As the authors of The Book of Sports Cars point out in the beginning, they were all sports cars. Because the increasing demands of this sport imposed an ever-growing burden of technical development, the sports car and its achievements have never stopped forwarding the improvement of the everyday automobile. Here, at last, evolved from years of painstaking research is a record of what the world's motorists owe to the dreams and the daring of the men and women of motor sport. In arranging the history of the outstanding marques by countries of origin, the authors have made it plain how first one nation then another took the lead in developing the automobile as a sporting instrument and hence inevitably as a thing of greater common use and benefit. First Germany led the world, then France, then Great Britain and Italy, and the United States. Flaming Floorboards Steve Tom, 2012-03-12 Are you tired of cleaning spiders out of your gas gauge? Have you driven for miles wondering what that funny smell was only to discover your seat was on fire? Did your tender first kiss leave your date needing medical attention? If you can answer yes to all three questions you're probably the author of this book. Flaming Floorboards is a true account of these and many similar adventures which befell the author, a man who ambled through life adopting stray cars the way other people adopt stray cats. He came of automotive age during the 1960s, the golden age of muscle cars. Surrounded by Camaros, Mustangs, Super Birds and their ilk, his dream car was a Stanley Steamer. Looking back, the author admits it may not have been a coincidence that he didn't get many dates. He never did get a Stanley, but over the years he drove thousands of miles in cars such as a Model A Ford, a Jaguar E Type, a pair of mid 60s Chevy Impalas, a handful of MGs and other memorable automobiles. These were not shiny classics when he drove them. They were rusted hulks that he rescued from the salvage yard. In his struggles to keep these rolling wrecks on the road, he encountered people like Fr. Dupree, a reporter, pool shark turned Episcopal priest; Luis Riccotto, the proprietor of Riccotto and Sons Imported Motors; and Otis Swineheart, a man of few words and fewer teeth. Flaming Floorboards is a warm and funny story about an extraordinary cast of cars and characters.
