative of all of the city's inhabitants Design for Sustainability Janis

Birkeland, 2012-05-04 With radical and innovative design solutions everyone could be living in buildings and settlements that are more like gardens than cargo containers and that purify air and water generate energy treat sewage and produce food at lower cost Birkeland introduces systems design thinking that cuts across academic and professional boundaries and the divide between social and physical sciences to move towards a transdisciplinary approach to environmental and social problem solving This sourcebook is useful for teaching as each topic within the field of environmental management and social change has pairs of short readings providing diverse perspectives to compare contrast and debate Design for Sustainability presents examples of integrated systems design based on ecological principles and concepts and drawn from the foremost designers in the fields of industrial design materials housing design urban planning and transport landscape and permaculture and energy and resource management
