The Modern Garden Pierluigi Serraino, 2024-10-01 Visionary landscape architecture and garden design at mid century in North America is captured by the greats of the era including Julius Shulman and Ezra Stoller in many previously unpublished photographs The treasures of mid century American architecture have long been celebrated Less appreciated has been the landscape design that provides the framing for these masterworks But more than frame landscape architecture is an art worthy of the spotlight particularly at mid century when the notion that gardens are outdoor spaces for people to live in was championed and brought to the fore now gardens and landscapes are not just external attributes to the house but a continuation of it and its living spaces in a relationship of symbiosis with its pools and terraces its winding lawns and its partly enclosed room like spaces flanked by brick or stone or plantings in a range of colors and forms Approximately seventy five mostly residential projects are thoroughly documented and recounted Landscape architects whose work is featured include Thomas Church Lawrence Halprin and Garrett Eckbo among others Highlights include the dramatic surrounds of Richard Neutra s Perkins House in its Pasadena hillside setting and Frank Lloyd Wright s Marin County Civic Center where environment and building comeingle in an extraordinary modernist vision of the future made real This book is both a wishful gesture toward a realignment of building with nature and a must have for anyone with a visceral appreciation for a designed environment understood as an integrated whole Ultimately the book underlines the fundamental importance of gardens and landscape design intended in the widest possible sense for the quality of living of all individuals The Modern Garden Jane

Brown, 2000-10 The Modern Garden is the first fully illustrated overview of the great gardens of the twentieth century It examines hundreds of gardens created throughout the century and around the world from the works of Geoffrey Jellicoe to Roberto Burle Marx Russell Page to Dan Kiley BOOKJACKET The Medieval and Early Modern Garden in Britain

Patricia Skinner, Theresa Tyers, 2018-04-09 What was a garden in medieval and early modern British culture and how was it imagined How did it change as Europe opened up to the wider world from the 16th century onwards In a series of fresh approaches to these questions the contributors offer chapters that identify and discuss newly discovered pre modern garden spaces in archaeology and archival sources recognize a gendered language of the garden in fictional descriptions fictional here being taken to mean any written text regardless of its purpose and offer new analysis of the uses to which gardens real and imagined might be put Chapters investigate the definitions forms and functions of physical gardens explore how the material space of the garden was gendered as a secluded space for women and as a place of recreation examine the centrality of garden imagery in medieval Christian culture and trace the development of garden motifs in the literary and artistic imagination to convey the sense of enclosure transformation and release The book uniquely underlines the current environmental turn in the humanities and increasingly recognizes the value of exploring human interaction with the landscapes of the past as a route to health and well being in the present Gardens in the Modern Landscape Christopher

Tunnard,2014-07-23 Between 1937 and 1938 garden designer Christopher Tunnard published a series of articles in the British Architectural Review that rejected the prevailing English landscape style Inspired by the principles of Modernist art and Japanese aesthetics Tunnard called for a new technique in garden design that emphasized an integration of form and purpose The functional garden avoids the extremes both of the sentimental expressionism of the wild garden and the intellectual classicism of the formal garden he wrote it embodies rather a spirit of rationalism and through an aesthetic and practical ordering of its units provides a friendly and hospitable milieu for rest and recreation Tunnard s magazine pieces were republished in book form as Gardens in the Modern Landscape in 1938 and a revised second edition was issued a decade later Taken together these articles constituted a manifesto for the modern garden its influence evident in the work of such figures as Lawrence Halprin Philip Johnson and Edward Larrabee Barnes Long out of print the book is here reissued in a facsimile of the 1948 edition accompanied by a contextualizing foreword by John Dixon Hunt Gardens in the Modern Landscape heralded a sea change in the evolution of twentieth century design and it also anticipated questions of urban sprawl historic preservation and the dynamic between the natural and built environments Available once more to students practitioners and connoisseurs it stands as a historical document and an invitation to continued innovative thought about landscape architecture competitive methods that shaped early modern poetics Noting shared patterns both conceptual and material in these two areas not only helps explain the persistence of botanical metaphors in sixteenth century books of poetry but also offers a new perspective on the types of contrastive illusions that distinguish the Elizabethan aesthetic With its interdisciplinary approach The Poem and the Garden is of interest to all students and scholars who study early modern poetics book history and garden studies

Gardens, Knowledge and the Sciences in the Early Modern Period Hubertus Fischer, Volker R. Remmert, Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn, 2016-06-03 This volume focuses on the outstanding contributions made by botany and the mathematical sciences to the genesis and development of early modern garden art and garden culture The many facets of the mathematical sciences and botany point to the increasingly scientific approach that was being adopted in and applied to garden art and garden culture in the early modern period This development was deeply embedded in the philosophical religious political cultural and social contexts running parallel to the beginning of processes of scientization so characteristic for modern European history This volume strikingly shows how these various developments are intertwined in gardens for various purposes

Landscape Modernism Renounced David Jacques, Jan Woudstra, 2012-09-10 Before the Second World War landscape architect Christopher Tunnard was the first author on Modernism in Landscape in the English language but later became alarmed by the destructive forces of Post war reconstruction Between the 1950s and the 1970s he was in the forefront of the movement to save the city becoming an acclaimed author sympathetic to preservation Ironically it was the Modernist ethos that he had so fervently advocated before the war that was the justification for the dismemberment of great cities by officials engineers and planners This was not the first time that Tunnard had to re evaluate his principles as he had done so in the 1930s in rejecting Arts and Crafts in favour of Modernism This book tracks his changing ideology by reference to his writings his colleagues and his work Christopher Tunnard is one of the most influential figures in Landscape Architecture and his journey is one that still resonates in the discipline today His leading role in first embracing the tenets of Modernism and then moving away from to embrace a more conservationist approach can be seen in the success and impact on the profession of those with whom he worked and taught
