Operation Crusader and the Desert War in British History and Memory Alexander Joffe, 2020-09-03 Shortlisted for the 2021 Society for Army Historical Research s Templer Medal Operation Crusader launched in November 1941 was the third and final British attempt to relieve the siege of Tobruk and break the German and Italian forces in North Africa After tough initial fighting the British made important gains only to be countered by a stunning breakthrough overseen personally by Lt General Erwin Rommel As the British situation teetered the commander of the 8th Army Lt General Alan Cunningham was relieved of duty by his superior General Claude Auchinleck This decision changed the direction of the battle and perhaps the war itself Why and how Cunningham was relieved has been the subject of commentary and speculation since it occurred Using newly discovered evidence Alexander Joffe rethinks the events that brought about the sudden relief of the operation s commanding officer including insubordination The book then discusses how narratives regarding the operation were created were incorporated into British and Commonwealth official and unofficial historical writing about the war and contributed to British historical memory Based on a decade of archival work the book presents a new and detailed analysis of a consequential battle and importantly of how its history was written and received in the context of post war Britain

Writing a Small Nation's Past Neil

Evans,2016-02-17 This is the first volume to examine how the history of Wales was written in a period that saw the emergence of professional historiography largely focused on the nation across Europe and in the United States It thus sets Wales in the context of recent work on national history writing in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and more particularly offers a Welsh perspective on the ways in which history was written in small mainly stateless nations The comparative dimension is fundamental to the volume s aim highlighting what was distinctive about Welsh historical writing and showing how the Welsh experience mirrors and illuminates broader historiographical developments The book begins with an introduction that uses the concept of historical culture as a way of exploring the different strands of historiography covered in the collection providing orientation to the chapters that follow These are divided into four sections Contexts and Backgrounds Amateurs and Popularizers Creating Academic Disciplines and Comparative Perspectives All these themes are then drawn together in the conclusion to examine how far Welsh historians exemplify widespread trends in the writing of national history and thereby point up common themes that emerge from the volume and clarify its broader significance for students of historiography

2010 Massimo Mastrogregori,2014-12-12 Every year the Bibliography catalogues the most important new publications historiographical monographs and journal articles throughout the world extending from prehistory and ancient history to the most recent contemporary historical studies Within the systematic classification according to epoch region and historical discipline works are also listed according to author s name and characteristic keywords in their title

New Directions in European Historiography Georg G. Iggers,1984-07 Impressive analytical essays on the transformation of historical studies in Europe In four impressively researched essays Georg Iggers recounts the transformation of historical studies in Europe during the twentieth century with particular emphasis on the historiography of the past fifteen years Although the book does survey a broad area of contemporary historical thought it is primarily a careful analytical examination of the methodological and theoretical reorientation of certain influential European historians The first essay discusses the emergence at German Universities during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries of the concept of history as a scientific discipline distinct from the classical tradition of literary history and the later broad acceptance of this mode of Enquiry in the Western world Against this background Mr Iggers then considers the challenge to this mode of the political social and intellectual upheavals of the twentieth century especially after World War II The three essays following examine important attempts to develop alternate paradigms for historical study the French historians of the Annales tradition the German political historians of the 1960s the various Marxist historians of France Poland East Germany and Great Britain In despite of the frequent insistence by philosophers and theorists of history that history is not a science in contemporary terms historians themselves have striven in recent years to strengthen the quantitative aspects of historical study moving away from traditional patterns of writing and adopting methods and concepts from the systematic social sciences Mr Iggers book is an excellent introduction to these contemporary changes in historiography and in its comparative analyses itself makes a contribution to historical studies
