expertly argues that in the current world crises it is necessary to recover a more holistic vision of development that creates a vocabulary linking more technical and predominantly economic aspects of development with more humanistic and ecological goals Any conception of post capitalist society he argues requires cultural as well as economic and political dimensions

The Economics of UN Peacekeeping Nadège Sheehan, 2011-07-25 Peacekeeping is a security concept that is very representative of the current interventionism multilateralism human rights and humanitarian ideas UN peacekeeping plays an important role in international security and includes various activities that go beyond the original roles assigned to UN armed forces e.g humanitarian aid election supervision disarmament mine clearance civilian protection and peacebuilding The problem is to define the economic efficiency of these operations and to develop some recommendations in the context of an economic globalization process Although UN peacekeeping has shortcomings it must be considered essential for organizing and defending the world politico economic order UN peacekeeping is a political activity but its production strongly depends on nations economic considerations Governments make political decisions that also take into account the economic gains they expect to obtain from their contribution to any specific mission With low means and inadequate strategies to meet the challenges UN peacekeeping must pay particular attention to resolving the problems of free riding and of prisoner's dilemma in contributions that delay deployments and create significant financial problems Understanding how peacekeeping can be most cost effectively carried out while considering the importance of legitimacy in interventions is essential This book believes that regional organizations can ease the UN's financial responsibility by managing conflicts in their regions But to be most effective they must involve the UN in their interventions This book also emphasizes UN peacekeeping trust funds as the key to better financial effectiveness It strongly recommends that NATO be empowered by the UN with the role of global peace police and proposes the establishment of a UN high ranking team of international specialists in peacekeeping issues This research should be of interest to students and researchers looking at international and political economics as well as international relations defence security and peace studies Political Economy of

Statebuilding Mats Berdal, 2017-07-05 This volume examines and evaluates the impact of international statebuilding interventions on the political economy of post conflict countries over the past 20 years While statebuilding today is typically discussed in the context of peacebuilding and stabilisation operations the current phase of interest in external interventions to re build and strengthen governmental institutions can be traced back to the good governance policies of the International Financial Institutions IFIs in the early 1990s These sought political changes and improvements in the quality of governance in countries that were subject to or were seeking support under IFI designed structural adjustment programmes The focus of this book is specifically on state building efforts in conflict affected countries countries that are emerging or have recently emerged from periods of war and violent conflict The interventions covered in the present volume fall into three broad and overlapping categories International administrations and transformative occupations East Timor Iraq and Kosovo Complex peace operations Afghanistan Burundi Haiti and Sudan Governance and state building programmes conducted in the context of economic assistance Georgia and Macedonia This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention post conflict reconstruction political economy international organisations and IR Security Studies in general

Transforming conflict through social and economic development Sandra Buchanan, 2016-05-16 Transforming conflict through social and economic development examines lessons learned from the Northern Ireland and Border Counties conflict transformation process through social and economic development and their consequent impacts and implications for practice and policymaking with a range of functional recommendations produced for other regions emerging from and seeking to transform violent conflict It provides for the first time a comprehensive assessment of the region's transformation activity largely amongst grassroots actors enabled by a number of specific funding programmes namely the International Fund for Ireland Peace I II and III and INTERREG I II and IIIA These programmes have been responsible for a huge increase in grassroots practice which to date has attracted virtually no academic analysis this book seeks to fill this gap In focusing on the politics of the socioeconomic activities that underpinned the elite negotiations of the peace process key theoretical transformation concepts are firstly explored followed by an examination of the social and economic context of Northern Ireland and the border counties The three programmes and their impacts are then assessed before considering what policy lessons can be learned and what recommendations can be made for practice This is underpinned by a range of semi structured interviews and the author's own experience as a project promoter through these programmes in the border counties for more than a decade The book will be essential reading for students practitioners and policymakers in the fields of peace and conflict studies conflict transformation peacebuilding post agreement reconstruction and the political economy of conflict and those interested in contemporary developments in the Northern Ireland peace process Jus Post Bellum Carsten Stahn, Jennifer S. Easterday, Jens Iverson, 2014-02 Jus post bellum is the body of international legal norms and rules of international law that applies to a post conflict situation as it moves to a status of peace This book provides a detailed legal analysis of all aspects of jus post bellum and uses case studies to show its relevance to the reality of situations on the ground

Labor Based Training Model for Feeder Roads Arthur George Theusch, 2009 Female Ex-Combatants, Empowerment, and Reintegration Michanne Steenbergen, 2022-02-24 Female Ex Combatants Empowerment and Reintegration investigates the role of United Nations led Disarmament Demobilization and Reintegration DDR programs in undermining female ex combatants empowerment The participation of female combatants in conflict has increasingly been recognized in feminist literatures and in policies and programs concerned with reintegrating ex combatants and building peace This has illustrated that female ex combatants often experience empowerment through their role as combatant however this empowerment is often lost upon reintegration UN led DDR plays an important role in the broader peacebuilding process as it is one of the largest interventions and directly aims to reintegrate ex combatants into civilian life This book draws on extensive field research and interviews with female ex combatants and DDR officials in Liberia and Nepal to develop a nuanced and comprehensive picture of female ex combatants empowerment and how this is undermined by DDR Through reconceptualized frameworks of empowerment and an emancipatory peace the book explores the pivotal role that DDR programs play in undermining female ex combatants empowerment The author argues that this is detrimental to peacebuilding because DDR officials and documentation narrate female ex combatants in limited and gendered ways which reproduces gendered inequalities and define how female ex combatants should behave This book will be of great interest to scholars and practitioners working on gender conflict peace security and development Peace Operations After 11

September 2001 Thierry Tardy, 2004-07-31 This book explores the possible consequences of the events of 11 September 2001 and of the fight against terrorism the way peace operations are perceived and conducted and the way that states international organizations such as NATO or the EU and non state actors consider these operations The 11 September attacks illustrate the widening of the security agenda the persistence of instability and the need to deal with it in both a preventive and a curative way The events have had a major impact on US foreign and defence policies on security policies on the hierarchy of priorities and US views of peace operations around the world This book shows that these different elements mean that the international environment of peace operations is likely to be modified while the local environment has remained largely unchanged Truth Recovery and Transitional Justice Iosif Kovras, 2014-05-16 This book investigates why some societies defer transitional justice issues after successful democratic consolidation Despite democratisation the exhumation of mass graves containing the victims from the violence in Cyprus 1963 1974 and the Spanish civil war 1936 1939 was delayed until the early 2000s when both countries suddenly decided to revisit the past Although this contradicts the actions of other countries such as South Africa Bosnia and Guatemala where truth recovery for disappeared missing persons was a central element of the transition to peace and democracy Cyprus and Spain are not alone this is an increasing trend among countries trying to come to terms with past violence Truth Recovery and Transitional Justice considers the case studies of Spain and Cyprus and explores three interrelated issues First the book examines which factors can explain prolonged silence on the issue of missing persons in transitional settings It then goes on to explore the transformation of victims groups from opponents of truth recovery to vocal pro reconciliation pressure groups and examines the circumstances in which it is better to tie victims rights to an overall political settlement Finally the author goes on to compare Spain and Cyprus with Greece a country that remains resistant to post transitional justice norms This book will be of interest to students of transitional justice human rights peace and conflict studies and security studies in general The Order of Victimhood Sarah E. Jankowitz, 2018-10-03 This book explores how the construction and contestation of victims in societies emerging from conflict impact processes of peacebuilding It locates its inquiry in Northern Ireland where highly politicized unresolved narratives of violence and a so called hierarchy of victims illuminate inherent paradoxes of victimhood in intergroup conflict The author critiques how mechanisms designed to address the legacy of conflict often reify exclusive victim and perpetrator identities and obscure complex harm Adopting an interdisciplinary lens the book examines how the image of the ideal victim interacts with intergroup processes in a polarizing and intractable victim perpetrator paradigm The analysis of these issues in Northern Ireland suggests that exclusive policies and mechanisms reinforce rather than repair societal divisions and that inclusive complex approaches to victimhood are necessary to build sustainable peace This book will be of particular interest to scholars of peace studies transitional justice and criminology How Peace Operations Work Jeni Whalan, 2013-12-12 This book proposes a new approach to studying the effectiveness of peace operations It asks not whether peace operations work or why but how when a peace operation achieves its goals what causal processes are at work By discovering how peace operations work this new approach offers five distinctive contributions First it studies peace operations through a local lens examining their interactions with actors in host societies rather than their genesis in the politics and institutions of the international realm In doing so it highlights the centrality of local compliance and cooperation to a peace operation's effectiveness Second the book structures a framework for explaining how peace operations can shape the behaviour of local actors in order to obtain greater cooperation That framework distinguishes three dimensions of a peace operation's power coercion inducement and legitimacy and illuminates their effects The third contribution is to highlight the contribution of local legitimacy to a peace operation's effectiveness and identify the means by which an operation can be locally legitimized Fourth the new power legitimacy framework is applied to study two peace operations in depth the United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia UNTAC and the Regional Assistance Mission to Solomon Islands RAMSI Finally the book concludes by examining the implications of this new approach for practice and identifying a set of policy reforms to help peace operations work better The book argues that peace operations work by influencing the decisions and behaviour of diverse local actors in host societies Peace operations work better that is achieve more of their objectives at lower cost when they receive high quality local cooperation It concludes that peace operations are more likely to attain such cooperation when they are perceived locally to be legitimate Corruption and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Dominik Zaum, Christine Cheng, 2012-02-20 This edited volume explores and evaluates the roles of corruption in post conflict peacebuilding The problem of corruption has become increasingly important in war to peace transitions eroding confidence in new democratic institutions undermining economic development diverting scarce public resources and reducing the delivery of vital social services Conflict affected countries offer an ideal environment for pervasive corruption Their weak administrative institutions and fragile legal and judicial systems mean that they lack the capacity to effectively investigate and punish corrupt behaviour In addition the sudden inflow of donor aid into post conflict countries and the desire of peacebuilding actors including the UN the international financial institutions aid agencies and non governmental organisations to disburse these funds quickly create incentives and opportunities for corruption While corruption imposes costs and compromises on peacebuilding efforts opportunities for exploiting public office can also be used to entice armed groups into signing peace agreements thus stabilising post war environments This book explores the different functions of corruption both conceptually and through the lens of a wide range of case studies It also examines the impact of key anti corruption policies on peacebuilding environments The dynamics that shape the relationship between corruption and the political and economic developments in post conflict countries are complex This analysis highlights that fighting corruption is only one of several important peacebuilding objectives and that due consideration must be given to the specific social and political context in considering how a sustainable peace can be achieved This book will be of great interest to students of peacekeeping and peacebuilding criminology political economy war and conflict studies international security and IR

Strategies of Peace Daniel Philpott, Gerard Powers, 2010-03-24 Scholars of peacebuilding rethink the basic goals and methods of conflict resolution and argue for a holistic approach that they term strategic peacebuilding which aims not only for stability but for a comprehensive solution that incorporates apology forgiveness reconciliation and most crucially religion
