Sense and Spirituality James McCullough, 2015-10-29 There is growing interest in the relationship between the arts and Christian faith Much has been written about the arts and theology and the place of the arts in church life Not as much has been written however about how the arts might actually advance spiritual formation in terms of the cumulative effect of religious experience and intentional practices This book provides a modest step forward in that conversation a conversation between theological aesthetics and practical theology Understanding aesthetics as the realm of sense perception and spiritual formation as growing capacities to participate in God's purposes James McCullough suggests how these dynamics can mutually enhance each other with the arts as an effective catalyst for this relationship McCullough proposes an analysis of artistic communication and explores exciting examples from music poetry and painting which render theoretical proposals in concrete terms This book will engage both those new to the arts and those already deeply familiar with them

Marginal to Mainstream Toby Norris, 2023-10-30 Marginal to Mainstream French Modernism Between the Wars traces the near miraculous progress of modern art in France in the first half of the twentieth century Before World War I it was a marginal phenomenon largely absent from the museums and bought and sold by a handful of second string dealers by the early 1950s it had been canonized as the representative form of the epoch The triumph of modernism and the simultaneous establishment of Paris as the crucible of modern art were not the products of a coherent policy but of a stumbling and spasmodic process France was the leading democratic nation in Europe and it wanted its art to reinforce its prestige on the international stage but no one could agree how best to achieve this Toby Norris shows how amidst the policy squabbles and in fighting of representative government France fumbled its way toward an art of democracy and in the process helped install modern art as the house style of democratic capitalism

Modernity and Nostalgia Romy Golan,1995-01-01 Golan argues that reactionary issues such as anti urbanism the return to the soil regionalism corporatism xenophobia and doubts about the new technology became central to cultural and art historical discourse Focusing on the overlap of avant garde and middle of the road production she investigates the import of these issues not only in painting sculpture and architecture concentrating on the work of Leger Picasso Le Corbusier Ozenfant Derain the Surrealists and the so called naifs but also in the decorative arts in the spectacle of world and colonial fairs and in literature Throughout she finds evidence that artists turned from the aesthetics of the machine age toward a more organic naturalistic art This leads her to ask whether the famous and momentous shift of the avant garde from Paris to New York in 1939 did not in fact begin two decades earlier in 1918
