Modern China From Mandarin To Commissar:

Modern China Dun Jen Li, 1978 Chen Jiongming and the Federalist Movement Leslie Chen, 1999 The local self government movement in China began in the late Qing and by the Revolution of 1911 no less than five thousand self government councils had formed around the country While the idea of a federated state was cherished by early revolutionaries a growing conflict between federalist and centralist leaders culminated in the defeat of federalism in the mid 1920s The story of this movement has since remained hidden behind Nationalist and Communist accounts of the early revolutionary struggle This study of Chen Jiongming s political career reopens the record on federalist efforts focusing on Chen s policies and administrative achievements in Fujian and Guangdong It describes Chen s role in the tumultuous politics of southern China from 1909 until his death in 1933 including his relationship and notorious break with Sun Yat sen the leader of the centralist revolutionaries Leslie Chen argues that his father s attempts to create a democratic federalist system in Guangdong were aimed at providing a model for China as a whole His account is lively and readable it gives an intimate yet historically accurate account of Chen Jiongming s considerable role in early twentieth century Chinese history Leslie Chen was born in Guangdong China In 1988 he compiled A Collection of Historiographic Materials for a Biography of Chen Chiung ming Jiongming 1878 1933 He has published two Chinese language biographies of Chen Jiongming Explaining Chinese Democratization Shaohua Hu, 2000-01-30 Hu seeks to explain China s failure to establish a democratic system He demonstrates both continuity and change in China s democratization process Modern China regards power and wealth as primary goals and treats a strong state as a major means to these ends Such a preference puts democracy on a back burner Employing a theoretical framework which consists of five factors historical legacies local forces the world system socialist values and economic development Hu shows that while all of these factors were at work in all eras each assumes a special significance in a particular period Traditional China before the 1911 Revolution attempted to adjust itself to a new Western dominated world In the Republican era the control of local forces topped the political agenda Nationalist China sought to survive and develop in the world system while Maoist China set for itself the task of building a socialist state And of course economic development has been the priority of the Deng era As Hu shows these five factors have had determining impacts on the long struggle for democracy in China Modern China Dun Jen Li, 1978 Modern China Jonathan Fenby, 2008-06-24 Clear and engaging this is the definitive history of China one of the most important political economic and cultural players in the modern world 8 page color photo insert From War to Nationalism Arthur Waldron, 2003-10-16 This book investigates the warlord period in China focusing on the pivotal year 1924 Stalin and the Struggle for Supremacy in Eurasia Alfred J. W. Mabbett, 2024-11-01 Most writing on modern China dwells on those aspects which are new to China since the Communist takeover stressing above all politics Marxism economic and agricultural development First published in 1985 Modern China argues that all this writing creates a false impression of what present day China is really like This book contends that much of traditional China remains particularly at the grass roots level and that Buddhism and the Buddhist tradition continue to exert an influence Politics in communist China is best understood in the context of this tradition Throughout arguments are supported by revealing how tradition continues in the economy in society and the family by examining in detail the Buddhist tradition and by using the case study of education to show the interplay between modern and customary forces Books
