Abstract

The study was focused on the role of leisure and recreation at improving the quality of life of workers in tertiary institutions in Imo State, Nigeria. The study adopted the survey research design where well-structured questionnaire was used for data collection. The questions were based on a four-point rating scale. The instrument was subjected to both face and content validation by three experts guided by the research objectives and hypotheses. The instrument was tested for reliability using Cronbach Alpha Coefficient which produced Alpha Numeric value of 0.85. The area was chosen because there are several institutions in the State. The population of the study was 5,159 and the sample size was 249. Convenience sampling technique was employed with the help of research assistant. Data were computed with the latest SPSS version and analyzed using Mean and Standard Deviation. The benchmark of 2.50 mean was used to accept a given opinion as significant. The hypotheses were tested with t-test at 0.05 level of significance. The study revealed that the major leisure and recreation activities engaged in by workers in tertiary institutions are religious activities, restaurant visits, hobby activities, cooking, and sport activities. The respondents agreed that leisure and recreation activities improve their physical wellness and quality of life. Workers should see leisure and recreation as important and vital tool in organizational settings to be embarked upon, as it plays important role in boosting the quality of life

Recreation And Leisure Improving The Quality Of Life:

Recreation and Leisure Donald C. Weiskopf,1982

Improving the Quality of Life David M. Romney,Roy I.

Brown,Prem S. Fry,2012-12-06 The book is unique in two distinct ways First it focuses on improving quality of life in contrast to other books that have tended to focus more on its conceptualization and assessment Second it deals with improving quality of life in a variety of disabled populations not just one and includes chapters on people with chronic mental or physical conditions and those without disabilities at all i e so called normal people The book outlines some of the challenges and controversies in the quality of life domain and attempts to synthesize the key issue and to draw generalizable conclusions The book is mainly for university students and faculty and practitioners from various disciplines working in the field It will also interest those members of the general public who wish to improve their own quality of life or that of their relatives or friends

Quality-of-Life Community Indicators for Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management Megha Budruk,Rhonda

Phillips,2010-11-25 While community quality of life indicators are gaining much needed attention in both scholarly work and practice their application in the areas of parks recreation and tourism management are not as well known The applicability of indicator systems for natural resource and natural resource area management within the parks and recreation arena is very high including urban parks and recreation programs and their influence on quality of life Tourism is also an area that needs much more work in terms of assessing impacts as well as developing indicators for gauging progress in the long term All three areas are an integrated discipline and most programs throughout the developed world are housed co jointly There are several researchers across the globe who are conducting innovative work in these areas The editors feel that a volume on the topic will spur additional interests as well as serve to lead the research efforts Jarbridge Resource Management Plan
