Master s Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject Pedagogy Adult Education National University of Modern Languages Islamabad English Department course Research Project language English abstract The present study aims to investigate that age is not a detriment to language learning As young students are biologically disposed to better second language learning as well as given certain benefits such as lower self monitor and affective filter but at the same time adults are also not at a lower vantage point in L2 learning process In the language learning program adult learners bring with them certain advantages Adults are better at understanding grammatical rules since they are aware of the rules and structures in their own language Especially in the areas of vocabulary and language structure adults are actually better language learners than children Adult learners have more highly developed cognitive systems are able to make higher order associations and generalizations and can integrate new language input with their already substantial learning experience They also rely on long term memory rather than the short term memory function used by children and younger learners for rote learning Adults have already developed learning strategies that have served them well in other contexts They can use these strategies to their advantage in language learning This research will suggest ways of dealing better with adult learners in their academic performance in the language class The researchers aim will be to investigate that they have potentials to become accomplished language learners with the advantage of more advanced cognitive development in the first language and they integrate new language input with their already substantial learning experience To prove her point of view the researcher will involve 10 teachers and 30 students of Diploma Certificate and Foundation level at the Department of English functional Courses at National University of Modern Languages Islamabad For assessing adult learners proficiency in the class questionnaires will be distributed among the participants Classroom observation are also contributing factor in determining the learning process of adult learners so these tools will be used to find the role and behavior pattern of adult learners

Further it would help language teachers to understand that experience of adult learner is a living text book and teachers can go through the language programme by cooperating with adult learners

The Routledge Handbook of Language Learning and Teaching Beyond the Classroom

Hayo Reinders, Chun Lai, Pia Sundqvist, 2022-05-30 Informal language learning beyond the classroom plays an important and growing role in language learning and teaching This Handbook brings together the existing body of research and unites the various disciplines that have explored this area in order to present the current state of knowledge in one accessible resource Much of adult learning takes place outside of formal education and for language learning it is likely that out of class experiences play an equally important role It is therefore surprising that the role of informal language learning has received little attention over the years with the vast majority of research instead focusing on the classroom Researchers from a range of backgrounds however have started to realise the important contribution of informal language learning both in its own right and in its relationship with classroom learning Studies in the areas of learner autonomy learning strategies study abroad language support learners voices computer mediated communication mobile assisted language learning digital gaming and many others all add to our understanding of the complex and intersecting ways in which learners construct their own language learning experiences drawing from a wide range of resources including materials teachers self study technology other learners and native speakers This Handbook provides a sound and comprehensive basis for researchers and graduate students to build upon in their own research of language learning and teaching beyond the classroom
