The Barcelona Pavilion by Mies van der Rohe Dietrich Neumann,2020-12-07 While Mies van der Rohe s pavilion at the International Exposition in Barcelona in 1929 went unnoticed by most of the visitors to the fairgrounds contemporary critics enthusiastically hailed it as the most convincing statement of the Modern Age This book presents 100 selected texts about this much discussed building written then and now from the opening speech by the Spanish king to newspaper articles and private letters voices of contemporary architects architecture critics and historians and even a text by artist Ai Weiwei who created an installation in the outdoor area of the pavilion in 2010 Thus the history of this building s reception depicts a dazzling picture and inconceivable breadth including statements by such eminent authors as Frank Lloyd Wright Leonardo Benevolo Rem Koolhaas Peter Eisenman

Modernism not only attempted to negotiate a more responsive relationship between nature and architecture but also shape the way people experience space Richard Neutra's Californian Modernism is traditionally celebrated for its sleek geometric forms but his intention was to use design to support a heightened understanding of context Glenn Murcutt's pristine pavilions seemingly the epitome of regional Modernism actually raise important questions about the socio spatial structure of architecture Rather than focussing on form or style in Modernism this book examines the spatial social and experiential properties of thirty seven designs by Wright Mies Neutra and Murcutt The computational and mathematical methods used for this purpose are drawn from space syntax isovist geometry and graph theory The specific issues that are examined include the sensory and emotional appeal of space and form shifting social and spatial structures in architectural planning wayfinding and visual understanding and the relationship between form and program

An Accidental Masterpiece

Dietrich Neumann,2020-12-07 The Complex History of a Building With the temporary exhibition pavilion of the German Reich at the 1929 International Exposition in Barcelona Mies van der Rohe designed an architectural icon but also a controversial monument of the way the Weimar Republic portrayed itself The building is one of the most unusual success stories in the history of architecture Despite its short existence its reputation grew steadily in the following decades thanks in part to magnificent photographs It was soon considered the constructed manifesto of the Modern Age and its spatial and ideational ambitions were called a milestone of Modern architecture This comprehensively broadly researched book portrays the building's complex history and its political entanglement up to and including its reconstruction according to van der Rohe's plans at the original site between 1983 and 1986 Presumably the most important and influential architectural icon of the 20th century uniquely documented and depicted On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of Mies' death and the Bauhaus centenary Many never before published photographs from archives in the US Germany and Spain

The New Conservatism Jürgen Habermas,2015-10-07 Jürgen

Habermas is well known for his scholarly writings on the theoretical foundations of the human sciences. The New Conservatism brings to light another side of Habermas's work showing him to be an incisive commentator on a wide range of contemporary themes. The 1980s have been a crucial decade in the political life of Western democracies in general and of the Federal Republic of Germany in particular. The transformations that accompanied a shift from 13 years of Social democratic rule in Germany to government by the conservative Christian Democrats are captured in this series of insightful often passionate political and cultural commentaries. The central theme uniting the essays is the German problem of coming to terms within the past a problem that has important implications outside Germany as well. Of particular note are the essays on what has come to be known as the Historians' Debate. Habermas's attack on the revisionist German historians who have been trying to trivialize and normalize the history of the Nazi period and his defence of the need for a realistic and discriminating approach to the Nazi period and its legacy. Habermas also takes up the recent debate concerning Martin Heidegger's involvement with Nazism and the rise of the neoconservative movement in Europe and America. In particular the essay on The New Obscurity combines Habermas's analysis of the problems of the welfare state with his suggestions for avenues open to utopian impulses today.

Hut Pavilion Shrine: Architectural Archetypes in Mid-Century Modernism Miles David Samson, 2016-03-09. The phase of American architectural history we call mid century modernism 1940-1980 saw the spread of Modern Movement tenets of functionalism social service and anonymity into mainstream practice. It also saw the spread of their seeming opposites Temples arcades domes and other traditional types occur in both modernist and traditionalist forms from the 1950s to the 1970s. Hut Pavilion Shrine examines this crossroads of modernism and the archetypal and critiques its buildings and theory. The book centers on one particularly important and omnipresent type the pavilion a type which was the basis of major work by Louis I Kahn Paul Rudolph Philip Johnson Minoru Yamasaki and other eminent architects. While focusing primarily on the architecture culture of the United States it also includes the work of British European Team X and Scandinavian designers and writers. Making connections between formal analysis historical context and theory the book continues lines of inquiry which have been pursued by Neil Levine and Anthony Vidler on representation and by Sarah Goldhagen and Alice Friedman on modernism's forbidden elements of the honorific and the visually pleasurable. It highlights the significance of pavilionizing mid century designers such as Victor Lundy John Johansen Eero Saarinen and Edward Durrell Stone and shows how frequently essentialist and traditionalist types appeared in the roadside vernacular of drive in restaurants gas stations furniture and car showrooms branch banks and motels. The book ties together the threads in mid century architectural theory that addressed aspects of type essential structure and primal humanistic aspects of environment making and discusses how these concerns outlived the mid century moment and in the designs and writings of Aldo Rossi and others they paved the way for Post Modernism.

Non-Plan: Essays on Freedom, Participation and Change in Modern Architecture and Urbanism Jonathan Hughes, Simon Sadler, 2013-01-11. Non Plan explores ways of involving people in the design of their environments a goal which transgresses political categories of right and left Attempts to circumvent planning bureaucracy and architectural inertia have ranged from free market enterprise zones to self build housing and from squatting to sophisticated technologies of prefabrication Yet all have shared in a desire to let people shape the built environment they want to live and work in How can buildings better reflect the needs of their inhabitants How can cities better facilitate the work and recreation of their many populaces Modernism had promised a functionalist approach to resolving the architectural needs of the twentieth century yet the design of cities and buildings often appears to confound the needs of those who use them their design and layout being highly regulated by restrictive legislation planning controls and bureaucracy Non Plan considers the theoretical and conceptual frameworks within which architecture and urbanism have sought to challenge entrenched boundaries of control focusing on the architectural history of the post war period to the present day This provocative book will be of interest to architects planners and students of architecture design town planning and architectural history Its contributors include architects critics and historians including many whose work helped shape the Non Plan debate during the period List of contributors Cedric Price Benjamin Franks Elizabeth Lebas Eleonore Kofman Ben Highmore Yona Friedman Paul Barker Clara Greed Barry Curtis Colin Ward Ian Horton John Beck Chinedu Umenyilora and Malcolm Miles
