Chinese literature in English translation is taught as if it had been written in English. As a result, students submit what they read to their own cultural expectations; they do not read in translation and do not attend to the protocols of knowing engagements and contestations that bind literature and society to each other. The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation squarely addresses this pedagogical lack. Organised in a tripartite structure around considerations of textual, social and large scale spatial and historical circumstances, its thirty plus essays each deal with a theme of translation studies as emerged from the translation of one or more Chinese literary works. In doing so, it offers new tools for reading and appreciating modern and contemporary Chinese literature in the global context of its translation, offering in depth studies about eminent Chinese authors and their literary masterpieces in translation. The first of its kind, this book is essential reading for anyone studying or researching Chinese literature in translation. National Union Catalog, 1978

The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures Carlos Rojas, Andrea Bachner, 2016-07-28. With over forty original essays, The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures offers an in depth engagement with the current analytical methodologies and critical practices that are shaping the field in the twenty first century. Divided into three sections: Structure, Taxonomy and Methodology, the volume carefully moves across approaches, genres and forms to address a rich range of topics that include popular culture in Late Qing China, Zhang Guangyu's Journey to the West in cartoons, writings of Southeast Asian migrants in Taiwan, the Chinese Anglophone Novel and depictions of HIV/AIDS in Chu T'ien-wen's Notes of a Desolate Man. The National Union Catalogs, 1963-, 1964. Inner Worlds: Individuals and Interiority in Chinese Religious Life Benjamin Brose, James A. Benn, 2025-07-18. How do the inner convictions of individuals clash and sometimes cohere with the ideologies of their times? This volume investigates the interior lives of Chinese religious practitioners from the tenth century to the present to explore their dreams, visions and personal struggles. The reader will encounter an eminent Buddhist master's Confucian dreams, a Qing court lama's visions of China and a modern Chan master's memories of his own awakening. The contributors draw on a vast array of sources: poetry, dream records, confessions, instructional talks and previously unpublished archival documents to offer a new perspective on the interplay between personal belief and political ideology between the otherworldly and the mundane. Contributors are James A. Benn, Ester Bianchi, Raoul Birnbaum, Benjamin Brose, Daniela Campo, Wen-shing Chou, Vincent Goossaert, Ji Zhe, Paul R. Katz, Beverley McGuire, Gray Tuttle and Wang Jia.

Dreams in Chinese Fiction Johannes D. Kaminski, 2024-06-07. This book considers the contemporary political formula of the Chinese Dream in the light of the treatment of dreams in Chinese literary history since antiquity. Sinic literary and philosophical texts document an extensive spectrum of dream possibilities, starting with Zhuangzi's eminent butterfly dream, an early example of the inversion of the dreamer's reality through to confusing visions of the spiritual realm. In classical dramas, novels and ghost stories, dreams see the earthly realm enter into conflict with higher realms of existence. They indulge the dreamer's quest for sensual pleasures but then spiritual beings relentlessly harvest the dreamer's life energy.

Dreams promise spiritual enlightenment only to abandon the dreamer in a state of utter confusion In the early twentieth century traditional dream knowledge is abandoned in favour of Freudian episodes of sexual repression In this context the collective national dream emerges as an unexpected vehicle of the pained individual's hope for national rejuvenation

Utopian Ruins Jie Li, 2020-10-26 In Utopian Ruins Jie Li traces the creation, preservation and elision of memories about China's Mao era by envisioning a virtual museum that reckons with both its utopian yearnings and its cataclysmic reverberations Li proposes a critical framework for understanding the documentation and transmission of the socialist past that mediates between nostalgia and trauma, anticipation and retrospection, propaganda and testimony Assembling each chapter like a memorial exhibit Li explores how corporeal traces, archival documents, camera images and material relics serve as commemorative media Prison writings and police files reveal the infrastructure of state surveillance and testify to revolutionary ideals and violence, victimhood and complicity Photojournalism from the Great Leap Forward and documentaries from the Cultural Revolution promoted faith in communist miracles while excluding darker realities whereas Mao memorabilia, collections, factory ruins and memorials at trauma sites remind audiences of the Chinese Revolution's unrealized dreams and staggering losses

Identity, Home and Writing Elsewhere in Contemporary Chinese Diaspora Poetry Jennifer Wong, 2023-01-12 An exploration of the burgeoning field of Anglophone Asian diaspora poetry, this book draws on the thematic concerns of Hong Kong, Asian American and British Asian poets from the wider Chinese or East Asian diasporic culture to offer a transnational understanding of the complex notions of home, displacement and race in a globalised world Located within current discourse surrounding Asian poetry, postcolonial and migrant writing and bridging the fields of literary and cultural criticism with author interviews, this book provides close readings on established and emerging Chinese diasporic poets' work by incorporating the writers' own reflections on their craft through interviews with some of those featured In doing so Jennifer Wong explores the usefulness and limitations of existing labels and categories in reading the works of selected poets from specific racial, socio-cultural, linguistic environments and gender backgrounds including Bei Dao, Li Young Lee, Marilyn Chin, Hannah Lowe and Sarah Howe, Nina Mingya Powles and Mary Jean Chan Incorporating scholarship from both the East and the West, Wong demonstrates how these poets' experimentation with poetic language and forms serve to challenge the changing notions of homeland, family history and identity, offering new evaluations of contemporary diasporic voices

Contemporary Opera in Flux Yayoi U Everett, 2024-10-15 In twelve essays Contemporary Opera in Flux discusses a series of shifts that taken together have radically redefined the production and reception of opera Focusing on productions involving late twentieth and twenty-first century scores and libretti, the contributors draw on conversations with members of creative teams and studies of archival material, dipping into a historical record that remains in flux as composers, librettists, directors and designers revisit existing work and create anew The contributors to this volume push the boundaries of contemporary opera scholarship by examining works that disrupt operatic conventions tackle sociopolitical issues such as drug trafficking racial injustice and cultural trauma and advance underrepresented works by female African American Asian and avant garde composers around the globe Contemporary Opera in Flux bridges the gaps between expanding literature on opera theater new music postmodern dramaturgy and posthuman aesthetics while also confronting larger questions of identity representation and narrative agency that are at the forefront of contemporary music scholarship This collection of essays engages critically with the past out of a conviction that amid general public perceptions of opera as anachronistic or elitist contemporary opera has emerged as an artistic incubator for experimentation

Dreadful Desires Charlie Yi Zhang, 2022-02-07 In Dreadful Desires Charlie Yi Zhang examines how the Chinese state deploys affective notions of love to regulate the population and secure China's place in the global economy Zhang shows how the state frames love as a set of desires that encompass heteronormative intimacy familial and communal attachment upward mobility and private property ownership These desires as circulated in performance in the nationalistic ceremony same sex romantic fan fiction the wildly popular reality television dating show If You Are the One and the cult of patriarchal personality around Xi Jinping are explicitly based in oppressive systems of gender class and sexuality Zhang contends that such desires connect love to economic survival and gender normativity in ways that underwrite Chinese neoliberalism at the expense of individual flourishing By outlining how state framed forms of love create desires that cannot be fulfilled Zhang places China at the forefront of using affective attachments to nation leader and family in the global shifts toward
