Red Plateau Memoir Of A North Vietnamese Soldier:

Red Plateau John Edmund Delezen, 2005 US Marine vs NVA Soldier David R. Higgins, 2015-08-20 In 1967-68 the United States Marine Corps USMC was on the front line of the defence of South Vietnam's Quang Tri province which was at the very heart of the Vietnam conflict. Facing them were the soldiers of the North Vietnamese Army (NVA) men whose organization and equipment made them a very different opponent from the famous irregular Viet Cong forces. From the Hill Battles in April 1967 to the struggle for the city of Hue in January-March 1968, this bloody campaign forced the two sides into a gruelling trial of strength. The USMC held a general technological and logistical advantage including close air support and airborne transport technology and supplies but could not always utilize these resources effectively in mountainous jungle or urban environments better known by their Vietnamese opponents. In this arresting account of small unit combat, David R. Higgins steps into the tropical terrain of Vietnam to assess the performance and experience of USMC and NVA forces in three savage battles that stretched both sides to the limit.

The Oxford Handbook of Late Colonial Insurgencies and Counter-Insurgencies Martin Thomas, Gareth Curless, 2023-10-10 The lethality of conflicts between insurgent groups and counter-insurgent security forces has risen markedly since the Second World War, just as those of conventional or interstate wars have declined. For several decades, conflicts within states rather than between them have been the prevalent form of organised political violence worldwide. Recent conflicts in Afghanistan, Iraq, and Syria have fired interest in colonial experiences of rebellion, while current western interventions in sub-Saharan Africa have prompted accusations of militarist humanitarianism. Yet despite mounting interest in counter-insurgency and empire, comparative investigation of colonial responses to insurrection and civil disorder is sparse. Some scholars have written of a golden age of counter-insurgency which began with Britain's declaration of a Malayan Emergency in 1948 and ended with the withdrawal of US ground troops from Vietnam in 1973. It is with this period, if not with any presumed golden age, that this volume is concerned. This Handbook connects ideas about contested decolonization and the insurgencies that inspired it with an analysis of patterns and singularities in the conflicts that precipitated the collapse of overseas empires. It attempts a systematic study of the global effects of organized anti-colonial violence in Asia and Africa. The objective is to reconceptualize late colonial violence in the European overseas empires by exploring its distinctive character and the globalizing processes underpinning it.

Last Stand at Khe Sanh Gregg Jones, 2014-04-22 In a remote mountain stronghold in 1968, six thousand US Marines awoke one January morning to find themselves surrounded by 20,000 enemy troops. Their only road to the coast was cut, and bad weather and enemy fire threatened their fragile air lifeline. The siege of Khe Sanh, the Vietnam War's epic confrontation, was under way. For seventy-seven days, the Marines and a contingent of US Army Special Forces endured artillery barrages, sniper fire, ground assaults, and ambushes. Air Force, Marine, and Navy pilots braved perilous flying conditions to deliver supplies, evacuate casualties, and stem the North Vietnamese Army's onslaught. As President Lyndon B. Johnson weighed the use of tactical nuclear weapons Americans watched the shocking drama unfold on nightly newscasts Through it all the bloodied defenders of Khe Sanh held firm and prepared for an Alamo like last stand Now Gregg Jones takes readers into the trenches and bunkers at Khe Sanh to tell the story of this extraordinary moment in American history Last Stand at Khe Sanh captures the exceptional courage and brotherhood that sustained the American fighting men throughout the ordeal It brings to life an unforgettable cast of characters young high school dropouts and rootless rebels in search of John Wayne glory grizzled Korean War veterans daredevil pilots gritty platoon leaders and company commanders and courageous Navy surgeons who volunteered to serve in combat with the storied Marines Drawing on in depth interviews with siege survivors thousands of pages of archival documents and scores of oral history accounts Gregg Jones delivers a poignant and heart pounding narrative worthy of the heroic defense of Khe Sanh The Journal of Military History ,2007-04 Book Review Index - 2009 Cumulation Dana Ferguson,2009-08 Book Review Index provides quick access to reviews of books periodicals books on tape and electronic media representing a wide range of popular academic and professional interests The up to date coverage wide scope and inclusion of citations for both newly published and older materials make Book Review Index an exceptionally useful reference tool More than 600 publications are indexed including journals and national general interest publications and newspapers Book Review Index is available in a three issue subscription covering the current year or as an annual cumulation covering the past year America, History and Life ,2006 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada One More Wake-Up Charles J. Through the Valley William Reeder Jr., 2016. Through the Valley is the captivating memoir of the last U.S. Army soldier taken prisoner during the Vietnam War. A narrative of courage, hope, and survival. Through the Valley is more than just a war story. It also portrays the thrill and horror of combat, the fear and anxiety of captivity, and the stories of friendships forged and friends lost. In 1971, William Reeder was a senior captain on his second tour in Vietnam. He had flown armed fixed wing OV-10 Mohawks on secret missions deep into enemy territory in Laos, Cambodia, and North Vietnam on his first tour. He returned as a helicopter pilot eager to experience a whole new perspective as a Cobra gunship pilot. Believing that Nixon's Vietnamization would soon end the war, Reeder was anxious to see combat action. To him, it appeared that the Americans had prevailed, beaten the Viet Cong, and were passing everything over to the South Vietnamese Army so that Americans could leave. Less than a year later, while providing support to forces at the besieged base of Ben Het, Reeder's chopper went down in a flaming corkscrew. Though Reeder survived the crash, he was captured after evading the enemy for three days. He was held for weeks in jungle cages before enduring a grueling forced march on the Ho Chi Minh Trail, costing the lives of seven of his group of twenty seven POWs. Imprisoned in the notorious prisons of Hanoi, Reeder's tenacity in the face of unimaginable hardship is not only a captivating story but serves as an inspiration to all. In Through the Valley, William Reeder shares the torment and pain of his ordeal but does so in the light of the hope that he never lost. His memoir reinforces the themes of courage and sacrifice, undying faith, strength of family love, of country loyalty among comrades, and a realization of how precious is the freedom, all too often taken for granted. Sure to resonate with those serving in the armed forces who continue to face the demands of combat, Through the Valley will also appeal especially to readers looking for a powerful riveting story.

Saigon to San Diego Trinh Do, 2004-05-07. When I was 12, I didn't think I would get past ninth grade. When I was 14, I didn't think I would live to my twentieth birthday. For me to be here today is a dream beyond my comprehension. Set against the backdrop of the Vietnam War's aftermath, this memoir tells the story of Trinh Do a boy fighting for survival in newly unified communist Vietnam Trinh Do was born in Saigon in 1964 His father a soldier in the South Vietnam Army was taken to a re education camp after the communist victory in 1975 His family was thrown out of their home and Do took care of his mother and younger brothers He struggled to stay in school because of his father Do faced constant prejudice from the communist administration He was expelled for refusing to betray his classmates in 1978 soon after his mother arranged for him to escape Vietnam in a fishing boat After a perilous journey he landed in Malaysia where he spent six months in a refugee camp and then made his way to the United States His parents attempted a similar escape four years later and were lost to the South China Sea This memoir tells the story of Do s generation coming of age in a brutal period of Vietnam s history and is illustrated with family photographs Framed within a complex historical setting it reveals the cruelty inflicted upon the populace by the Vietnamese communists for the purpose of internal security An intimate portrait of daily life under communist rule and an examination of the political and military situation Do s memoir describes the propaganda and repression through the words of a Vietnamese schoolboy The Eaves of Heaven Andrew X. Pham,2008 From Andrew X Pham the award winning author of Catfish and Mandala a son s searing memoir of his Vietnamese father s experiences over the course of three wars Once wealthy landowners Thong Van Pham s family was shattered by the tumultuous events of the twentieth century the festering French occupation of Indochina the Japanese invasion during World War II and the Vietnam War Told in dazzling chapters that alternate between events in the past and those closer to the present The Eaves of Heaven brilliantly re creates the trials of everyday life in Vietnam as endured by one man from the fall of Hanoi and the collapse of French colonialism to the frenzied evacuation of Saigon Pham offers a rare portal into a lost world as he chronicles Thong Van Pham s heartbreaks triumphs and bizarre reversals of fortune whether as a South Vietnamese soldier pinned down by enemy fire a prisoner of the North Vietnamese under brutal interrogation or a refugee desperately trying to escape Vietnam after the last American helicopter has abandoned Saigon From publisher description The Depths of Hell Michael P. Do,2017-10 After the fall of the Republic of Vietnam to North Communists hundreds of thousands of South Vietnamese officers were detained in the so called re education camps of which about 80 to 100 thousand men and women died of starvation illness executions exhausted by hard labor The author had endured nearly ten years in the camp This book is to describe how the author and his comrades in arms had gone through the torture starvation while their families suffered discrimination persecution humiliation and fear in the changing society In this book the readers will find the good vs the bad the eagles vs the chickens It also reveals how the prisoners could survive the hardship without giving up hope Walking Point Mike Cunningham,2017-06-29 Que Son Valley is actually a large area of hills and valleys just to the west of Da Nang Viet Nam During the 1960s units from the United States Marines and United States Army engaged the 2nd North Vietnamese Division in heavy and close combat Our mission was to keep the enemy from capturing the cities of Da Nang Tam Ky and Chu Lai and to pacify the area We did prevent the enemy from capturing these vital cities but the area was far from pacified Many young brave Americans were killed or seriously wounded in these hills and valleys in the belief they were helping the Vietnamese obtain freedom and peace Although our altruistic beliefs might have gone astray it was my honor serving with these fine men and women I wrote this book in honor of them and to keep their memory alive I hope that when you read this book you will understand the Vietnam Veteran better and you will understand not the political Vietnam War but the Vietnam War that an Infantryman lived through
