Melissa Kwasny's seventh collection of poetry lies the passing of her beloved mother the caretaking the hospice protocols the last breath the aftermath Simultaneously she must also reckon with an array of global crises environmental decline the arrival of a pandemic divisive social tensions With so much loss building up around her Kwasny turns to the natural world for guidance walking paths lined with aspen snow geese and prickly pears I have come here for their peace and instructions she writes listening to the willows the slant rhyme of their multi limbed clatter What she finds is a new more seasoned kind of solace The Cloud Path glimmers with nature's many lively colors the burnt orange of foxes cedar bark cast in the greenest impasto white swans intertwined It also embraces the world's harsher elements a dark bog's purple stench a hayfield empty of birds Witnessing life's constant ebb and flow the weight of personal and collective grief gradually becomes lighter The shapes of clouds cattle bones by the river Why not she asks believe it matters Evocative and wrenching The Cloud Path compels us to consider the whole of living and dying An elegant juxtaposition of personal and planetary loss these keen and tender poems teach us to see afresh in the lateness of things
