The Casa del Deán Penny C. Morrill, 2023-09-15 The Casa del Deán in Puebla Mexico is one of few surviving sixteenth century residences in the Americas Built in 1580 by Tomás de la Plaza the Dean of the Cathedral the house was decorated with at least three magnificent murals two of which survive Their rediscovery in the 1950s and restoration in 2010 revealed works of art that rival European masterpieces of the early Renaissance while incorporating indigenous elements that identify them with Amerindian visual traditions Extensively illustrated with new color photographs of the murals The Casa del Deán presents a thorough iconographic analysis of the paintings and an enlightening discussion of the relationship between Tomás de la Plaza and the indigenous artists whom he commissioned Penny Morrill skillfully traces how native painters trained by the Franciscans used images from Classical mythology found in Flemish and Italian prints and illustrated books from France as well as animal images and glyphic traditions with pre-Columbian origins to create murals that are reflective of Don Tomás's erudition and his role in evangelizing among the Amerindians She demonstrates how the importance given to rhetoric by both the Spaniards and the Nahuas became a bridge of communication between these two distinct and highly evolved cultures This pioneering study of the Casa del De n mural cycle adds an important new chapter to the study of colonial Latin American art as it increases our understanding of the process by which imagery in the New World took on Christian meaning

Edgerton,2001 Mexico s churches and conventos display a unique blend of European and native styles Missionary Mendicant friars arrived in New Spain shortly after Cortes s conquest of the Aztec empire in 1521 and immediately related their own European architectural and visual arts styles to the tastes and expectations of native Indians Right from the beginning the friars conceived of conventos as a special architectural theater in which to carry out their proselytizing Over four hundred conventos were established in Mexico between 1526 and 1600 and more still in New Mexico in the century following all built and decorated by native Indian artisans who became masters of European techniques and styles even as they added their own influence The author argues that these magnificent sixteenth and seventeenth century structures are as much part of the artistic patrimony of American Indians as their pre Conquest temples pyramids and kivas Mexican Indians in fact adapted European motifs to their own pictorial traditions and thus made a unique contribution to the worldwide spread of the Italian Renaissance The author brings a wealth of knowledge of medieval and Renaissance European history philosophy theology art and architecture to bear on colonial Mexico at the same time as he focuses on indigenous contributions to the colonial enterprise This ground breaking study enriches our understanding of the colonial process and the reciprocal relationship between European friars and native artisans From Savages to Subjects Robert H.
