Scandalous Knowledge Science Truth And The Human:

Scandalous Knowledge Barbara Herrnstein Smith, 2006 Throughout the recent culture and science wars the radically new conceptions of knowledge and science emerging from such fields as the history and sociology of science have been denounced by various journalists scientists and academics as irresponsible attacks on science absurd denials of objective reality or a cynical abandonment of truth itself In Scandalous Knowledge Barbara Herrnstein Smith explores and illuminates the intellectual contexts of these crude denunciations A preeminent scholar theorist and analyst of intellectual history Smith begins by looking closely at the epistemological developments at issue She presents a clear historically informed and philosophically sophisticated overview of important twentieth century critiques of traditional rationalist realist positivist accounts of human knowledge and scientific truth and discusses in detail the alternative accounts produced by Ludwik Fleck Thomas Kuhn Michel Foucault Bruno Latour and others With keen wit Smith demonstrates that the familiar charges involved in these scandals including the recurrent invocation of postmodern relativism protect intellectual orthodoxy by falsely associating important intellectual developments with logically absurd and morally or politically disabling positions She goes on to offer bold original and insightful perspectives on the currently strained relations between the natural sciences and the humanities on the grandiose but dubious claims of evolutionary psychology to explain human behavior cognition and culture and on contemporary controversies over the psychology biology and ethics of animal human relations Scandalous Knowledge is a provocative and compelling intervention into controversies that continue to roil through journalism pulpits laboratories and classrooms throughout the United States and Europe

Scandalous Knowledge Barbara Herrnstein Smith, 2005 In this text the author explores the radical reconceptions of knowledge and science emerging from constructivist epistemology social studies of science and contemporary cognitive science

What is Theory? Hervé Corvellec, 2013 There is no consensus in the social and cultural sciences on what theory is and that is as it should be A consensus would be outright dangerous for the diversity of intellectual life The perspectives represented in this volume show that theory can be understood as plot hope beholding doxa heritage a stalemate disappointment personal matter or family concept But even if theory can be defined in many ways it cannot be defined in any one way Beyond disciplinary and epistemological differences theory has the steadfast characteristic of being what academics work with More than an epistemological matter the book's title question is an entry into the dynamics of academic practice The book consists of a multidisciplinary collection of essays that are tied together by a common effort to tell what theory is These essays are also paired as dialogues between senior and junior researchers from the same or allied disciplines to add a trans generational dimension to the book's multidisciplinary approach What Is Theory has been designed for upper division and graduate students in the social sciences and the humanities but it will also be of interest to anyone who has felt that the question of what theory is can be more easily asked than answered Contents include Why Ask What Theory Is The History of the Concept of Theory History of Ideas at the End of

 Snow lamented the presence of what he called the two cultures the apparently unbridgeable chasm of understanding and knowledge between modern literature and modern science In recent decades scholars have worked diligently and often with great ingenuity to interrogate claims like Snow's that represent twentieth and twenty first century literature and science as radically alienated from each other The Cambridge Companion to Literature and Science offers a roadmap to developments that have contributed to the demonstration and emergence of reciprocal connections between the two domains of inquiry

 Ralf Haekel, 2017-09-11 The Handbook of British Romanticism is a state of the art investigation of Romantic literature and theory a field that probably changed more quickly and more fundamentally than any other traditional era in literary studies Since the early 1980s Romantic studies has widened its scope significantly The canon has been expanded hitherto ignored genres have been investigated and new topics of research explored After these profound changes intensified by the general crisis of literary theory since the turn of the millennium traditional concepts such as subjectivity imagination and the creative genius have lost their status as paradigms defining Romanticism The handbook will feature discussions of key concepts such as history class gender science and the use of media as well as a thorough account of the most central literary genres around the turn of the 19th century The focus of the book however will lie on a discussion of key literary texts in the light of the most recent theoretical developments Thus the Handbook of British Romanticism will provide students with an introduction to Romantic literature in general and literary scholars with a discussion of innovative and groundbreaking theoretical developments Posthumanism Stefan Herbrechter, 2013-08-01 What does it mean to be human today The answer to this question which is as old as the human species itself is becoming less and less certain Current technological developments increasingly erode our traditional humanist reflexes consciousness emotion language intelligence morality humour mortality all these no longer demonstrate the unique character and value of human existence Instead the spectre of the posthuman is now being widely invoked as the inevitable next evolutionary stage that humans are facing Who comes after the human This is the question that posthumanists are taking as their starting point This critical introduction understands posthumanism as a discourse which in principle includes everything that has been and is being said about the figure of the posthuman It outlines the genealogy of the various posthuman scenarios in circulation and engages with their theoretical and philosophical assumptions and social and political implications It does so by connecting the philosophical debate about the future of humanity with a range of texts including examples from new media popular culture science and the media About Time Mark Currie, 2010-10-12 Why have theorists approached narrative primarily as a form of retrospect Mark Currie argues that anticipation and other forms of projection into the future are vital for an understanding of narrative and its effects in the world The Routledge Companion to the Environmental Humanities Ursula Heise, Jon Christensen, Michelle Niemann, 2017-01-06 The Routledge Companion to the Environmental Humanities provides a comprehensive transnational and interdisciplinary map to the field offering a broad overview of its founding principles while providing insight into exciting new directions for future scholarship Articulating the significance of humanistic perspectives for our collective social engagement with ecological crises the volume explores the potential of the environmental humanities for organizing humanistic research opening up new forms of interdisciplinarity and shaping public debate and policies on environmental issues Sections cover The Anthropocene and the Domestication of Earth Posthumanism and Multispecies Communities Inequality and Environmental Justice Decline and Resilience Environmental Narratives History and Memory Environmental Arts Media and Technologies The State of the Environmental Humanities The first of its kind this companion covers essential issues and themes necessarily crossing disciplines within the humanities and with the social and natural sciences Exploring how the environmental humanities contribute to policy and action concerning some of the key intellectual social and environmental challenges of our times the chapters offer an ideal guide to this rapidly developing field Participation and the Mystery Jorge N. Ferrer, 2017-04-12 Participation and the Mystery is both an introduction to and expansion of Jorge N. Ferrer's groundbreaking work on participatory spirituality which holds that human beings are active cocreators of spiritual phenomena worlds and even ultimates After examining the impact of his work since the publication of Revisioning Transpersonal Theory Ferrer discusses the relationship between science and transpersonal psychology the nature of a fully embodied spirituality and the features of integral spiritual practice The book also introduces a participatory philosophy of education and applies it to the academic teaching of mysticism and a novel approach to embodied spiritual inquiry Critically engaging the influential work of Stanislov Grof Ken Wilber and A H Almaas Ferrer concludes with an original solution to the problem of religious pluralism that affirms the ontological richness of religious worlds while avoiding the extremes of perennialism and contextualism offering a hopeful vision for the future of world religion Participation and the Mystery is an invaluable resource to anyone seeking to deepen their understanding of participatory approaches to transpersonal psychology integral and contemplative education contemporary spirituality and religious studies Managing Knowledge in the Construction Industry Alexander Styhre, 2009-05-07 Knowledge management presents a new way of understanding organizations and companies and is especially suited to sophisticated and highly technical firms and operations such as those in the construction industry This new book draws on hard data from three separate research programs in Sweden and shows how the concept of knowledge can make sense in the construction industry an industry which can be viewed in essence as being engaged in the material transformation of nature into buildings In particular it explores and examines three different businesses a medium sized construction firm Wing rdh Architecture Sweden s most prestigious architecture firm and BESAB a specialist concrete injection firm working on underground construction An emerging theme is the situational and context bound nature of knowledge in the construction industry thus showing knowledge to be a remarkably heterogeneous concept A range of readers should find the book useful from students and construction managers through to researchers

Indigenous STEM Education Pauline W. U. Chinn, Sharon Nelson-Barber, 2023-08-04 This book explores ways in which systems of local knowledge culture language and place are foundational for STEM learning in Indigenous communities It is part of a two volume set that addresses a growing recognition that interdisciplinary cross cultural and cross hybrid learning is needed to foster scientific and cultural understandings and move STEM learning toward more just and sustainable futures for all learners Themes of learning from elders through practice and place based experiences are found across cultures Each chapter brings a uniquely Indigenous point of view to the educational transformation efforts taking place in these distinct contexts In the second section the chapters use authentic research stories to explain many ways in which regular disciplinary policies and practices can impact Indigenous students participation in STEM classrooms and careers These authors go on to discuss ways to engage learners in STEM activities that are interconnected with the contexts of their lives Curriculum animal studies and the popular genre of science fiction share a number of critical concerns thinking about otherness and the nature of human being desiring communication across species difference and interrogating the social and ethical consequences of changes in science and technology We are living in a complex set of contradictory and conflicting relations with non human animals This book maps this complex terrain arguing that we are better able to perceive options for a transformed politics if we perceive our various material relations with non human animals within a deeper understanding of the functions of the category animal

Living without a Why Paul O Ingram, 2015-04-30 In this book Paul O Ingram adds his voice to a long list of writers seeking to relate Christian tradition to the hard realities of this post Christian age of religious and secular pluralism As a Lutheran Ingram thinks grace flows over this universe like a waterfall So he brings Christian mystical theology into a discussion of the meaning of grace Alfred North Whitehead's philosophical vision provides a language that serves as a hermeneutical bridge by which historians of religions can interpret the teachings and practices of religious Ways other than their own without falsification and by which theologians can appropriate history of religions research as a means of helping Christians advance in their own faith journeys The purpose of the journey of faith is what Whitehead called creative transformation The contemporary theological tradition that has most systematically and coherently followed Whitehead's lead in its reflection on non Christian Ways is process theology which is perhaps the only liberal or progressive theological movement now active in the twenty first century

Theological Reflections at the Boundaries Paul O. Ingram, 2011-11-04 The interdependence of boundary questions and the experience of cognitive dissonance reveal that knowledge in all fields of inquiry is always incomplete and tentative The issues are particularly acute for Christian theological reflection Ingram illustrates the importance of boundary questions and cognitive dissonance as a means of creatively transforming contemporary Christian theological reflection through dialogue with the natural sciences and the world's religions particularly Buddhism filtered through the lenses of Whiteheadian process philosophy The Mangle in Practice Andrew Pickering, Keith Guzik, 2009-01-14 An examination by a diverse field of experts of Pickering's mangle theory and its applicability or lack thereof beyond the limited cases he presented in the seminal book that introduced this theory Latour and the Humanities Rita Felski, Stephen Muecke, 2020-09-01 How does the work of influential theorist Bruno Latour offer a fresh angle on the practices and purposes of the humanities In recent years defenses of the humanities have tended to argue along predictable lines the humanities foster empathy the humanities encourage critical thinking the humanities offer a counterweight to the cold calculations of the natural and social sciences The essays in Latour and the Humanities take a different approach Exploring the relevance of theorist Bruno Latour's work they argue for attachments and entanglements between the humanities and the sciences while looking closely at the interests institutions and intellectual projects that shape the humanities within and beyond the university The collection which is written by a group of highly distinguished scholars from around the world is divided into two sections In the first part authors engage in depth with Latour's work while also rethinking the ties between the humanities and the sciences Essays argue for greater attention to the nonhuman world the urgency of climate change and more nuanced views of universities as institutions The second half of the volume contains essays that reflect on Latour's influence on the practices of specific disciplines including art the digital humanities film studies and political theory Inspiring conversation about the relevance of actor network theory for research and teaching in the humanities Latour and the Humanities offers a substantial introduction to Latour's work while discussing the humanities without falling back on the genres of either the sermon or the jeremiad This volume will be of interest to all those searching for fresh perspectives on the value and importance of humanistic disciplines and thought Contributors David J Alworth Anders Blok Claudia Breger Dipesh Chakrabarty Yves Citton Steven Connor Gerard de Vries Simon During Rita Felski Francis Halsall Graham Harman Antoine Hennion Casper Bruun Jensen Bruno Latour Heather Love Patrice Maniglier Stephen Muecke Barbara Herrnstein Smith Nigel Thrift Michael Witmore Queer Environmentality Robert Azzarello, 2016-04-15 Offering a model for meaningful dialogue between queer studies and environmental studies Robert Azzarello's book traces a queer environmental lineage in American Romantic and post Romantic literature Azzarello challenges the notion that reading environmental literature is unsatisfying in terms of aesthetics and proposes an understanding of literary environmentalism that is rich in poetic complexity With the term queer environmentality Azzarello points towards a queer sensibility in the history of environmental literature to balance the dominant narrative that reading environmental literature is tantamount to witnessing a spectacular dramatization of heterosexual teleology Azzarello's study treats four key figures in the American literary tradition Henry David Thoreau Herman Melville Willa Cather and Djuna Barnes Each of these writers problematizes conventional notions of the strange matrix between the human the natural and the sexual They brilliantly demonstrate the ways in which the queer project and the environmental project are always connected or put another way show that questions and politics of human sexuality are always entwined with those associated with the other than human world
