All Mine! Stephen Owen,2021-12-14 Under the Song Dynasty China experienced rapid commercial growth and monetization of the economy In the same period the austere ethical turn that led to neo Confucianism was becoming increasingly prevalent in the imperial bureaucracy and literati culture Tracing the influences of these trends in Chinese intellectual history All Mine explores the varied ways in which eleventh century writers worked through the conflicting values of this new world Stephen Owen contends that in the new money economy of the Song writers became preoccupied with the question of whether material things can bring happiness Key thinkers returned to this problem weighing the conflicting influences of worldly possessions and material comfort against Confucian ideology which locates true contentment in the Way and disdains attachment to things In a series of essays Owen examines the works of writers such as the prose master Ouyang Xiu who asked whether tranquility could be found in the backwater to which he had been exiled the poet and essayist Su Dongpo who was put on trial for slandering the emperor and the historian Sima Guang whose private garden elicited reflections on private ownership Through strikingly original readings of major eleventh century figures All Mine inquires not only into the material conditions of happiness but also the broader conditions of knowledge

The Minjian Avant-Garde Chang Tan, 2024-02-15 The Minjian Avant Garde studies how experimental artists in China mixed with brought changes to and let themselves be transformed by minjian the volatile and diverse public of the post Mao era Departing from the usual emphasis on art institutions global markets or artists communities Chang Tan proposes a new analytical framework in the theories of socially engaged art that stresses the critical agency of participants the affective functions of objects and the versatility of the artists in diverse sociopolitical spheres Drawing from hitherto untapped archival materials and interviews with the artists Tan challenges the views of Chinese artists as either dissidents or conformists to the regime and sees them as navigators and negotiators among diverse political discourses and interests She questions the fetishization of marginalized communities among practitioners of progressive art and politics arguing that the members of minjian are often more complex defiant and savvy than the elites would assume The Minjian Avant Garde critically assesses the rise of populism in both art and politics and show that minjian could constitute either a democratizing or a coercive force This book was published with generous support from the George Dewey and Mary J Krumrine Endowment

Fixing Landscape Corey Byrnes, 2019-01-15 In 1994 workers broke ground on China's Three Gorges Dam By its completion in 2012 the dam had transformed the ecology of the Yangzi River displaced over a million people and forever altered a landscape immortalized in centuries of literature and art The controversial history of the dam is well known what this book uncovers are its unexpected connections to the cultural traditions it seems to sever By reconsidering the dam in relation to the aesthetic history of the Three Gorges region over more than two millennia Fixing Landscape offers radically new ways of thinking about cultural and spatial production in contemporary China Corey Byrnes argues that this monumental feat of engineering can only be understood by confronting its status as a techno poetic act a form of landscaping indebted to both the technical knowledge of engineers and to the poetic legacies of the Gorges as cultural site Synthesizing methods drawn from premodern modern and contemporary Chinese studies as well as from critical geography art history and the environmental humanities Byrnes offers innovative readings of eighth century poetry paintings from the twelfth through twenty first centuries contemporary film nineteenth century British travelogues and Chinese and Western maps among other sources Fixing Landscape shows that premodern poetry and visual art have something urgent to tell us about a contemporary experiment in spatial production Poems and paintings may not build dams but Byrnes argues that the Three Gorges Dam would not exist as we know it without them

Androgyny in Late Ming and Early Qing Literature Zuyan Zhou, 2003-02-28 The frequent appearance of androgyny in Ming and Qing literature has long interested scholars of late imperial Chinese culture A flourishing economy widespread education rising individualism a prevailing hedonism all of these had contributed to the gradual disintegration of traditional gender roles in late Ming and early Qing China 1550 1750 and given rise to the phenomenon of androgyny Now Zuyan Zhou sheds new light on this important period offering a highly original and astute look at the concept of androgyny in key works of Chinese fiction and drama from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries The work begins with an exploration of androgyny in Chinese philosophy and Ming Qing culture Zhou proceeds to examine chronologically the appearance of androgyny in major literary writing of the time yielding novel interpretations of canonical works from The Plum in the Golden Vase through the scholar beauty romances to The Dream of the Red Chamber He traces the ascendance of the androgyny craze in the late Ming its culmination in the Ming Qing transition and its gradual phasing out after the mid Qing The study probes deviations from engendered codes of behavior both in culture and literature then focuses on two parallel areas androgyny in literary characterization and androgyny in literati identity The author concludes that androgyny in late Ming and early Qing literature is essentially the dissident literati

s stance against tyrannical politics a psychological strategy to relieve anxiety over growing political inferiority The Art of the Chinese Picture-Scroll Shane McCausland,2023-10-25 The first extended history of the Chinese picture scroll The Chinese picture scroll a long horizontal painting or calligraphic work has been China's pre eminent aesthetic form throughout the last two millennia This first history of the picture scroll explores its extraordinary longevity and adaptability to social political and technological change The book describes what the picture scroll demands of a viewer how China's artists grappled with its cultural power and how collectors and connoisseurs left their marks on scrolls for later generations to judge Reverie and Reality Yanning Wang,2013-12-18 This is a study of Chinese gentry women's poems on the theme of travel written during the late imperial period ca 1600 1911 when Chinese women's literature and culture flourished as never before It challenges the clichéd image of completely secluded and immobile women anxiously waiting inside their prescribed feminine space the so called inner quarters for the return of traveling husbands or other male kin The travel poems discussed in this book while not necessarily representative of all of the women writers of this period point to the fact that many of them longed to explore the world through travel as did so many of their male counterparts Sometimes they were able to actualize this desire for travel and sometimes they were forced to resort to imaginary armchair travel In either case women writers often used poetry as a means of recording their experiences or delineating their dreams of traveling outside the inner quarters and indeed sometimes far away from the inner quarters With its promise of adventure and fulfillment and above all a broadening of one's intellectual and emotional horizons travel was an important and until now understudied theme of late imperial women's poetry Dialectics of Spontaneity Zhiyi Yang,2015-06-24 In Dialectics of Spontaneity Zhiyi Yang examines the aesthetic and ethical theories of Su Shi the primary poet artist and statesman of Northern Song

Metamorphosis of the Private Sphere Xiaoshan Yang,2020-05-11 The Chinese garden has been explored from a variety of angles Much has been written about its structural features as well as its cosmological religious philosophical moral aesthetic and economic underpinnings This book deals with the poetic configurations of the private garden in cities from the ninth to the eleventh century in relation to the development of the private sphere in Chinese literati culture It focuses on the ways in which the new values and rhetoric associated with gardens and the objects found in them helped shape the processes of self cultivation and self imaging among the literati as they searched for alternatives to conventional values at a time when traditional political moral and aesthetic norms were increasingly judged inapplicable or inadequate The garden was also an artifact and a locus for material culture and social competition Focusing on a series of anecdotes about private transactions involving objects in gardens the author dissects the intricate nexus between the exchange of poetry and the poetry of exchange In tracing the development of the private urban garden through the writings of Bai Juyi Su Shi Sima Guang and their contemporaries the author argues that this private space figured increasingly as a place of disengagement for those out of political power and hence was increasingly invaded by political forces The Routledge Companion to Art Deco
