now almost forgotten The Midnight Washerwoman and Other Tales of Lower Brittany collects twenty nine stories gathered by Luzel many translated into English for the first time The tales are presented in a series of five imaginary veill es giving readers a unique opportunity to listen in on a long ago winter s night of storytelling Some of the stories mix the apparently supernatural with the everyday as in the title tale when a mysteriously nocturnal washerwoman causes three handsome lads to flee so quickly they lose their clogs in the process Others invite listeners to root for the underdog as when a simple miller outwits a powerful seigneur Another tale must have been greeted with raucous laughter as it recounts an ascending ladder of obstacles from a mouse to a cat to a man to God or the Devil himself confronted by a traveling ant Michael Wilson the volume s editor and translator provides a substantive introduction that discusses Luzel s work and the significance of Breton storytelling
