The Red Blackboard Ruth Koenig,2000-07-31 As a traveler I had always been frustrated at having to eat and run when visiting fascinating places Being able to live teach and travel and really get to know people was like a dream come true when my husband and I spent a year in China Although fascinating it was not an easy year Coping with the lack of heat of familiar foods political monitors in the classroom and few teaching materials sometimes made teaching a nightmare It was the first time in my life I had ever written Spitting in the classroom will not be tolerated on my class syllabus Traveling in a country with woefully inadequate facilities and resources was frustrating and maddening Venturing out without knowing the language created some awkward embarrassing and sometimes humorous situations In one instance some enterprising and engaging salesmen inveigled my husband into posing for pictures prominently holding up some sample commercial products When the pictures and sample brochures arrived later we discovered that he seemed to be enthusiastically endorsing a feminine hygiene product Nevertheless as we came to know our Chinese students friends and colleagues who shared their lives and experiences we gained a new understanding of courage and an appreciation for the endurance of the human spirit and the natural sweetness of the Chinese people American Teacher ,1878 Junior Red Cross Activities American Junior Red Cross,1918 The Story of Red Feather: A Tale of the American Frontier Edward Sylvester Ellis,2007-01-01
