Recorder Magic David Moses, Jane Sebba, 2001 A tutor for beginner recorder players The British Catalogue of Music, 2004 Vivaldi's Music for Flute and Recorder Michael Talbot, 2017-07-05 Federico Maria Sardelli writes from the perspective of a professional baroque flautist and recorder player as well as from that of an experienced and committed scholar in order to shed light on the bewildering array of sizes and tunings of the recorder and transverse flute families as they relate to Antonio Vivaldi's compositions Sardelli draws copiously on primary documents to analyse and place in context the capable and surprisingly progressive instrumental technique displayed in Vivaldi's music The book includes a discussion of the much disputed chronology of Vivaldi's works drawing on both internal and external evidence Each known piece by him in which the flute or the recorder appears is evaluated fully from historical biographical technical and aesthetic standpoints This book is designed to appeal not only to Vivaldi scholars and lovers of the composer's music but also to players of the two instruments students of organology and those with an interest in late baroque music in general Vivaldi is a composer who constantly springs surprises as even today new pieces are discovered or old ones reinterpreted Much has happened since Sardelli's book was first published in Italian and this new English version takes full account of all these new discoveries and developments The reader will be left with a much fuller picture of the composer and his times and the knowledge and insights gained from minutely examining his music for these two wind instruments will be found to have a wider relevance for his work as a whole Generous music examples and illustrations bring the book's arguments to life British Catalogue of Music, 1960 The Catalogue of Printed Music in the British Library to 1980 British Library.
