Arab Women Novelists Joseph T. Zeidan, 1995-03-16 This book assesses the contribution of women to the Arabic novel both in subject matter and form It begins by tracing the struggle over women s rights in the Arab world particularly the gradual improvement in women s access to education the first area in which women made significant gains Subsequent chapters discuss Arab women writers remarkable talents and determination to overcome the barriers of a male dominated culture survey the 1950s and 1960s during which women s writing gained momentum and more women writers emerged and address the shift in emphasis and attitude that women s literature underwent in the late 1960s especially following the 1967 Arab Israeli war when women novelists began to place more stress on international politics Zeidan adapts Western based feminist literary theory to a discussion of Arab women s literature but refrains from imposing that theory inappropriately on literature whose context differs significantly He compares the women s movements in Arab and Western cultures and the development of women s literature in those cultures and uses these comparisons to highlight similarities and differences between them as well as to consider how one affected the other His analysis culminates in the early 1980s the end of the formative years when women s writing had become a familiar part of Arabic literature in general and a positive reflection on the collective Arab consciousness

Women's Education in the Third World Gail Paradise Kelly, Carolyn M. Elliott, Professor Department of Political Science Carolyn M Elliott, 1982-01-01 Gail Kelly and Carolyn Elliott have assembled the latest and best available scholarship from a range of disciplines to illuminate the determinants nature and outcomes of women s education in third World nations This study focuses on the undereducation of women in Africa Asia Latin America and the Middle East delving into its causes changes in female education patterns and the significance of these changes to societies and to women s lives Articles in this volume lay the foundation for further research by examining women s schooling from the novel perspective that the social and economic outcomes of women s education are shaped by gender sex systems that subordinate women to men

Women's Contemporary Readings of Medieval (and Modern) Arabic Philosophy Saloua Chatti, 2022-06-27 This book explores a large variety of topics involved in Arabic philosophy It examines concepts and issues relating to logic and mathematics as well as metaphysics ethics and aesthetics These topics are all studied by different Arabic philosophers and scientists from different periods ranging from the 9th century to the 20th century and are representative of the Arabic tradition This is the first book dealing with the Arabic thought and philosophy and written only by women The book brings together the work and contributions of an international group of female scholars and researchers specialized in the history of Arabic logic philosophy and mathematics Although all authors are women the book does not enter into any kind of feminist trend It simply highlights the contributions of female scholars in order to make them available to the large community of researchers interested in Arabic philosophy and to bring to the fore the presence and representativeness of female scholars in the field
