Castillo,William Egginton,2017-01-01 We are living in a time of inflationary media While technological change has periodically altered and advanced the ways humans process and transmit knowledge for the last 100 years the media with which we produce transmit and record ideas have multiplied in kind speed and power Saturation in media is provoking a crisis in how we perceive and understand reality Media become inflationary when the scope of their representation of the world outgrows the confines of their culture's prior grasp of reality We call the resulting concept of reality that emerges the culture's medialogy Medialogies offers a highly innovative approach to the contemporary construction of reality in cultural political and economic domains Castillo and Egginton both luminary scholars combine a very accessible style with profound theoretical analysis relying not only on works of philosophy and political theory but also on novels Hollywood films and mass media phenomena The book invites us to reconsider the way reality is constructed and how truth sovereignty agency and authority are understood from the everyday philosophical and political points of view A powerful analysis of actuality with its roots in early modernity this work is crucial to understanding reality in the information age Historias de un pueblo mágico y orífico de México Raul

Barraza B.,2021-10-18 Historias de un pueblo magico y orifico de Mexico Chacala Tamazula Durango estas sorprendentes historias que nunca se habian conocido porque nunca se habian publicado y se mantenian en el entorno de mi familia debido a que se venian contando de generacion en generacion y si hoy podemos hacerlo es gracias a la hermosa historia de estas tres familias de apellido Barraza sin lazos familiares que son los unicos protagonistas de todas estas historias de fuerza humana que demostraron que no importa quien seas ni de donde vengas si al lugar que llegues te pones a trabajar y a progresar A estas tres familias buscadoras de oro procedentes de diferentes paises de Europa les toco la suerte de encontrar su paraiso sonado y buscado en Chacala Tamazula Durango donde progresaron fincaron su propio pueblo y procrearon sus familias educandolas dentro de las buenas culturas del trabajo y religion catolica poniendo como a su patron del pueblo al senor San Jose y asi continuaron por siglos hasta el dia de hoy Aqui en este pueblo todos somos de la familia nos nombramos parientes con muchos otros apellidos resultado de las cruzadas del mestizaje donde hoy todos somos orgullosamente mexicanos

San Miguel de Allende Lisa Pinley Covert, 2017-06 Struggling to free itself from a century of economic decline and stagnation the town of San Miguel de Allende nestled in the hills of central Mexico discovered that its timeless quality could provide a way forward While other Mexican towns pursued policies of industrialization San Miguel on the economic political and cultural margins of revolutionary Mexico worked to demonstrate that it preserved an authentic quality earning designation as a typical Mexican town by the Guanajuato state legislature in 1939 With the town's historic status guaranteed a coalition of local elites and transnational figures turned to an international solution tourism to revive San Miguel's economy and to reinforce its Mexican identity Lisa Pinley Covert examines how this once small quiet town became a UNESCO World Heritage Site and home to one of Mexico's largest foreign born populations By exploring the intersections of economic development and national identity formation in San Miguel she reveals how towns and cities in Mexico grappled with change over the course of the twentieth century Covert similarly identifies the historical context shaping the promise and perils of a shift from an agricultural to a service based economy In the process she demonstrates how San Miguel could be both typically Mexican and palpably foreign and how the histories behind each process were inextricably intertwined

Tourism, Heritage and Commodification of Non-human Animals: A Posthumanist Reflection Álvaro López López, Gino Jafet Quintero Venegas, Carol Kline, 2023-12-19 Heritage is a social construction rooted in modern and contemporary societies It is commonly a positive assessment of many elements of the physical and human environment e g ecosystems and landscapes monuments customs gender norms religious practices gastronomy and livelihoods Heritage and tourism are strongly related to each other in that heritage gives rise to tourist attractions and activities and tourism enhances the designation of heritage sites A post humanist perspective the moral valuation of equality between humans and other animals demands that both are sentient beings and self aware of their pain and pleasure Thus the involvement of animals as heritage elements by themselves or as an element of tourist consumption in heritage sites implies their commodification and lack of agency As such these practices are usually unethical since they threaten the animals primary interests not to suffer not to feel pain and to be able to live their freedom This book contains chapters that reveal both the unethical interactions between humans and animals within heritage tourism and those that show experiences in which efforts are made to minimize damage within the commercialization of animals involved as heritage themselves
